Books in Print Supplement ,1984 Paperbound Books in Print ,1991 Yearbook of International Organizations ,1984-12 Social Science Research and Women in the Arab World Unesco,1984 Contains eight studies by women specialists from Algeria Egypt Iraq Libyan Arab Jamahiriya Morocco Saudi Arabia Tunisia and Sudan

Social Science Research and Women in the Arab World ,1984 Meeting of Arab Women Researchers on the Development of Research in the Social Sciences on Women in the Arab World ,1988 The Politics of Engaged Gender Research in the Arab Region Suad Joseph,Lena Meari,Zeina Zaatari,2022-07-28 Critical analysis of what we know and do not know about women in the Arab region is needed to support social change But how is knowledge on women and gender produced in the region How does this change when it is undertaken by Arab women researchers Through a critical examination of local fieldwork experiences the contributors of the volume who are Arab women researchers themselves answer these questions The book examines the specific structural conditions that shape people s lives in the Arab region from the effects of imperialism settler colonialism and the neo liberalization of economies to racial capitalism securitization and embedded patriarchal ideologies and structures The authors assess the implications of these different dynamics on undertaking research and also examine their own daily lives the lives of their interlocutors and the practices of their field In doing so they are able to escape hegemonic approaches and frameworks to the study of gender and to instead theorize from the local context to produce knowledge as they see it This engaged gender research challenges dominant discourses in academia rejects the presumptions of Arab exceptionalism and challenges liberal feminisms It devises a new way of undertaking research on gender in the region to lay the foundation for a more just tomorrow Covering Morocco Tunisia Palestine Jordan Syria Iraq and the Arab Gulf the book argues that an engaged gender research which is feminist and critically analyses the historical political economic and social contexts of the research topic first will transform how we understand women and gender and the Arab World Women, Education, and Science within the Arab-Islamic Socio-Cultural History Zakia Belhachmi,2008-01-01 From a rationale of multiculturalism and a based on systemic approach grounded in the Arab Islamic tradition this book integrates history education science and feminism to understand the implications of culture in social change cultural identity and cultural exchange Dr Belhachmi s praxis maintains the relationship between socio political movements and their corollary scientific movements to explain women s role in social change of the Arab Islamic world thus linking the region s past and the present in a historical continuum In one masterful move she immediately engages into a discovery journey of the 13 century old Arab Islamic socio cultural and intellectual history thus exploring the independent Arab Islamic Worldview of development modernism science education and discusses the corollary socio political and reform movements that integrated women in the region s governance over time Thus she not only highlights women s involvement in social change as a recurrent cyclical phenomenon in the region but also chronicles

the women led independent 120 years of Arab Islamic feminist science Above all Dr Belhachmi offers an innovative operational three levelled model of analysis of education and feminist practice that reconciles particularism and universalism and yields to systemic analyses of women in education cross culturally In doing so the book shifts focus from the woman s question into the more radical issues of women s science in the Arab Islamic culture illustrating with the work of al Sa dawī Egypt and Mernissi Morocco As such this study is both a groundbreaking epistemological study on the role Arab Muslim women and social change over time and an essential textbook on women in contemporary Arab Islamic education and social sciences In a tour de force Dr Belhachmi reclaims Arab Islamic feminist scientific legacy as organic to the region s institutional memory and its collective cultural reference while restoring to Arab Muslim women feminists including herself their epistemic space within the contemporary multi discursive practice space of international feminism thus offering us a timely pioneering book on Arab Islamic feminist epistemology Equally she provides us with a new scientific framework for self representation and cultural exchange much needed both in international education and a new feminist international order In brief this is an original scholarly work that provides us with creative empowerment methods qualitative methodologies and holistic conceptual tools thus enabling us to re think our rapport to knowledge and the place of knowledge itself and how its related research strategies can move us beyond the pitfalls of cultural relativism and scientism As such this is an invaluable addition to the literature on the Middle East and North Africa region MENA that will benefit the layman tremendously and a must reference for specialists and students alike

Empowering Women after the Arab Spring Marwa Shalaby,Valentine M. Moghadam,2016-11-09 This book sheds light on some of the most critical issues impeding the advancement of women s rights post Arab Spring such as patriarchy barriers to women s agency in the legal and socioeconomic realms women s access to the decision making process citizenship rights and the impact of conflict on women s status It offers a distinct perspective that takes into account the diversity of the Arab world and presents a theoretical framework on the study of women s empowerment amid the transformations that have shaped the social and political fabrics of Arab societies Empowering Women after the Arab Spring represents cutting edge research from a variety of academic disciplines anthropology political science and sociology and presents comparative analyses from places including the United Arab Emirates Syria Egypt and Tunisia This volume offers one of the first systematic efforts to combine qualitative and quantitative research to draw a more accurate picture of the realities of Middle Eastern women Arab Women in Arab News Amal Al-Malki, David Kaufer, Suguru Ishizaki, Kira Dreher, 2012-03-15 This book addresses east west understandings of Arab women as portrayed through translated media The vast majority of media studies on Arab women are western based They study the effect of western stereotypes in western media depictions of Arab women There is a vast scholarly literature tracing western stereotypes of Arab women from medieval times to the present From 1800 the dominant western stereotype of Arab women depicts them as passive and oppressed Thirty years of social science media research in the west has shown that media images of Arab women reinforce this two hundred year old stereotype Much of this research has studied silent image bites of Arab women where women are pictured in veils and their own voices are replaced by western captions or voice overs This book sets out to answer this question To answer it we contracted with a global news translation service from the Middle East to collect and translate a sample of 22 months of new summaries from 103 Arab media sources belonging to 22 Arab countries Filtering the summaries that contained one or more female keywords e g woman mother aunt sister she yielded 2 061 summaries between September 2005 and June of 2007 Using the 2 061 summaries as input data a coding scheme was developed for active and passive female behaviors based on verb phrase analysis and conventions of English language news reporting Arab Feminisms: Gender and Equality in the Middle East Jean Makdisi, Noha Bayoumi, Rafif Rida Sidawi, 2014-01-29 Is there a truly Arab feminist movement Is there such a thing as Islamic feminism What does it mean to be a feminist in the Arab World today Does it mean grappling with the main theoretical elements of the movement Or does it mean involvement at the grassroots level with everyday activism This book examines the issues and controversies that are hotly debated and contested when it comes to the concept of feminism and gender in Arab society today It offers explorations of the theoretical issues at play the latest developments of feminist discourse literary studies and sociology as well as empirical data concerning the situation of women in Arab countries such as Iraq and Palestine It is certainly not surprising that when looking at the situation on the ground in many countries of the Arab World particularly Palestine Iraq and Lebanon as well as Sudan issues of war civil conflict military occupation and imperialism often override those of gender The place of feminism in this context is extremely problematic as nationalist sectarian religious and class interests not to mention the interests of occupation authorities and the resistance movements that oppose them supersede feminism as a public concern even among many women Arab feminists are thus either co opted by these interests or find themselves in the frustrating position of negotiating their way through a minefield of contradictory imperatives and loyalties Arab Feminisms examines these contexts and sheds light upon the difficult position in which feminists often find themselves It looks at different social and political situations such as the development of Palestinian feminist discourse in a post Oslo world the impact of the civil war in Lebanon on women and Kuwaiti women s struggles for equality This book therefore offers valuable theoretical analysis as well as indispensable first hand accounts of feminism in the Arab World for those researching gender relations in the Middle East and beyond The Hidden Face of Eve Nawal El Saadawi, 2007-06-01 This powerful account of the oppression of women in the Muslim world remains as shocking today as when it was first published more than a quarter of a century ago Nawal El Saadawi writes out of a powerful sense of the violence and injustice which permeated her society Her experiences working as a doctor in villages around Egypt witnessing prostitution honour killings and sexual abuse including female circumcision drove her to give voice to this suffering She goes on to explore the causes of the situation through a discussion of the historical role of Arab women in religion and literature Saadawi argues that the veil polygamy and legal inequality are incompatible with the essence of Islam or any human faith This edition complete with a new foreword lays claim to The Hidden Face of Eve's status as a classic of modern Arab writing

Rethinking Gender in Revolutions and Resistance Professor Maha El Said, Lena Meari, Doctor Nicola Pratt, 2015-05-14 Ever since the uprisings that swept the Arab world the role of Arab women in political transformations received unprecedented media attention The copious commentary however has yet to result in any serious study of the gender dynamics of political upheaval Rethinking Gender in Revolutions and Resistance is the first book to analyse the interplay between moments of sociopolitical transformation emerging subjectivities and the different modes of women's agency in forging new gender norms in the Arab world Written by scholars and activists from the countries affected including Palestine Egypt Tunisia and Libya this is an important addition to Middle Eastern gender studies Women, Civil Society and Policy Change in the Arab World Nasser Yassin, Robert Hoppe, 2019-03-19 This book examines the ways in which Arab civil society actors have attempted to influence public policies In particular the book studies the drive towards a change of policies that affect women and their well being It does so through the lens of women civil society activism and through analysis of cases of policy reform in three Arab countries namely Lebanon Morocco and Yemen The book addresses the tension between policy change and state repression between Islamic traditional religious values and civil secular ones between the formal and the informal channels for policy making One of the first books to reflect on the capability of Arab civil society actors to influence change it traces recent policy evolution from before the Arab Uprisings in 2011 until the present day and describes the limited ability of civil society actors to induce change and substantiate it over recent decades The book explores the use of policy theories in the analysis of cases and reflects on the possibility of applying and adapting those concepts largely applied in the Western world to encompass policymaking in the Arab world without conceptual overstretch Inclusion of Women and Girls and Ensuring Their Rights Barakat, Marwa, European Training and Research Centre for Human Rights and Democracy (Austria), UNESCO Office Cairo and Regional Bureau for Science in the Arab States, 2023-10-17 Gender and Violence in the Middle East Moha Ennaji, Fatima Sadiqi, 2011-04-22 This book explores the relationship between Islamism secularism and violence against women in the Middle East and North Africa Drawing on case studies from across the region the authors examine the historical cultural religious social legal and political factors affecting this key issue Chapters by established scholars from within and outside the region highlight the interconnections of violence and various sources of power in the Middle East the state society and the family conceptions of violence as family and social practice and dominant discourse the role of violence as pattern for social structuring in the nation state By centring the chapters around these key areas the volume provides an innovative theoretical and systematic research model for gender and violence in the Middle East and North Africa Dealing with issues that are not easily accessible in the West this book underlines the importance of understanding realities and problems relevant to Muslim and Arab societies and discusses possible ways of promoting reforms in the MENA region As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars of gender studies sociology political science and criminal justice

A Social History Of Women And Gender In The Modern Middle East Margaret Lee Meriwether, 1999-07-16 In this important new work Margaret Meriwether and Judith Tucker synthesize and make accessible the results of the extensive research on women and gender done over the last twenty years Using new theoretical approaches and methodologies as well as nontraditional sources scholars studying women and gender issues in Middle Eastern societies have made great progress in shedding light on these complex subjects A Social History of Women and Gender in the Modern Middle East provides an overview of this scholarship on women and gender in the nineteenth and twentieth century Middle East The book is organized along thematic lines that reflect major focuses of research in this area gender and work gender and the state gender and law gender and religion and feminist movements and each chapter is written by a scholar who has done original research on the topic Although structured around the individual author's own work the chapters also include overviews and assessments of other research highlights of ongoing debates and key issues and comparisons across regions of the Middle East An insightful introduction centers the various chapters around key theoretical methodological and historical issues and makes connections with other areas of social historical research on the Middle East and with research on gender and women's history in other parts of the world Although there are many studies available on women and gender A Social History of Women and Gender in the Modern Middle East provides a breadth of coverage and assessment of the field that is not found elsewhere

Arab Women's Activism and Socio-Political Transformation Sahar Khamis, Amel Mili, 2017-11-17 This book illustrates how Arab women have been engaging in three ongoing parallel struggles before during and after the Arab Spring on three levels namely the political struggle to pave the road for democracy freedom and reform the social struggle to achieve gender equality and fight all forms of injustice and discrimination against women and the legal struggle to chart new laws which can safeguard both the political and the social gains The contributors argue that while the political upheavals were oftentimes more prevalent and visible they should not overshadow the parallel social and legal revolutions which are equally important due to their long term impacts on the region The chapters shed light on the intersections overlaps and divergences between these simultaneous continuous gendered struggles and unpacks their complexities and multiple implications locally regionally and internationally across different countries and through different phases
