Social Dimension Of Family Treatment

Louis A. Pagliaro, Anne Marie Pagliaro

Social Dimension Of Family Treatment:

Social Dimension of Family Treatment Danuta Mostwin, 1980 The Social Dimension of Family Treatment National Catholic School of Social Service (U.S.), 1976 Social Aspects of the Treatment of the Insane Jacob Alter Goldberg, 1921 Journal of Human Services Abstracts, 1983 Handbook of Behavioural Family Therapy Ian Falloon, 2015-07-30

First published in 1988 behavioural family therapists worked in an area that had greatly changed since its inception over 20 years before Growing out of the pioneering work of Gerald Patterson Robert Paul Liberman and Richard Stuart whose backgrounds vary from psychology to psychiatry to social work behavioural family therapy BFT had evolved to encompass systems theory considerations of the therapeutic alliance as well as approaches to accounting for and restructuring family members subjective experiences through cognitive strategies As BFT had not been the brain child of any one charismatic innovator but rather of a wide array of clinicians and researchers developing and rigorously testing hypotheses it is fitting that this much needed summation of the field was a collaborative product of an array of well established practitioners of the time They discuss in Part 1 of the book the theoretical parameters of BFT focusing on modular behavioural strategies the indications for therapy assessment of family problems pertinent issues arising in clinical practice and approaches to the problem of resistance to change Contributors to Part 2 then apply theory to such clinical situations as parent training and helping families cope with patients suffering from developmental disabilities alcoholism schizophrenia senile dementia as well as anxiety obsessive compulsive and depressive disorders Specific attention is also given to acute inpatient and primary health care settings While BFT had already proved quite effective in treating a great number of family problems it was only in its infancy at the time of writing As Falloon says in his overview all exponents of the method are constantly involved with the process of refinement each clinician is a researcher each family member is a research subject and each researcher is contributing to clinical advancement This openness in combination with a willingness to modify sacred tenets of behaviourism while adapting proven techniques from other family therapies made this title a landmark in its field As such it was not only of interest to all clinicians and researchers with a behavioural slant but also to all family therapists who wished to challenge themselves to develop an integrative approach Circumplex Model David Olson, Candyce Smith Russell, Douglas H Sprenkle, 2014-04-23 This functional new volume introduces professionals to the Circumplex Model of Family Systems one of the most respected and widely used approaches of its kind in family studies Internationally known scholar practitioners in the marriage and family therapy field demonstrate how the model can be used to assess couple and family dynamics and plan treatment interventions They extend the use of the Circumplex Model for treating problem families using a range of clinical interventions at both the family level and broader social system level including specific treatment populations sex offenders juvenile delinquents truants and multi problem families Designed as a multidisciplinary resource this authoritative and accurate volume will assist social workers psychologists pastoral counselors family therapists and other mental health professionals who work with individuals in a family treatment context

Ethnocultural Factors in Substance Abuse Treatment Shulamith Lala Ashenberg Straussner, 2012-04-23 This book presents a culturally informed framework for understanding and treating substance abuse problems From expert contributors chapters cover specific ethnocultural groups in the United States including Americans of African Native American Latino European Middle Eastern and Asian descent Authors examine how ethnocultural factors may affect a person's attitudes toward alcohol and other drugs patterns of substance use reasons for seeking treatment and responsiveness to various interventions Themes addressed include the impact of migration and acculturation issues spiritual values and traditions family structures gender roles and experiences of prejudice and discrimination Featuring a wealth of illustrative clinical material the book makes concrete recommendations for more competent effective assessment and intervention It also guides clinicians toward greater awareness of the ways their own ethnocultural backgrounds may affect their interactions with clients

Assessing Family Relationships Theresa Beeton, Ronald Clark, 2019-05-28 Assessing Family Relationships shows mental health professionals how to utilize the Family Life Space Drawing the FLSD a family assessment tool that incorporates information from multiple family members while building connections between the clinician and the client In this manual Theresa A Beeton and Ronald A Clark demonstrate the usefulness of the FLSD in both family and couple counseling As a task centered assessment tool the FLSD enables an interactive and personalized process of counseling which helps individuals to express concerns and information about themselves in an indirect and nonthreatening manner Chapters are illustrated throughout with case studies and drawings adapted from the authors own clinical experience and the manual offers an overview of the history of the FLSD as well as where future research is headed Providing a practical explanation of how to complete the FLSD process Assessing Family Relationships will be highly relevant to couple and family therapists as well as clinical social workers who are interested in updating their practice with innovative family assessment research and techniques

Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1980 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports Group Work with Suburbia's Children Andrew Malekoff, 2017-10-12 This collection of articles first published in 1991 attempts to describe life in the suburbs from diverse vantage points to evoke a feeling of what life is like for some of the children and their families living in these communities and to demonstrate the practice and value of group work within this context This title will be of interest to students of social work sociology and urban studies

A Public Health Perspective on End of Life Care Joachim Cohen, Luc Deliens, 2012-01-19 Worldwide more than 50 million people die each year and it is estimated on the basis of the conditions leading to death that up to 60% of them could benefit from some form of palliative care It is a public health challenge to ensure that these people can access good palliative or end of life care Pursuing good population health essentially also implies striving for a good enough death and a good quality of care at the end of life Safeguarding a good quality of the end of life for patient populations for whom it is appropriate requires a public health approach In most developed countries ageing populations that increasingly die from chronic diseases after a prolonged often degenerative dying trajectory make up the public health challenges for palliative care The very large baby boom generation will soon reach old age and can be expected to pose strong demands regarding the circumstances and care at their end of life Only by applying a public health approach to palliative care instead of individual patient perspectives can societies successfully help to organize and plan end of life care in accordance with these aspirations A Public Health Perspective on End of Life Care presents a synthesis and overview of relevant research and empirical data on the end of life that can bear a basis for a more systematic public health of the end of life The book focuses on population health rather than clinical interventions or other aspects of individual health and discusses studies using different methodologies not only epidemiological research The focus is on the quality of the end of life of populations in particular from social sciences environmental sciences and humanities perspectives

Behavioural Addiction in Women Fulvia Prever, Gretchen Blycker, Laura Brandt, 2023-06-28 Behavioural Addiction in Women gives insight into ongoing research efforts and clinical developments across the globe focusing specifically on women with behavioural addictions The book brings together an international network of clinicians and researchers to offer a unique transcultural female perspective on female specific aspects of addiction which is underrepresented in the available literature By compiling both research and clinical spotlights focusing on women with behavioural addictions across the six continents the book is an important first step towards building a shared knowledge base on the subject starting from the importance of female specific diagnostic criteria to new therapeutic strategies prevention programs and harm reduction approaches This book will help us gain a better understanding of ongoing work and where to allocate our attention and efforts for helping a vulnerable and in many areas of the world still underserved and economically disadvantaged population The book will be of great interest to researchers and clinicians in the field of addiction
