Social Work And Housing:

Social Work, Housing, and Homelessness Robert Hagan, Anya Ahmed, 2025-03-19 Shelter is a basic human requirement yet housing in the UK has increasingly been perceived as an asset rather than the secure base everyone requires for their basic physical and mental health needs and well being This book examines how all types of housing have become precarious for many service users with whom social workers will engage and makes some suggestions regarding action and best practice Showing how people become homeless and the difficulties finding a way out of this the housing options for specific populations including care leavers those with disabilities families and older people will be examined All this will be framed in the context of social work practice building practitioner knowledge and confidence around an area that affects everyone but the significance of which is sometimes underexamined in holistic assessments Packed with reflective examples and case studies each chapter also includes a tuning in exercise to help prepare the reader for what the chapter will tackle with concluding thoughts on these exercises at the chapter end This book is suitable for both undergraduate and postgraduate social work students as they begin to think of more specialised areas of work in their second or subsequent years as well as social work practitioners who will be increasingly aware of the pressures of housing costs on those with whom they work

Social Care and Housing Ian Shaw, David Clapham, 1998 Drawing out the implications for policy and practice from the latest research in housing and social work this volume illustrates the lack of communication between practitioners that is hindering service provision and provides suggestions for improving current practice The contributors examine the relationship of such factors as youth gender race education poverty health social exclusion and housing developments to the provision of housing for those in need Social workers have many clients including young people leaving care offenders people with disabilities or mental health problems and those at risk of domestic violence for example who require intervention on their behalf to meet their housing needs Social Care and Housing argues that professionals need to be aware of the role of wider social problems in particular poor housing in reinforcing the deprivation of the lowest income groups that form the bulk of service users The contributors suggest that raising the profile of housing and welfare research within the social services and encouraging practitioners and educators to introduce a broader social context into practice would improve understanding of the relationship between housing and social care They also examine strategies for formulating coherent responses to client problems and explore the development of practice at the boundaries of social care and housing
