The Myth Of American Eclipse The New Global Age:

The Myth of American Eclipse Alfred Balk, 1990-01-01 In this title the respected public affairs journalist Alfred Balk refreshingly and authoritatively challenges the new orthodoxy Drawing on economic analyses and the perspective of thoughtful social researchers and government leaders abroad Balk presents a challengingly different thesis and one calculated to enliven current foreign and domestic policy debate Arresting Images Steven C. Dubin, 2013-10-18 Although contemporary art may sometimes shock us more alarming are recent attempts to regulate its display Drawing upon extensive interviews a broad sampling of media accounts legal documents and his own observations of important events sociologist Steven Dubin surveys the recent trend in censorship of the visual arts photography and film as well as artistic upstarts such as video and performance art He examines the dual meaning of arresting images both the nature of art work which disarms its viewers and the social reaction to it Arresting Images examines the battles which erupt when artists address such controversial issues as racial polarization AIDS gay bashing and sexual inequality in their work Future Survey Annual 1992 Michael Marien, 1993-01-30 Economic Liberalisation in India, 1995 Contributed articles Teaching Social Studies James Little, Gerald L. Wilson, Virginia Wilson, 1993-01-30 Just as society has changed dramatically over the last century so have the social sciences This valuable reference chronicles the historical development of social studies as a discipline in elementary and secondary schools It also assesses the current state of teaching and research in the social sciences and history at the pre college level and it charts new directions for the future of social studies in secondary and elementary schools By tracing the historical development of social studies the reference indicates how social studies has constantly been redefined to meet the changing needs and expectations of society At the same time the historical context provided by the authors sheds new light on the current state of social studies in the curriculum and the development of social studies in the future The book begins with introductory chapters that overview themes and issues common to all areas of history and the social sciences The chapters that follow summarize and assess the developments and trends of particular fields commonly thought to constitute social studies The volume concludes with chapters on broad topics including the place of religion in the social studies curriculum the role of writing in history and the social sciences and the professional training of social studies teachers Each chapter begins with a section of reflections on the development of the discipline followed by a section on current issues and trends followed by a final section of projections for the future of the discipline The result is a comprehensive overview of the past present and future of social studies in elementary and secondary schools and an indispensable reference for educators historians and social scientists Globe, 1991 Future Survey, 1991 Global Social Problems James A. Glynn, Charles F. Hohm, Elbert W. Stewart, 1996 The first social problems text to approach the subject from a global perspective Global Social Problems helps students see the interconnected nature of the world's social problems from pollution to crime to population poverty and racism A number of pedagogical aids including maps study questions key terms and summaries support the text s global approach while special boxed features titled Toward Global Solutions provide students with an uplifting glimpse of how one nation or group has successfully addressed a pressing social problem Environment and Planning ,1992 Economic Security and High Technology Competition in an Age of Transition Eric M. Green,1996-03-30 This study was motivated by an awareness of the ever growing importance of technology on productivity and power in the information age It examines the relationship among national security economic competition and technology An underlying premise is that in an era of diminished military confrontation economic and technological power are acquiring enhanced importance in national security considerations Green believes that this is bound to promote closer coordination between government and private industry but not without tensions Using both a public policy and an economic focus his work seeks to clarify the debate on high technology industrial policy and to address the policy question of whether and how government should respond to competitive assaults in strategic industries
