The Immigrant Labor Press in North America, 1840s-1970s: An Annotated Bibliography Christiane Harzig, 1987-12-02 Continuing the work of the first two volumes the third and final volume of Dirk Hoerder's landmark bibliography covers labor migrants from Southern and Western Europe As with each of the previous volumes the aim has been to provide a comprehensive record of the non English language periodical literature produced by European ethnic groups in North America The focus throughout is on the labor and radical press to enable the researcher to compare and contrast the experiences of various ethnic groups as part of the North American working class Literary / Liberal

Entanglements Corrinne Harol, Mark Simpson, 2017-09-18 In Literary Liberal Entanglements Corrinne Harol and Mark Simpson bring together ten essays by scholars from a wide range of fields in English studies in order to interrogate the complex entangled relationship between the history of literature and the history of liberalism. The volume has three goals: to investigate important episodes in the entanglement of literary history and liberalism; to analyze the impact of this entanglement on the secular and democratic projects of modernity; and thereby to reassess the dynamics of our neoliberal present. The volume is organized into a series of paired essays, with each pair investigating a concept central to both literature and liberalism: acting, socializing, discriminating, recounting, and culturing. Collectively, the essays demonstrate the vivid capacity of literary study writ large to reckon with, imagine, and materialize durative accounts of history and politics. Literary Liberal Entanglements models a method of literary history for the twenty-first century.

Nonviolent Action Ronald M. McCarthy, Gene Sharp, Brad Bennett, 2013-07-04 This comprehensive guide to research sources and theories about nonviolent action as a technique of struggle in social and political conflicts discusses the methods and techniques used by groups in various encounters. Although violence and its causes have received a great deal of attention, nonviolent action has not received its due as an international phenomenon with a long history. An introduction that explains the theories and research used in the study provides a practical guide to this essential bibliography of English language sources. The first part of the book covers case study materials divided by region and subdivided by country. Within each country, materials are arranged chronologically and topically. The second major part examines the methods and theory of nonviolent action, principled nonviolence, and several closely related areas in social science such as conflict analysis and social movements. The book is indexed by author and subject.

Making Canada New Dean Irvine, Vanessa Lent, Bart A. Vautour, 2017-03-17 An examination of the connections between modernist writers and editorial activities, Making Canada New draws links among new and old media, collaborative labour, emergent scholars and scholarships, and digital modernisms. In doing so, the collection reveals that renovating modernisms does not need to depend on the fabrication of completely new modes of scholarship. Rather, it is the repurposing of already existing practices and combining them with others, whether old or new, print or digital, that instigates a process of continuous renewal. Critical to this process of renewal is the intermingling of print and digital research methods and the coordination of more popular modes of literary scholarship with less frequented ones such as bibliography, textual studies, and editing. Making Canada New tracks the editorial renovation of modernism as a digital phenomenon while speaking to the continued production of print editions.

The Feminist Challenge to the Canadian Left, 1900-1918 Janice Newton, 1995 The resurgence of feminism in the early 1970s created shock waves across Canadian society that can be felt to this day. One of its results was a growing interest in women's history.
