Social Work Starter Pack 2005:

Handbook of Social Work with Groups Charles D. Garvin, Lorraine M. Gutiérrez, Maeda J. Galinsky, 2017-05-16 This definitive text now revised and expanded has introduced thousands of students and practitioners to the theory and practice of social work with groups. Leading authorities outline major models of group work and address critical issues in planning, implementing, and evaluating interventions. The Handbook describes applications in all the major practice settings: mental health, prevention, child welfare, substance abuse, health care, aging, corrections, and more, as well as organizational and community settings. A strong focus on empowerment, social justice, and diversity is woven throughout. The empirical foundations of group work are reviewed, and innovative research methods are discussed. New to This Edition: Incorporates over a decade of advances in the field; Heightened focus on practitioner-researcher collaboration; Two chapters on substance abuse prevention with youth; Chapters on social justice, work evidence-based practice, offender reentry, intimate partner violence, intergroup dialogue, working with immigrants and refugees, qualitative methods, and intervention research. Major updates on existing topics such as cognitive-behavioral group work, psychoeducational groups, health care settings, and technology-mediated groups. Integrative epilogue that synthesizes key themes.

Starter Packs Sarah Levy, 2005 Despite repeated interventions by governments, donors, and NGOs in recent years, food insecurity continues, and developing countries are forced to rely on food aid again and again. The original idea of Starter Pack was to give a tiny bag of agricultural inputs—fertiliser and seed—to every smallholder farmer in Malawi. Although the programme did not work as originally intended, it was successful in achieving food security. The scaling down of the programme was a major contributor to the food crisis which hit Malawi and other countries in Southern Africa at the beginning of 2002. For once we have a success story about how hunger can be tackled efficiently. This book assesses the case of the Starter Pack programme in Malawi and whether it can be replicated elsewhere. It covers the practicalities of implementing such a large programme and the policy debates.
