Contemporary English-Language Indian Children's Literature

Michelle Superle, 2011-05-09 Concurrent with increasing scholarly attention toward national children's literatures Contemporary English language Indian Children's Literature explores an emerging body of work that has thus far garnered little serious critical attention Superle critically examines the ways Indian children's writers have represented childhood in relation to the Indian nation Indian cultural identity and Indian girlhood From a framework of postcolonial and feminist theories children s novels published between 1988 and 2008 in India are compared with those from the United Kingdom and North America from the same period considering the differing ideologies and the current textual constructions of childhood at play in each Broadly Superle contends that over the past twenty years an aspirational view of childhood has developed in this literature a view that positions children as powerful participants in the project of enabling positive social transformation Her main argument formed after recognizing several overarching thematic and structural patterns in more than one hundred texts is that the novels comprise an aspirational literature with a transformative agenda they imagine apparently empowered child characters who perform in diverse ways in the process of successfully creating and shaping the ideal Indian nation their own well adjusted bicultural identities in the diaspora and or their own empowered girlhoods Michelle Superle is a Professor in the department of Communications at Okanagan College She has taught children s literature composition and creative writing courses at various Canadian universities and has published articles in Papers and IRCL The Autonomous Child Ivar Frønes,2015-10-14 The social sciences offer a variety of theories on how children develop and various theories and disciplines apply their own vocabularies and conceptualise different aspects of the processes of socialization This book looks at the theorizing of socialization in sociology anthropology psychology in the life course approach and as the interplay of genetics and environmental factors It analyses the dominant perspectives and viewpoints within each discipline and field and shows how the various theories and disciplines apply their own vocabularies and conceptualise different aspects of the processes of socialization It argues that socialization does not represent a fixed trajectory into a static social order and that different disciplines meet the challenges of complex developmental processes and changing environments in different ways Socialization is a fundamental concept in sociology but sociology has only to a limited degree sought to produce a coherent understanding of the processes of socialization which has to encompass the interplay of societal psychological and genetic factors This book draws the threads together and by doing so offers a general framework for our understanding of the socialization process At the centre of this process is the child as a subject in an interplay with the patterns and significant others of the micro environment as well as with the macro conditions of the modern knowledge based economies School Uniforms and the Disciplining of Appearances Inés Dussel,2001 The Routledge Handbook of LGBTQ Identity in Organizations and Society Julie A. Gedro,Tonette S. Rocco,2024-05-28 Sexuality gender gender identity and gender expression are fluid constructs and the ways in which identity development intersects with organizations and exists in society are complex The book is comprised of a range of multi disciplinary and globally inspired perspectives representing leading edge scholarship by authors from over a dozen countries on a range of issues and contexts regarding LGBTQ identity and experience It is intended for a wide readership those who are in LGBTQ related academic fields those who want to broaden their coursework by offering supplemental readings that center the perspectives of LGBTQ identities and those who want to
