The Automotive Manufacturer, 1872      A Corpus of Rembrandt Paintings VI Ernst van de Wetering, 2014-11-11 A revised survey of Rembrandt's complete painted oeuvre The question of which 17th century paintings in Rembrandt's style were actually painted by Rembrandt himself had already become an issue during his lifetime It is an issue that is still hotly disputed among art historians today The problem arose because Rembrandt had numerous pupils who learned the art of painting by imitating their master or by assisting him with his work as a portrait painter He also left pieces unfinished to be completed by others The question is how to determine which works were from Rembrandt's own hand Can we for example define the criteria of quality that would allow us to distinguish the master's work from that of his followers Do we yet have methods of investigation that would deliver objective evidence of authenticity To what extent do research techniques used in the physical sciences help Or are we after all still dependent on the subjective expert eye of the connoisseur The book provides answers to these questions Prof Ernst van de Wetering the author of our forthcoming book which deals with these questions has been closely involved in all aspects of this research since 1968 the year the renowned Rembrandt Research Project RRP was founded In particular he played an important role in developing new criteria for authentication Van de Wetering was also witness to the way the often overly zealous tendency to doubt the authenticity of Rembrandt's paintings got out of hand In this book he re attributes to the master a substantial number of unjustly rejected Rembrandts He also was closely involved in the re discovery of a considerable number of lost or completely unknown works by Rembrandt The verdicts of earlier specialists including the majority of members of the original RRP up to 1989 were based on connoisseurship the self confidence in one's ability to recognise a specific artist's style and hand Over the years Van de Wetering has carried out seminal research into 17th century studio practice and ideas about art current in Rembrandt's time In this book he demonstrates the fallibility of traditional connoisseurship especially in the case of Rembrandt who was par excellence a searching artist The methodological implications of this critical view are discussed in an introductory chapter which relates the history of the developments in this turbulent field of research Van de Wetering's account of his own involvement in it makes this book a lively and sometimes unexpectedly personal account The catalogue section presents a chronologically ordered survey of Rembrandt's entire painted oeuvre of 336 paintings richly illustrated and annotated For all the paintings re attributed in this book extensive commentaries have been included that provide a multi faceted new insight into Rembrandt's world and the world of art historical research Rembrandt's Paintings Revisited is the concluding sixth volume of A Corpus of Rembrandt Paintings Volumes I V 1982 1986 1989 2005 2010 It can also be read as a revisionary critique of the first three Volumes published by the old RRP team up till 1989 and of Gerson's influential survey of Rembrandt's painted oeuvre of 1968 69 At the same time the book is designed as an independent overview that can be used on the basis that anyone seeking more detailed information will be referred to the five previous digital versions of the Volumes and the detailed catalogues published in the meantime by the various museums with collections of Rembrandt paintings This work of art history and art research should belong in the library of every serious art historical institute university or museum

Proportion and Style in Ancient Egyptian Art Gay Robins,Ann S. Fowler,1994 She also considers for the first time how in general the use of a grid system influenced composition as a whole Numerous line drawings of paintings and reliefs with superimposed grids either derived from actual grid traces surviving on monuments or calculated according to the systems used by the Egyptians themselves illustrate the text Collections of Painting in Madrid, 1601-1755 (Parts 1 and 2) Marcus B. Burke,Peter Cherry,1997-01-01 This two part book on collections of paintings in Madrid is part of the series Documents for the History of Collecting Spanish Inventories 1 which presents volumes of art historical information based on archival records One hundred forty inventories of noble and middle class collections of art in Madrid are accompanied by two essays describing the taste and cultural atmosphere of Madrid in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Jean-François Millet Alexandra R. Painting as Business in Early Seventeenth-century Rome Patrizia Cavazzini,2008 Painting as Business in Early Seventeenth Century Rome offers a new perspective on the world of painting in Rome at the beginning of the Baroque from both an artistic and a socioeconomic point of view Biased by the accounts of seventeenth century biographers who were often academic painters concerned about elevating the status of their profession art historians have long believed that in Italy and in Rome in particular paintings were largely produced by major artists working on commission for the most important patrons of the time Patrizia Cavazzini s extensive archival research reveals a substantially different situation Cavazzini presents lively and colorful accounts of Roman artists daily lives and apprenticeships and investigates the vast popular art market that served the aesthetic devotional and economic needs of artisans and professionals and of the laboring class Painting as Business reconstructs the complex universe of painters collectors and merchants and irrevocably alters our understanding of the production collecting and merchandising of painting during a key period in Italian art history
