GREGORY, 1985 Postmodern Geographies Edward W. Soja, 1989 Written by one of America's foremost geographers Postmodern Geographies contests the tendency still dominant in most social science to reduce human geography to a reflective mirror or as Marx called it an unnecessary complication Beginning with a powerful critique of historicism and its constraining effects on the geographical imagination Edward Soja builds on the work of Foucault Berger Giddens Berman Jameson and above all Henri Lefebvre to argue for a historical and geographical materialism a radical rethinking of the dialectics of space time and social being Soja charts the respatialization of social theory from the still unfolding encounter between Western Marxism and modern geography through the current debates on the emergence of a postfordist regime of flexible accumulation The postmodern geography of Los Angeles exposed in a provocative pair of essays serves as a model in his account of the contemporary struggle for control over the social production of space Giddens' Theory of Structuration Christopher Bryant, David Jary, 2014-06-03 Anthony Giddens is one of the most respected and influential social theorists at work today This wide ranging and stimulating volume first published in 1991 provides an authoritative and penetrating critical assessment of social theory It will be of use to all students of sociology and social theory Geographies of Globalization Andrew Herod, 2009-02-02 Exploring a wide range of issues from the integration of the world economy to how contemporary processes are shaping and shaped by nation states and how workers are organizing transnationally in response to transformations in the planet's economic geography Geographies of Globalization is a critical examination of what has become the leitmotif of our contemporary world Challenges neoliberal assumptions on the nature of globalization Provides a conceptual overview of how globalization is a spatial process and of its relation to capitalism Explores whether we are in fact living in a more globalized world or only in a more internationalized one Considers arguments concerning whether globalization is a new phenomenon or simply the latest manifestation of processes many hundreds of years in the making Focuses on how nation states have shaped and been shaped by contemporary processes of globalization how globalization has been imagined discursively and how workers are responding to such processes Explores how workers are creating new organizing strategies in response to globalization The Intelligible Metropolis Nora Pleßke, 2014-08-15 Writings on the metropolis generally foreground illimitability stressing thereby that the urban ultimately remains both illegible and unintelligible Instead the purpose of this interdisciplinary study is to demonstrate that mentality as a tool offers orientation in the urban realm Nora Pleßke develops a model of urban mentality to be employed for cities worldwide Against the background of the Spatial Turn she identifies dominant urban specific structures of London mentality in contemporary London novels such as Monica Ali's Brick Lane J G Ballard's Millennium People Nick Hornby's A Unique in its concept, the book is a comprehensive guide to the life and work of some of the key thinkers particularly influential in the current spatial turn in the social sciences. Providing a synoptic overview of different ideas about the role of space and place in contemporary social, cultural, political, and economic life, each portrait comprises biographical information and theoretical context. An explication of their contribution to spatial thinking. An overview of key advances and controversies. Guidance on further reading. With 14 additional chapters including entries on Saskia Sassen, Tim Ingold, Cindi Katz, and John Urry, the book covers ideas ranging from humanism, Marxism, feminism, and post-structuralism to queer theory, post-colonialism, globalization, and deconstruction, presenting a thorough look at diverse ways in which space and place has been theorized. Economies of Signs and Space Professor Scott M. Lash, Scott Lash, John Urry, Professor John Urry, 1993-12-09. This is a novel account of social change that supplants conventional understandings of society and presents a sociology that takes as its main unit of analysis flows through time and across space. Developing a comparative analysis of the UK and US, the new Germany, and Japan, Lash and Urry show how restructuration after organized capitalism has its basis in increasingly reflexive social actors and organizations. The consequence is not only the much vaunted postmodern condition but also a growth in reflexivity. In exploring this new reflexive world, the authors argue that today's economies are increasingly ones of signs, information, symbols, images, desire, and of space, where both signs and social subjects (refugees, financiers, tourists, and flâneurs) are mobile over ever greater distances at ever greater speeds.

Leisure, Lifestyle and the New Middle Class Derek Wynne, 2002-01-22. In this valuable study conducted within the theoretical context associated with the work of Pierre Bourdieu, Derek Wynne looks at how the new middle class of the late twentieth century goes about constructing and defending its social identity.

Mobilities and Complexities Ole B. Jensen, Sven Kesselring, Mimi Sheller, 2018-10-25. The new mobilities turn has become a powerful perspective in social theory. John Urry's oeuvre has been very influential in the emergence of this new field and has had lasting impacts on many scholars. This collection presents originally commissioned essays from leading scholars in the field who reflect on how Urry's writing influenced the course of their research and theorizing. This volume gathers contributions in relation to John Urry's path-breaking work. The new mobilities turn made a strong imprint in European social theory and is beginning to make an impact in the Americas and Asia as well. It challenges mainstream theoretical and empirical approaches that were grounded in a sedentary and bounded view of states. It propels innovative thinking about social and media ecologies, complex systems, and social change. It bridges many disciplines and methodologies, leading to new approaches to existing problems while also resonating with questions about both history and the future Mobilities research marks the rise of academic and intellectual cooperation and collaboration beyond societies as nations around the world face the ecological limits of contemporary mobility and energy systems The contributors represent several national contexts including England Germany Denmark Finland Taiwan Brazil Canada Australia and the USA This book collects personal essays and gives insight into a vivid network of scientists who have connections of various degrees to the late John Urry as an academic figure an author and a person

Imagining Cities Sallie Westwood, John M

Williams,2018-05-11 First published in 1997 Imagining Cities gives students access to the most exciting recent work on the city from within sociology cultural studies and cultural geography Contributions are grouped around four major themes The theoretical imagination Ethnic diversity and the politics of difference Memory and nostalgia The city as narrative The book considers the interplay of past and present imagined and substantive and links present and future in examining the idea of the virtual city Here the world of cyberspace not only recasts views of space and communication but has a profound impact on the sociological imagination itself The Rural Richard Munton,2017-05-15 The rural has long been regarded as an important site of geographical inquiry even if our understanding of it has not always been treated as conceptually different from the urban That said rural research has pursued a number of distinct empirical agendas ranging from the operation and impacts of agribusiness to local resistance to global food supply chains to differing representations of the rural In doing so rural geographers have critically examined the relevance and significance of ideas drawn from numerous traditions including political economy ecological modernization and cultural theory amending them as appropriate in their search to understand the nature and trajectory of rural areas Up until the 1980s attention remained largely focused upon agriculture as the primary land use but increasingly new forms of rural consumption housing recreation nature conservation have taken centre stage as the primacy of local agricultures has been undermined by reduced state protection and new rural populations which have migrated out from the city More recently research has been dominated by the cultural turn with particular emphases upon society nature relations interpretations of landscape marginalised others and analyses of the relations between representation and practice In the last decade a more holistic view of the rural bringing together different aspects of the two previous themes has emerged through more politically oriented studies of rural governance concerned with the functioning of interest groups participation protest and the allocation and management of resources The volume is thus structured into three sections concerned with agriculture and food the rural and rural governance The great majority of the selected papers combine both empirical material often highly informative case studies and important conceptual arguments about change in the rural condition that can be linked to ideas being employed elsewhere in Geography and the Social Sciences more generally These critical reflections have been drawn very largely from research conducted in advanced economies which at least provide some commonality of experience allowing the transfer of ideas between what otherwise might be seen as very differing geographical contexts Lived Spaces in Late Antiquity Carlos Machado,Rowan Munnery,Rebecca Sweetman,2024-04-30 This volume considers lived space as a scholarly approach to the past showing how spatial approaches can present innovative views of the world of Late Antiquity integrating social economic and cultural developments and putting centre stage this fundamental dimension of social life Bringing together an international group of scholars working on areas as diverse as Britain the Iberian Peninsula Jordan and the Horn of Africa this book includes burgeoning fields of study such as lived spaces in the context of ships and seafaring during this period Chapters investigate the history function and use of different spaces in their own right and identify the social and historical logic presiding over continuity and or change They also explore the fluidity of lived space in both its physical and conceptual dimensions analysing issues like agency and intentionality as well as meaning and social relations Space is the fundamental dimension of social life the arena where it unfolds and the stage where social values and hierarchies are represented analysis of space allows us to understand history through different means of shaping occupying and controlling space Considering Late Antiquity through a spatial perspective offers a complex and stimulating picture of this pivotal period and this volume provides avenues for the development of further research and discussion in this area Lived Spaces in Late Antiquity is a fascinating resource for students and scholars interested in space and spatiality in the late antique world as well as archaeology classical studies and late antique studies more generally
