The New Hegemony In Literary Studies Contradictions In Theory:

The New Hegemony in Literary Studies Anthony Channell Hilfer, 2003-02-26 A critique reveals the logical flaws that joins and compromises all the major recent modes of criticism that operate under the rubric of Theory Restoring the Human Context to Literary and Performance Studies Howard Mancing, Jennifer Marston William, 2022-01-28 Restoring the Human Context to Literary and Performance Studies argues that much of contemporary literary theory is still predicated at least implicitly on outdated linguistic and psychological models such as post structuralism psychoanalysis and behaviorism which significantly contradict current dominant scientific views By contrast this monograph promotes an alternative paradigm for literary studies namely Contextualism and in so doing highlights the similarities and differences among the sometimes conflicting contemporary cognitive approaches to literature and performance arguing not in favor of one over the other but for Contextualism as their common ground Shakespeare Minus 'Theory' Tom McAlindon, 2017-03-02 Demonstrating and defending a method of close reading and historical contextualisation of Shakespeare and his contemporaries this collection of essays by Tom McAlindon combines a number of previously published pieces with original studies The volume includes six interpretative studies all but one of which involve challenges to radical readings of the plays involved including Henry V Coriolanus The Tempest and Doctor Faustus The other three essays are critiques of the claims and methods of radical postmodernist criticism new historicism and cultural materialism especially they illustrate the author's conviction that some leading scholars in the field of Renaissance literature and drama who deserve credit for shifting attention to new areas of interest must also be charged with responsibility for a marked decline in standards of analysis interpretation and argument Likely to provoke considerable debate this stimulating collection is an important contribution to Shakespeare studies Marxism and 20th-Century English-Canadian Novels John Z. Ming Chen, Yuhua Ji, 2015-06-09 This monograph is the first academic work to apply a neo Marxist approach to 20th century Canadian social realist novels pursuing a refreshingly neo Marxist approach to such issues as Bakhtinian notions of the novelistic form and dialogism as applied to Canadian socio political novels influenced by various socialisms socialist feminist concerns economic and sexual politics and the genre of social realism In so doing it demonstrates that Marxist socialism is as relevant today as it was in the 1930s just as social realist novels continue to thrive as a critique of capitalism Readers will find valuable insights into the social significance formal innovations moral sensitivity aesthetic enrichment and ideological complexity of Canadian social realist novels Sociology as Method Paul Dowling, 2009-01-01 Dowling is using the term forensics to refer to approaches to research that claim to uncover truths about the world that are somehow independent of the means of their uncovering For some time now such approaches have been widely regarded as naïve but it is not clear that the implications of this recognition have always been adequately or appropriately taken into account In attempting to do just that Dowling presents a mature exposition of his organisational language social activity method SAM in dialogue with a wide range of cultural settings texts and technologies SAM has been developed over a period of some twenty years via the transaction between a fundamental theoretical principle and empirical data This principle asserts that the sociocultural is to be understood in terms of strategic autopoietic action directed at the formation maintenance and destabilising of alliances and oppositions and the alliances and oppositions that are themselves emergent upon such action This anti forensic constructive description understands data texts not as products of generative structures that lie behind them but as instances of the organisational language SAM that will ultimately describe them and that is in a sense in front of them Dowling describes himself as a theory engineer The productivity of this work is in its potential to generate principled and articulated descriptions of empirical settings and texts new ways of looking at them not to direct but to interrogate other practices relating to these settings and texts to ask questions that would otherwise be left unasked The origins of SAM lie in the analysis of mathematics education texts in the late 1980s and early 1990s and one of the chapters in this volume is again concerned with mathematics and science education in the first part of the twenty first century Other settings that come under scrutiny include classrooms film art literature knowledge in various domains the internet and so forth The book also includes fundamental engagement with forensics in particular the work of and work inspired by Basil Bernstein Paul Dowling is Professor of Education at the Institute of Education University of London Before joining the Institute in 1987 he had taught mathematics in secondary schools in and around London His other publications include The Sociology of Mathematics Education Mathematical Myths Pedagogic Texts 1998 Falmer Press and Doing Research Reading Research Re interrogating education with Andrew Brown Routledge 1998 and 2009

Evolution, Literature, and Film Brian Boyd, Joseph Carroll, Jonathan Gottschall, 2010 Jonathan Gottschall teaches English at Washington and Jefferson College Book Jacket On the Origin of Stories Brian Boyd, 2010-11-15 Brian Boyd explains why we tell stories and how our minds are shaped to understand them After considering art as adaptation Boyd examines Homer's Odyssey and Dr Seuss's Horton Hears a Who demonstrating how an evolutionary lens can offer new understanding and appreciation of specific works

(Re-)Framing the Arab/Muslim Silke Schmidt, 2014-10-15 Media depictions of Arabs and Muslims continue to be framed by images of camels belly dancers and dagger wearing terrorists But do only Hollywood movies and TV news have the power to frame public discourse This interdisciplinary study transfers media framing theory to literary studies to show how life writing re frames Orientalist stereotypes The innovative analysis of the post 9 11 autobiographies West of Kabul East of New York Letters from Cairo and Howling in Mesopotamia makes a powerful claim to approach literature based on a theory of production and reception thus enhancing the multi disciplinary potential of framing theory

The Secret Knowledge David Mamet, 2012-08-28 For the past thirty years David Mamet has been a controversial and defining force in theater and film championing the most cherished liberal values In some of the great movies and plays of our time his characters have explored the ethics of the business world embodied the struggles of the oppressed and faced the flaws of the capitalist system But in recent years Mamet has had a change of heart He realized that the so called main stream media outlets were irredeemably biased peddling a hypocritical suborned and deeply flawed worldview Now he employs his trademark intellectual force and vigor to take on all the key political and cultural issues of our times from religion to political correctness to global warming Back cover The Cambridge Companion to Nineteenth-Century American Literature and Politics John D. Kerkering, 2025-03-13 This volume addresses the political contexts in which nineteenth century American literature was conceived consumed and criticized It shows how a variety of literary genres and forms such as poetry drama fiction oratory and nonfiction engaged with political questions and participated in political debate
