Lacroix,2008-12-02 Martin was only 7 years old when he arrived in Canada in 1892 with a contingent of young British orphans Not only did the young boy just lose his father but this death had brought about the dismantling of his whole family and when he emigrated to another country this enhanced his feeling of being a bird fallen from the nest His adoptive parents Mr and Mrs Samuel Vzina of Ste Genevieve de Batiscan were warm hearted and they did all they could to recreate for him a happy home which greatly helped the young immigrant to slip into his new life But so many obstacles strew his path First he had to learn French and then be accepted by his schoolmates some of whom considered the arrival of this newcomer as a threat And this was just the beginning Paris Salons, Cafés, Studios Sisley Huddleston,1928 Motion Picture Classic ,1915 The International Studio; an Illustrated Magazine of Fine and Applied Art ,1920 Animation in Asia and the Pacific John A. Lent,2001 Animation has had a global renaissance during the 1990s and nowhere is this more evident than in Asia With the exception of China and Japan most Asian nations are relatively new to this art form Over the last decade countries such as Taiwan South Korea the Philippines and Thailand as well as China have acted as major offshore production plants for North American and European studios One of the spurs for this increase in activity has been the global growth of terrestrial cable satellite and video systems all demanding large menus of programming including animation A second spur has been the exceptional popularity that Japanese anim has enjoyed across Asia Europe and the United States Despite these developments there has not been corresponding growth of a serious literature covering industrial and aesthetic issues about Asian animation and the small amount of work that has been produced has not been published in English Animation in Asia and the Pacific provides the first continent wide analysis delving into issues of production distribution exhibition aesthetics and regulation in this burgeoning field Animation in Asia and the Pacific also offers vignettes of the fascinating experiences of a group of animation pioneers The historical and contemporary perspectives derive from interviews textual analysis archival research and participation observation data The Nest-builder Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale,1916
