Socialist History Journal:

Socialist History, 1993 Socialist History, 2005 Contested Legacies Kevin Morgan, 2002 French Early Socialists 1790s-1870s Pamela Pilbeam, 2025-03-05 This new edition is an updated assessment of the ideas and strategies of early French socialists incorporating recent research which observes the practical and scientific nature of socialist proposals The second edition provides increased coverage of women s contributions including the important roles of activists like Flora Tristan and Jeanne Deroin socialist women s newspapers schools run by women and the demand for suffrage in 1848 There is also further emphasis on socialist experiments in France s new colony Algeria and on transnational connections particularly with Owen in Britain and Fourierist communities in North America Association still figures prominently as the solution to the social and economic problems created by modernisation and capitalist exploitation It took a variety of forms from Fourier s proposal that private finance create profit sharing communities to Leroux s practical cooperative venture at Boussac through Blanc and Consid rant s demands for state initiative to set up worker alternatives to capitalism The democratic republic of 1848 gave socialists the opportunity to engage in politics and despite the setbacks of the Second Empire socialists were set on a parliamentary route in which they still have a presence French Early Socialists 1790s 1870s is an engaging resource for students and scholars in histories of France politics and gender Women's History: Britain, 1850-1945 June Purvis, 2008 History's Memory Ellen Fitzpatrick, 2004-10-25 This reinterpretation of a century of American historical writing challenges the notion that the politics of the recent past alone explains the politics of history Fitzpatrick offers a wise historical perspective on today s heated debates and reclaims the long line of historians who tilled the rich and diverse soil of our past A Global History of Modern Historiography Georg G Iggers, Q. Edward Wang, Supriya Mukherjee, 2013-09-13 So far histories of historiography have concentrated almost exclusively on the West This is the first book to offer a history of modern historiography from a global perspective Tracing the transformation of historical writings over the past two and half centuries the book portrays the transformation of historical writings under the effect of professionalization which served as a model not only for Western but also for much of non Western historical studies At the same time it critically examines the reactions in post modern and post colonial thought to established conceptions of scientific historiography A main theme of the book is how historians in the non Western world not only adopted or adapted Western ideas but also explored different approaches rooted in their own cultures Men of the World Jeff Hearn, 2015-07-14 Men of the World will be seized upon by academics and activists facing up to the persistence proliferation and transnationalization of patriarchies Cynthia Cockburn City University London and University of Warwick This is an important thought provoking and incredibly timely book from one of the leading scholars in the field of men and masculinities I cannot praise this wonderful book highly enough Richard Collier Newcastle University In this lively and engaging new book Hearn looks back over nearly 40 years in feminist framed studies of men and masculinities and also forward to the futuristic scenarios through which gender power is currently evolving in transpatriarchal contexts Terrell Carver University of Bristol What have men and globalization got to do with each other How are men shaping and being shaped by globalization How is globalization gendered Why do many books on globalization fail to discuss gender relations And why do many of those that do omit an explicit and developed analysis of men and gender relations Men of the World brings together autobiographical reflections and memories on changing personal locations contemporary empirical studies on major power processes and up to date theoretical development It considers the implications of debates on globalization for analyzing men and the implications of debates on men and masculinities for globalization transnational change and transnational patriarchies as part of engagement and critique focused on the global North Specific chapters address diverse transnational issues transnational bodies and emotions in violence violation and militarism transnational organizing across states big business global finance and activism transnational movements in the environment migration and information and communication technologies and sexualities and finally challenges to the gender category of men An essential read for students and researchers of gender sexuality masculinity intersectionality and globalization across the social sciences Jeff Hearn is Guest Faculty Research Professor Gender Studies rebro University Sweden Professor of Management and Organization Hanken School of Economics Finland Professor of Sociology University of Huddersfield UK

French Socialists Before Marx Pamela M. Pilbeam, 2000 How to put socialism into practice was as fundamental a concern for nineteenth century socialists as it has been for their successors In French Socialists before Marx Pamela Pilbeam explores the development of and changes in socialist ideas revealing how the Fourierists of the 1830s and 1840s changed Fourier's ideas on the family and sexuality preferring public works programs to model communities She focuses on the practical contributions of early socialists including the efforts of working women to run schools worker associations and newspapers

The Journal of Adult Education, 1926 The Histories of Raphael Samuel Sophie Scott-Brown, 2017-05-12 In the first integrated biographical study of his work this book situates British historian Raphael Samuel 1934 1996 in relation to his distinctive form of activist politics as they developed from youthful Cold War communism to the first British New Left 1960s radicalism to the 1980s history wars As the catalyst behind the History Workshop movement Samuel championed the democratisation of history making and practised an eclectic form of people's history in his own work His unique approach was controversial drawing impassioned responses from across the ideological spectrum the most sustained critique often coming from his left wing contemporaries It is argued here that this compelling figure has been unjustly neglected and that he continues to offer important insights into the politics of history making in a post Marxist world

What Happened to History? Willie Thompson, 2000-11-20 A study of US imperialism that argues America's leaders have chosen to go to war for influence and power ever since the declaration of independence

Span the World with Friendship Douglas Bourn, Richard Palser, 2025-06-02 Within the histories of progressive educational movements and youth work one organisation that rarely gets a mention is the Woodcraft Folk Founded in 1925 it has been consistently at the forefront of promoting radical social change through education It played a role in breaking down the barriers between East and West during the Cold War in promoting a co educational and cooperative based approach to learning and in encouraging environmental activism at a time when it was unfashionable The Woodcraft Folk s evolving approach to education for social change is explored in Span the World with Friendship from a range of disciplinary perspectives including political and social theory cultural history anthropology educational theory and youth work theory Through investigation of published and primary sources including letters meeting records and oral testimonies contributors bring scholarship to a narrative that has often been uncritical Beginning with a biography of founder Leslie Paul chapters study the Folk s relationship to debates in the labour movement the extent to which the eugenics movement influenced its ideas and practices and how the folk songs and dances used within the organisation reflected wider social and cultural trends Internationalism is a key theme running through this book which concludes with a focus on how the Woodcraft Folk s progressive nature is moving it increasingly towards being a youth led movement

Writing History Stefan Berger, Heiko Feldner, Kevin Passmore, 2020-02-20 The third edition of Writing History provides students and teachers with a comprehensive overview of how the study of history is informed by a broader intellectual and analytical framework exploring the emergence and development of history as a discipline and the major theoretical developments that have informed historical writing Instead of focusing on theory this book offers succinct explanations of key concepts that illuminate the study of history and practical writing and demonstrates the ways they have informed practical work This fully revised new edition comprehensively rewrites and updates original chapters but also includes new features such as new chapters on postcolonial environmental and transnational history chapter introductions setting them within the context of historiography a new substantive introduction from the editors providing a useful road map for students an expanded glossary In its new incarnation Writing History is more than ever an invaluable introduction to the central debates that have shaped history

Cultural Studies and Beyond Ioan Davies, 2005-08-04 Introducing the central theoretical issues as well as key personalities this book traces the origins growth and diffusion of the subject Essential to all those attempting to understand the state of Cultural Studies today

Histories of Everyday Life Laura Carter, 2021 This book is a social history of popular history in Britain between the end of the First World War and the 1970s It considers how ordinary people were taught history through books in school and museums and on BBC radio

How Film Histories Were Made Malte Hagener, Yvonne Zimmermann, 2025-10-01 This book is specifically dedicated to film history s own history It provides insights into the fabrication of film histories and the discourses on their materials and methods in the past in order to better understand and reconsider film history today The interventions unpack unspoken assumptions and hidden agendas that determine film historiography until today also with the aim to act as a critical reflection on the potential future orientation of the field The edited volume proposes a transnational entangled and culturally diverse approach towards an archaeology of film history while paying specific attention to persons objects infrastructures regions institutional fields and events hitherto overlooked It explores past and ongoing processes of doing undoing and redoing film history Thereby in a self reflective gesture it also draws attention to our own work as film historians

The Bengal Diaspora Claire Alexander,Joya Chatterji,Annu Jalais,2015-11-06 India s partition in 1947 and the creation of Bangladesh in 1971 saw the displacement and resettling of millions of Muslims and Hindus resulting in profound transformations across the region A third of the region s population sought shelter across new borders almost all of them resettling in the Bengal delta itself A similar number were internally displaced while others moved to the Middle East North America and Europe Using a creative interdisciplinary approach combining historical sociological and anthropological approaches to migration and diaspora this book explores the experiences of Bengali Muslim migrants through this period of upheaval and transformation It draws on over 200 interviews conducted in Britain India and Bangladesh tracing migration and settlement within and from the Bengal delta region in the period after 1947 Focussing on migration and diaspora from below it teases out fascinating hidden migrant stories including those of women refugees and displaced people It reveals surprising similarities and important differences in the experience of Muslim migrants in widely different contexts and places whether in the towns and hamlets of Bengal delta or in the cities of Britain Counter posing accounts of the structures that frame migration with the textures of how migrants shape their own movement it examines what it means to make new homes in a context of diaspora The book is also unique in its focus on the experiences of those who stayed behind and in its analysis of ruptures in the migration process Importantly the book seeks to challenge crude attitudes to Muslim migrants which assume their cultural and religious homogeneity and to humanize contemporary discourses around global migration This ground breaking new research offers an essential contribution to the field of South Asian Studies Diaspora Studies and Society and Culture Studies

Postsocialist Memory in Contemporary German Culture Michel Mallet,Maria Mayr,Kristin Rebien,2024-08-05 Scholarship on Eastern Europe after 1989 often focuses narrowly on the socialist past as authoritarian dictatorial or totalitarian This collection by contrast illuminates an additional dimension of post socialist memory it traces the survival of hopes and dreams born under socialism and the legacy of the unrealized alternative futures embedded within the socialist past Looking at contemporary German language literature film theater and art the volume analyzes reflections on everyday socialist realities as well as narratives of opposition and dissent The texts discussed here not only revisit the past but also challenge the present and help us imagine alternative futures Rather than framing the unrealized futures envisioned in the pre 1989 era as failures this collection probes post socialist memory for its future oriented potential to rethink issues of community equity and equality and late stage capitalism Foregrounding the complexities of Eastern European legacies also helps us reimagine the relationship between East and West both in Germany and in Europe as a whole

map of wealth disparities in the banlieues of twenty first century Paris Mapping Society traces the evolution of social cartography over the past two centuries In this richly illustrated book Laura Vaughan examines maps of ethnic or religious difference poverty and health inequalities demonstrating how they not only serve as historical records of social enquiry but also constitute inscriptions of social patterns that have been etched deeply on the surface of cities The book covers themes such as the use of visual rhetoric to change public opinion the evolution of sociology as an academic practice changing attitudes to physical disorder and the complexity of segregation as an urban phenomenon While the focus is on historical maps the narrative carries the discussion of the spatial dimensions of social cartography forward to the present day showing how disciplines such as public health crime science and urban planning chart spatial data in their current practice Containing examples of space syntax analysis alongside full colour maps and photographs this volume will appeal to all those interested in the long term forces that shape how people live in cities
