Societys Stepchildren Fight Back:

Red Seas Gerald Horne, 2009-09 During the heyday of the U S and international labor movements in the 1930s and 1940s Ferdinand Smith the Jamaican born co founder and second in command of the National Maritime Union NMU stands out as one of the most if not the most powerful black labor leaders in the United States Smith s active membership in the Communist Party however coupled with his bold labor radicalism and shaky immigration status brought him under continual surveillance by U S authorities especially during the Red Scare in the 1950s Smith was eventually deported to his homeland of Jamaica where he continued his radical labor and political organizing until his death in 1961 Gerald Horne draws on Smith s life to make insightful connections between labor radicalism and the Civil Rights Movement demonstrating that the gains of the latter were propelled by the former and undermined by anticommunism Moreover Red Seas uncovers the little known experiences of black sailors and their contribution to the struggle for labor and civil rights the history of the Communist

Prosperous and Compassionate Society for the 21st Century Jerry Jensen, Larry C. Jensen, 1999 This is a cross disciplinary social policy text with the central theme that a successful nation for the 21st century requires highly motivated moral and educated citizens The authors link problems of the urban ghetto to falling educational standards and the weakening of the family The Madhouse: A critical study of Swedish society , Double Burden Yanick St Jean, Joe R

Feagin, 2015-03-04 Studies of contemporary black women are rare and scattered and are often extensions of a legacy beginning in the 19th century that characterized black women as domineering matriarchs prostitutes or welfare queens negative characterizations that are perpetuated by both white and non white social scientists Based on over 200 interviews this book departs from these conventions in significant ways and using a collective memory conceptual framework shows how black women cope with and interpret lives often limited by racial barriers not of their making The Tumbleweed

Society Allison J. Pugh, 2015-04-01 In The Tumbleweed Society Allison Pugh offers a moving exploration of sacrifice betrayal defiance and resignation as people cope in a society where relationships and jobs seem to change constantly Based on eighty in depth interviews with parents who have varied experiences of job insecurity and socio economic status Pugh finds most seem to accept job insecurity as inevitable but still try to bar that insecurity from infiltrating their home lives Rigid expectations for enduring connections and uncompromising loyalty in their intimate relationships however can put intolerable strain on them often sparking instability in the very social ties they yearn to protect By shining a light on how we prepare ourselves and our children for an uncertain environment Pugh gives us a detailed portrait of how we compel ourselves to adapt emotionally to a churning economy and what commitment and obligation mean in an insecure age The Totem Lake Lesbian Coffee Society Stuart Broderick, 2024-07-20 This is the story about a young homicide detective who along with her childhood friends form a club called The Totem Lake Lesbian Coffee Society When her friend Vincent the damsel in distress and several of her friends get abducted by aliens the heroine aided by a master yogi who has taken control of the flying saucer s weapons runs the alien crew off The saucer was being used as a drug smuggling and slave trading vessel The heroine and her crewmates must catch the culprits and break up an interstellar smuggling cartel
