The New Divan:

The New Divan Edwin Morgan, 1977 Scotland's Harvest Richie McCaffery, 2023-07-24 This study is the first exploration of the impact of World War Two on Scottish poets of both the front line and the home front World War One has always been thought of as a poet's war one of horror and futility The poetry of World War Two by contrast has long languished in its shadow though there was a much greater amount of it written This book asks whether these poets felt they were grown for war or rather that they grew through war experience with an emphasis on the possibilities of the future instead of cataloguing the senseless horror of the battlefield How were the hopes of Scottish poets different from their English counterparts How was their poetry different and how did it impact on their later lives Aspects of Form and Genre in the Poetry of Edwin Morgan Rodney Edgecombe, 2009-03-26 Edwin Morgan was born in 1920 in Glasgow and studied at Glasgow University where he later taught literature He is much admired for his experimental writings his social poems as well as for the diversity of his output The present book comprises a chapter on Morgan's early vision poems which have received scant critical attention hitherto two on his hodoiporika The Cape of Good Hope and The New Divan a chapter on his deployment of the grotesque mode centred chiefly on the Instamatic Poems and The Whittrick another on his adaptations of the elegy in which Edgecombe propose a new genre called the thanasimon and finally an examination of his various monologic poems read in terms of his avowed enterprise of voicing the universe The study is topped by a prologue that sets out the consistency of Morgan's vision over time and tailed by an epilogue that connects his various critical pronouncements to his remarkably diverse output Poetry of the Second World War Tim Kendall, 2024-09-25 The Second World War is now recognized as a watershed for British poetry The changes that arose were masked for some time by the enormous power and shock of the conflict itself and by the restrictions on poetry publishing consequent on paper rationing and the general business of wartime This anthology seeks to showcase not only the harrowingly beautiful poetry born from the conflict but also the radical changes to style and form that came from the epoch and altered the face of British poetry Featuring generous selections of famous poets including Dylan Thomas T S Eliot and W H Auden alongside works by civilians and soldiers the collection offers a symphony of different voices all connected in their shared experience of the Second World War Tim Kendall's introduction charts the history of the war poets reception explaining their relationship with their First World War predecessors and some of the reasons why they have never managed to reach such a wide audience The work of each poet is prefaced with a biographical account which allows poems to be read in their historical context and every poem is annotated with date of composition publication history and a gloss of words and allusions The Furniture Trade Review and Interior Decorator, 1911 The Chess Amateur, 1912 St. Nicholas, 1902 St. Nicholas Mary Mapes Dodge, 1902 A Concise Companion to World Literature Ken Seigneurie, Paula Karger, 2025-12-22 Provides a student friendly introduction to World Literature Bridging the gap between introductory materials and advanced scholarly research
