Nineteenth century governments faced considerable challenges from the rapid novel and profound changes in social and economic conditions resulting from the industrial revolution In the context of an increasingly sophisticated and complex government from the 1830s the specialist and largely lay statutory tribunal was conceived and adopted as the principal method of both implementing the new regulatory legislation and resolving disputes The tribunal s legal nature and procedures and its place in the machinery of justice were debated and refined throughout the Victorian period In examining this process this 2007 book explains the interaction between legal constraints social and economic demand and political expediency that gave rise to this form of dispute resolution It reveals the imagination and creativity of the legislators who drew on diverse legal institutions and values to create the new tribunals and shows how the modern difficulties of legal classification were largely the result of the institution s nineteenth century development Literary Copyright Reform in

This is the first book covering those who abused and misused the legal system in medieval England and the initial attempts of the Anglo American legal system to deal with these forms of legal corruption Maintenance in the sense of intermeddling in another person s litigation was a source of repeated complaint in medieval England This book reveals for the first time what actually transpired in the resultant litigation Extensive study of the primary sources shows that the statutes prohibiting maintenance did not achieve their objectives because legal proceedings were rarely brought against those targeted by the statutes the great and the powerful Illegal maintenance was less extensive than frequently asserted because medieval judges recognized a number of valid justifications for intermeddling in litigation Further the book casts doubt on the effectiveness of the statutory regulation of livery This is a treasure trove for legal historians literature scholars lawyers and academic libraries
