Agricultural Growth and Factor Productivity in Developing Countries Pasquale L. Scandizzo,1984-01-01 Foreign Direct Investment in Large-Scale Agriculture in Africa Atkeyelsh Persson,2019-05-02 This book examines environmental sustainability and inclusive economic growth providing in depth analysis of foreign direct investment FDI in large scale agriculture in Ethiopia In most African states arable land and other natural resources play a pivotal role for economic growth and development Ethiopia is one of those countries where agriculture is the backbone of the economy This sector has also been an attraction for FDI in Sub Saharan Africa since the global food and financial crisis of 2007 and 2008 This book uses six foreign investments in large scale agriculture as case studies to examine current Ethiopian policies the patterns of investment they promote how these impact on land based resources and communities wellbeing Presenting analyses of the economic social and political realities of foreign direct investment in the local context Foreign Direct Investment in Large Scale Agriculture in Africa discusses how the fundamental principles of pro poor and environmentally sustainable investments intersect with the government's ambition to advance Ethiopia's development agenda. This book will be of interest to scholars and students of African economics and sustainable development. African policy makers, intergovernmental organisations as well as multilateral and bilateral development partners.

Agricultural Investment and Productivity in Developing Countries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2001-01-01 The purpose of this book is to provide an overview of current thinking and findings about the relationship between agricultural investment and productivity in developing countries. This includes theoretical and methodological developments such as incorporating natural resource depletion in calculating measures of growth. It also looks at the relationship investment and productivity and factors such as land policy, debt, civil unrest and structural adjustment programmes. An area of concern is that a lack of information hampers the assessment of sustainability of agricultural and rural development.

Sustainable Food Security in West Africa W.K. Asenso-Okyere, E.Y. Benneh, W. Tims, 2012-12-06 Food security is defined as the ability of countries, regions or households to meet their required levels of food consumption at all times. Food security is an important component of human welfare and it can act as an indicator of a region's development. This book addresses the roles of trade, policy, development and economic cooperation in creating sustainable food security in the West African region. The largely micro level analysis is conducted on empirical data from the household where decisions on production and consumption take place. Food security is discussed in terms of its component parts: namely, availability of food, production and trade, its accessibility, incomes and poverty status and its utilisation, health and nutrition.

African Entrepreneurship Leo-Paul Dana, Vanessa Ratten, Ben Q. Honyenuga, 2018-05-23 This book outlines the unique challenges and opportunities of doing business in Africa, analysing how varying degrees of development across its countries affects entrepreneurship. Taking into account historical and cultural contexts, the authors approach the topic by evaluating the different possibilities of business opportunity in Africa. Insightful contributions explore an extensive range of African countries, discussing both formal and informal entrepreneurship as well as the different factors that influence the growing economy of Africa. African Entrepreneurship will be of interest to anyone researching the potential of doing business in Africa as well as entrepreneurs and policy makers looking to expand their knowledge on how businesses are managed in this region.

West African Studies Settlement, Market and Food Security OECD, Sahel and West Africa Club, 2013-05-21 With the population of West Africa set to double by 2050, this book explores how agricultural production systems and policy will have to change to support this growth.

Africa J. Hinderink,J.J. Sterkenburg,2022-03-26 First published in 1987 The object of this book is to show the nature and the constraints of the commercialization of agriculture in one of the world s major problem areas Sub Saharan Africa Agricultural commercialization started here centuries ago albeit in small pockets It expanded sharply during the colonial period when the sub continent became integrated into the world s economy After independence the nature of this integration did not structurally change and the basic characteristics o agricultural commercialization remained unaltered After an analysis of this process during the colonial period the study focuses on post colonial government policies and on spatial variation in the commercialization of Africa s agriculture Differences in environmental and socio economic conditions production performance and government policy are dealt with on two geographical scales in the fist at the level of macro regions and individual countries and the second by means of case studies at the regional village and project level Thee field work based studies each centre on a specific aspect of commercialization process in a wide variety of countries viz Swaziland Sudan Botswana Ivory Coast Mali and Kenya The final part of the book relates the subject of commercialization and rural development to Africa s present agricultural crisis Joint Acquisitions List of Africana ,1991 Poverty and

Small-scale Fisheries in West Africa Arthur E. Neiland,Christophe Béné,2013-04-17 This book arises from case studies and two back to back workshops held in Cotonou Benin in November 2001 They were the combination of much experience and knowledge gathered in the West Africa region and were brought about to explore the concept of poverty especially how it is a part of the life of fishing communities and our ways of thinking about resolving the issue The workshops were conceived as a partnership between the UK Department for International Development DFID the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations F AO and 25 countries of West Africa working together through the Sustainable Fisheries Livelihood Programme SFLP to join forces with the Centre for the Economics and Management of Aquatic Resources CEMARE The SFLP with its remit of poverty alleviation in West African artisanal fisheries communities through better governance and improved policies to involve communities in management of the resources on which their livelihoods depend had quickly realised that it needed to define what and whom it was targeting In this respect the two large back to back workshops marked a milestone for the SFLP Those participating in the workshop soon emphasised that we need to push forward our ideas from the previous simplistic less than a dollar a day type definitions to show that poverty is multi faceted and a dynamic feature of human society International African Bibliography ,1998
