The Nature Of Central Asia Through The Objective:

Nature of Central Asia through the objective ,1988 Central Asia Vladimir Fedorenko,2012 Recently there was a wave of celebration of the 20th anniversary of independence in all Central Asian states yet their nation building process is not complete and the perception of the national identity is still distorted By its nature national identity should bring people together and unite them around common values and goals in Central Asian states however national identity conceived on ethnic basis is a divisive force fragmenting people along the lines of ethnicity religion language birth place and social status After the collapse of the Soviet Union Central Asian republics Kazakhstan Turkmenistan Uzbekistan Tajikistan and Kyrgyzsta faced the difficult task of state and nation building Although every Central Asian nation had its own challenges determined by its geography ethnic and cultural composition availability of natural resources and other factors all of them faced same complexity that hindered the attaining of unity in those countries As a result of abrupt dissolution of the Soviet Union politically unstable economically weak and interdependent institutionally unprepared and socially disorientated Central Asian states were in a serious crisis In order to forge a new national identity the political elites in all five Central Asian states decided to implement a nation building policy based on ethnicity Ethnic nationalism was convenient and promising strategy capable of providing a sense of stability by uniting majority groups around the common and powerful link of ethnicity In order to increase people s attachment to these new national identities attractive myths regarding ethnic identities were created In all of the Central Asian countries the strategy of creating a national myth was similar It consisted of rewriting history in order to show a strong attachment of the majority group to the present geographical location of the country as well as of choosing a historical figure that boosted the national pride of the dominant ethnic group Consequently Uzbeks have been putting emphasis on being successors of the famous conqueror Tamerlane who established Timurid Empire Kyrgyz have been promoting the image of the mythical hero Manas and Tajiks have been rediscovering their history that was linked to the Samanid Empire ruled by Ismail Samani Kazakhs have been promoting nomadic culture and traditions and Turkmen have been focusing on the Turkmen spiritual leader Magtymguly Pyragy However an important barrier to the nation building process around single ethnicity is the fact that most Central Asian states are multiethnic and multicultural societies Thus while ethnic nationalism provides the majority group a sense of belonging to the nation minority ethnic groups in Central Asia do not easily embrace this new national identity and feel excluded from the nation building process Moreover majority ethnic groups also realize their dominance and often treat minorities unjustly This creates tension and conflicts among the different ethnic groups This paper addresses the question of how Central Asian societies can move away from divisive to inclusive form of nationalism Summary New Central Asia, The: The Regional Impact Of International Actors Emilian Kavalski,2010-01-15 This book focuses on Central Asia s place in world affairs and how international politics of state building has affected the Asian region thus filling the gaps in ongoing discussions on the rise of Asia in global governance It also attempts to generalize and contextualize the Central Asian experience and re evaluate its comparative relevance by explaining the complex dynamics of Central Asian politics through a detailed analysis of the effects of major international actors both international organizations as well as current and rising great powers From the Gulf to Central Asia Anoushiravan Ehteshami,1994 Religion hydro carbons transportation needs and ethnic relations with the Gulf states have been rediscovered by the new republics the study of which provides the basic subject matter for the book Political Organization in Central Asia and Azerbaijan Vladimir Babak, Demian Vaisman, Aryeh Wasserman, 2004-11-23 This work contains a selection of annotated documents including party platforms and declarations of the major political groupings in the Islamic republics of the former Soviet Union The book covers primarily the period from 1991 to 1994 which can be characterized as the first stage in the formation of a pluralistic society in these emerging states Two divergent trends of developments can be identified from the sources the first is a tendency toward the creation of independent states based on traditional models the other towards independent states with Western style democracies and pro Russian orientation

European Union Governance in Central Asia Agha Bayramov, Marek Neuman, 2024-12-09 The edited volume attempts to critically approach EU Central Asian relations asking whether when adopting a more sectoral governance approach the EU's transformative power vis vis the region is greater than initially argued and if so under what conditions it flourishes most It assesses whether through adopting a sectoral approach to the area of development infrastructure water management security climate change energy trade health education or any other element defining EU Central Asian relations the European Union is able to co shape this geopolitically strategic region If so what drives the EU's ability to do so if not what mitigates its potential influence This book contributes to the scholarship on the EU's external governance both empirically and theoretically Water Resource Management in Central Asia and Afghanistan Zheenbek E. Kulenbekov, Baktyiar D. Asanov, 2021-05-13 The book provides a cross sectoral multi scale assessment of development directed investigations in the main rivers of wider Central Asia and Afghanistan The book highlights the development of river systems water reservoirs ecosystems and risks as well as the impact of climate change on water resources in Central Asian countries and Afghanistan It provides information on the genesis of river basins physical and chemical properties of water in rivers and the hydrological regimes of the rivers of Central Asia and Afghanistan The book is useful for scientists and researchers whose work focuses on rivers and the use of water resources irrigation ecosystems risks water supply climate change and remote sensing as well as for students and planners administrations and other stakeholders in the water sector Falling Terrorism and Rising Conflicts Hooman Peimani, 2003-09-30 The Taliban's fall and the massive American military and political presence in South and West Asia have created grounds for a polarization into two camps India Iran and Russia to which China is affiliated and the United States and Pakistan In Peimani's analysis their incompatible interests will push them towards confrontations with regional and international implications Contrary to expectations the fall of the Taliban did not bring peace and stability to Afghanistan The Afghan interim government is simply too weak to act as a central government this results in the re emergence of warlords turf wars and the expansion of drug trafficking This unstable situation may well result in the emergence of Taliban like groups Added to this the threat of the spillover of instability from Afghanistan into neighboring regions on the one hand and the rapid expansion of American military and political power in Central Asia the Caucasus the Persian Gulf Afghanistan and Pakistan on the other have created fear among the regional powers The stated indefinite stay of American forces well after the end of the anti terrorist war in Afghanistan has worsened that fear as it reflected the American government s plan to pursue certain strategic interests unrelated to that war Consequently as Peimani shows the regional anti terrorist coalition has disintegrated in the absence of a common objective to help focus the region Fear of the long term American objectives and those of its Pakistani ally in South and West Asia incompatible with those of the regional powers have facilitated the creation of two camps consisting of Iran India and Russia to which China is affiliated and Pakistan and the United States Respectively these implicit and explicit camps are likely to collide over their regional interests especially in the strategically important energy producing Persian Gulf and Caspian Sea regions Central Asia in Transition: Dilemmas of Political and Economic Development Boris Z. Rumer, 2024-11-01 The economic political and geopolitical future of Central Asia has been subject to speculation since the region emerged from under the Soviet banner With contributions from Central Asian Russian US and Japanese experts this book gives an analysis of the issues and choices facing the region
