The New Albanian Migration:

The New Albanian Migration Russell King, Nicola Mai, Stephanie Schwandner-Sievers, 2013-09-01 This is the first major book on Albanian migration the most significant East West migration since the collapse of the Soviet bloc Prevented from leaving their country for over 45 years the citizens of the Republic of Albania emigrated en masse during the 1990s and the exodus continues According to the 2001 census one in five Albanians was a migrant living abroad mainly in Greece and Italy but also and increasingly in a range of other European countries and in North America The volume offers a comprehensive and integrated understanding of Albanian migration addressing its temporal and spatial dynamics its diversity of types and destinations and the implications of the migration for Albanian society and economic development Its contributors comprise key researchers on Albanian migration from around the world The book reflects the wide diversity of disciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches deployed by researchers studying this phenomenon Investigating Back Home: Return Migration and Business Ownership in Albania Talip Kilic, Out of Albania Russell King, Nicola Mai, 2008 Analysing the post 1990 Albanian migration to Italy this text is a study of one of Europe s newest most dramatic yet least understood migrations It explores the dynamics of this migration and takes a look at migrants employment housing and social exclusion in the country as well as the process of return migration to Albania Albania on the Move Julie Vullnetari, 2012 This academic and personal journey into Albania s post communist society examines the links between internal and international migration in one of Europe s poorest countries The author follows rural migrants to urban destination both within Albania and in neighboring Greece Their lives and experiences are captured in 150 interviews alongside group discussions and the ethnographic observations This rich empirical material is analysed with reference to an extensive body of literature The author s own experience as migrant and reflections as a researcher studying her own communities of origin add valuable insights The result is a demonstration of the complexity of the links between internal and international migration especially from a development perspective back cover 'My Name is Not Natasha' John Davies, 2009 This book challenges every common presumption that exists about the trafficking of women for the sex trade It is a detailed account of an entire population of trafficked Albanian women whose varied experiences including selling sex on the streets of France clearly demonstrate how much the present discourse about trafficked women is misplaced and inadequate The heterogeneity of the women involved and their relationships with various men is clearly presented as is the way women actively created a panoptical surveillance of themselves as a means of self policing There is no artificial divide between women who were deceived and abused and those who choose sex work in fact the book clearly shows how peripheral involvement in sex work was to the real agenda of the women involved Most of the women described in this book were not making economic decisions to escape desperate poverty nor were they the uneducated nave entrapped into sexual slavery The women s success in transiting trafficking to achieve their own goals without the assistance of any outside agency is a testimony to their resilience and resolve Rethinking Migration and Return in Southeastern Europe Eda Gemi, Anna Triandafyllidou, 2021-05-27 This book provides an important new analytical framework for making sense of return remigration and circular mobility conceptualising them as different phases of a wider migration process Using an in depth case study of Albania and its two main destination countries Italy and Greece the book demonstrates that instead of being viewed as a linear path between origin and destination migration should be seen as a segmented or cyclical pattern that may involve several localities and more than two countries Characterised by important previous historical social economic and political linkages geographical proximity but also high migration volatility and sustained flows in either directions Albanian migration to Italy and Greece offers an optimal case study for analysing complex return reintegration and mobility processes While interesting as a unique regional migration system the lessons learned cast light on important migration and mobility dynamics that are relevant for labour migration in Europe also from other important migrant origin countries in the EU s neighbourhood such as for instance Morocco or the Ukraine This rich theoretical and empirical study will be of interest to researchers within European Studies and Migration Studies as well as providing a useful contribution to policy debates on how to govern return migration reintegration and circular migration The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429344343> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Remittances, Gender and Development Russell King, Julie Vullnetari, 2011-07-30 Migration in the modern world rather than being seen as a symptom or result of underdevelopment is now understood more as a route towards development and a strategy for alleviating poverty This study of Albania is particularly significant in this new debate on migration and development as since the fall of communism remittances have been a major supporter of the Albanian economy sustaining many Albanian families especially in rural areas The authors thus focus on the socio cultural context of remittances and explore how gender emerges as a powerful facet in the processes of development It will therefore be of interest to scholars and students in Migration Studies Development Studies Gender Studies Geography and Anthropology as well as offering vital analysis for policy makers donors and civil society activists engaged in development planning and migration management

Migration in the Southern Balkans Hans Vermeulen, Martin Baldwin-Edwards, Riki van Boeschoten, 2015-06-01 This open access book collects ten essays that look at intra regional migration in the Southern Balkans from the late Ottoman period to the present It examines forced as well as voluntary migrations and places these movements within their historical context including ethnic cleansing population exchanges and demographic engineering in the service of nation building as well as more recent labor migration due to globalization Inside readers will find the work of international experts that cuts across national and disciplinary lines This cross cultural comparative approach fully captures the complexity of this highly fractured yet interconnected region Coverage explores the role of population exchanges in the process of nation building and irredentist policies in interwar Bulgaria the story of Thracian refugees and their organizations in Bulgaria the changing waves of migration from the Balkans to Turkey Albanian immigrants in Greece and the diminished importance of ethnic migration after the 1990s In addition the collection looks at such under researched aspects of migration as memory gender and religion The field of migration studies in the Southern Balkans is still fragmented along national and disciplinary lines Moreover the study of forced and voluntary migrations is often separate with few interconnections The essays collected in this book bring these different traditions together This complete portrait will help readers gain deep insight and better understanding into the diverse migration flows and intercultural exchanges that have occurred in the Southern Balkans in the last two centuries Remitting, Restoring and Building Contemporary Albania Nataša Gregorič Bon, Smoki

Musaraj, 2021-12-14 The edited collection is a fresh contribution to the anthropological sociological and geographical explorations of time space in Southeast Europe and Albania in particular By delving into various levels of people's daily lives such as literature relation to the environment the urbanization process art photography trauma and remembering processes of modernity the volume vividly portrays various realms that are lived and perceived It largely builds on the premise that structural resemblances of the past continuously reappear in particular social and cultural moments and seek to restore and build the individual and collective lives in contemporary Albania Emigration Nations M. Collyer, 2013-10-16 Some states have a long history of reaching out to citizens living in other countries but since 2000 it has become much more common for states to encourage loyalty from current or former citizens living abroad Using detailed case studies this book sets out to explain this significant development with an innovative new theoretical framework
