Social Work and Migration Kathleen Valtonen, 2016-04-01 Social work increasingly finds itself at the frontline of issues pertaining to immigrant and refugee settlement and integration In this timely book Kathleen Valtonen provides the first book length study on the challenges these issues create for the profession Drawing on a wide range of research in migration which is not widely available to social workers or included in social work literature she offers readers an opportunity to explore the capacity of the profession to take a primary role in the course and outcome of settlement The book fills a gap in the social work literature by providing scholars practitioners and students with a critical knowledge base that will strengthen their ability to engage with issues of immigration and integration and to open up options for effective practice with growing numbers of immigrant and refugee clients

Qualitative Methods for Practice Research Jeffrey Longhofer, Jerry Floersch, Janet Hoy, 2013 Qualitative methods have become increasingly popular among researchers and while many comprehensive textbooks describe the standard techniques and philosophical assumptions it is often assumed that practitioners are consumers of research and not producers This innovative book describes how qualitative methods can be used to investigate the in vivo use of theory in social work practice It offers not just a comprehensive overview of methods but a concise accessible guide focused on how to study and explicate application of theory and the creative tension that inevitably exists between theory and practice Theory to practice gaps are indispensable conditions for conducting engaged scholarship which in turn promotes collaboration between researchers and practitioners in addressing practice related problems in real world settings Engaged scholarship and critical realist assumptions are applied to three case studies that combine research questions with data collection techniques and analytic strategies Thematic grounded theory and narrative research techniques are all illustrated including original quick start instructions for using ATLAS ti software Institutional ethnography is also presented as a method that is particularly useful for social work practice settings By generating knowledge of practice in open and natural systems qualitative methods can be used to examine how practice is experienced and how interventions may be understood and transformed This cutting edge pocket guide will equip practitioner scholars with the foundation for conducting research that makes a difference

Extended Education - Leadership in Practice Jennifer Cartmel, Patricia Schuler, Helene Elvstrand, 2025-11-03 In many parts of the world various forms of extended education are emerging to respond to parents care needs before and after the school day as well as to enhance learning and provide children with meaningful leisure time Despite this growing field research is still limited In this Research Topic we want to bring together researchers from different parts of the world to contribute to research based knowledge about these educational offers and settings The extended education sector is expanding and is under increasing pressure to deliver quality services for children youth and families it is essential to ensure that the leadership is in place to ensure effectiveness of services working in tune with all stakeholders in a synergistic way The previous discourse on Extended Education discusses the diversity within these educational offers and activities while highlighting the existence of shared values and structural similarities that help establish a common understanding of what Extended Education entails This implies that while these programs may vary significantly across different contexts and countries there are fundamental principles or characteristics that are widely recognized and agreed upon Moving forward the Research Topic suggests the importance of focusing on specific topics within Extended Education One such topic highlighted is leadership which plays a crucial role in shaping the nature and relevance of extended educational activities Leadership in Extended Education is depicted as operating at the nexus of various stakeholders including families schools and the broader community It emphasizes that effective leadership in this context involves understanding and responding to the diverse needs of children parents and other members of the community Essentially leaders in Extended Education must navigate the complexities of multiple stakeholders and their varying needs to ensure that educational activities are well designed and successfully implemented We aspire to publish 10 12 articles focusing on leadership in extended education encompassing various facets of leading within this domain Firstly our attention will be directed towards the formulation of policies surrounding leadership providing a foundational framework for leaders Secondly we will explore different styles of leadership with a particular emphasis on collaborative approaches deemed pertinent in this context Confidence and trust in leadership emerge as especially crucial within extended education given the intricate interplay between families and schools Moreover we aim to delve into the theme of children and parents as leaders within extended education amplifying their voices and acknowledging their role in shaping extended educational activities Their input and influence are instrumental in defining the landscape of extended education initiatives

Enhancing the Well-being of Children and Families through Effective Interventions Wendy Rose, Professor Colette McAuley, Peter Pecora, 2006-01-30 Services for families and children are rightfully the focus of intense scrutiny and debate and there is a clear need to establish a knowledge of which services work well This volume provides a comprehensive overview of research evidence from the UK and USA on the effectiveness of selected child welfare interventions
