Socioeconomic Analysis Of The Weaker Sections:

Affirmative Action for Economically Weaker Sections and Upper-Castes in Indian Constitutional Law Asang Wankhede, 2022-09-30 This book examines the controversial 103rd Constitutional Amendment to the Indian Constitution that introduced an income and asset ownership based new constitutional standard for determining backwardness marking a significant shift in the government's social and public policy. It also analyses state level policies towards backwardness recognition of upper caste dominant groups through case studies of Maharashtra Haryana and Gujarat. It provides an analytical and descriptive account of the proliferation of reservation policy in India and critiques these interventions to assess their implication on constitutional jurisprudence. Further it assesses the theoretical and empirical challenges such developments pose to the principle of substantive equality and scope of affirmative action policies in Indian constitutional law and general discrimination law theory. The monograph shows how opening up of reservations for dominant upper caste groups and general category will have implications for the constitutional commitment to addressing deeply entrenched marginalisation emanating from the traditional social hierarchy and the understanding of substantive equality in Indian Constitutional law. Further it highlights key contradictions incoherence and internal tension in the design of the reservations for Economically Weaker Sections. Critical comprehensive and cogently argued this book will contribute and shape ongoing constitutional policy and judicial debates. It will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of law Indian politics affirmative action social policy and public policy.

Local Governance and Rural Empowerment, 2015-01-01 The Constitution of India provides a clear mandate for democratic decentralisation not only through the Directive Principles of State Policy which exhorts the State to promote Panchayati Raj Institutions but more specifically now through the 73rd and 74th Amendments of the Constitution which seek to create an institutional framework for ushering in grassroots democracy through the medium of genuinely selfgoverning local bodies in both urban and rural areas of the country However despite the constitutional mandate the growth of selfgoverning local bodies as the third tier of governance in the country has been uneven halting and slow Even after the passing of the 73rd and 74th Constitutional Amendments the transfer of funds functions and functionaries has been nominal in most States with notable exceptions such as Kerala Today the extent to which decentralisation has actually taken place differs from state to state Each state enacts its own legislation on decentralisation which has to conform to the principles of the 73rd and 74th Constitutional Amendments This leaves considerable scope for States to either devolve substantial powers to the local governance bodies or to limit devolution to the required minimum to meet the constitutional enactment Keeping this background in view this book attempts to address the issues pertaining to various aspects of Local Governance and Rural Empowerment
