

The Nearness Of You

Words by Ned Washington

Music by Hoagy Carmichael

Originally written in the 1930s for the movie Romance In The Dark, and later recorded by Norah Jones on the jazz label Blue Note, and included on her debut album Come Away With Me, this song comfortably straddles the worlds of pop and jazz, and evokes the dreamy escapism of being overcome with feelings of romantic love.

Hints & Tips: Although this piece is in C major (the easiest key to play in because there are no sharps or flats in its key signature), there are a lot of extra accidentals giving the music a bluesy feel. Watch out for these, circling them if necessary and marking in any extra cautionary accidentals that you might otherwise forget.

Bromberg, 2012-03-22 During early development every human being is exposed to the relative impact of relational trauma disconfirmation of aspects of oneself as having legitimate existence in the world of others in shaping both the capacity for spontaneous human relatedness and the relative vulnerability to adult onset trauma To one degree or another a wave of dysregulated affect a dissociated tsunami hits the immature mind and if left relationally unprocessed leaves a fearful shadow that weakens future ability to regulate affect in an interpersonal context and reduces the capacity to trust sometimes even experience authentic human discourse In his fascinating third book Philip Bromberg deepens his inquiry into the nature of what is therapeutic about the therapeutic relationship its capacity to move the psychoanalytic process along a path that bit by bit shrinks a patient's vulnerability to the pursuing shadow of affective destabilization while simultaneously increasing intersubjectivity What takes place along this path does not happen because this led to that but because the path is its own destination a joint achievement that underlies what is termed in the subtitle the growth of the relational mind Expanding the self state perspective of Standing in the Spaces 1998 and Awakening the Dreamer 2006 Bromberg explores what he holds to be the two nonlinear but interlocking rewards of successful treatment healing and growth The psychoanalytic relationship is illuminated not as a medium for treating an illness but as an opportunity for two human beings to live together in the affectively enacted shadow of the past allowing it to be cognitively symbolized by new cocreated experience that is processed by thought and language freeing the patient's natural capacity to feel trust and joy as part of an enduring regulatory stability that permits life to be lived with creativity love interpersonal spontaneity and a greater sense of meaning
