The Classic Fairytales Charles Way, 2017-07-05 Three timeless tales retold for the stage by one of the UK s most renowned writers of plays for children Charles Way Winner of the Writers Guild Best Children s Play Award his plays appeal to audiences of all ages and are translated into several languages and performed internationally Each of the three plays explores the journey from childhood to adulthood but each takes a specific angle Sleeping Beauty is driven by the notion of duality Everyone and everything in the play has a complimentary aspect King and Queen Castle and forest bright witch and dark witch etc Gryff half dragon half human is the physical embodiment of the idea of duality and is at war with himself This is both dramatic since it provides the conflict needed for the drama and thematically rich since it explores what all of us but more precisely children feel as they grow up Cinderella is a play about a journey from darkness to light from sickness to health Everyone in the play is under the influence of some kind of loss and the play explores these feelings and the sometimes painful route one must take to accommodate them and move on in life It s a moving and beautiful play that also manages to be tremendously funny and the introduction of Mozart as a character whose music charts the whole journey toward light and joy is a theatrical coup Where

Cinderella has music at its core Beauty and the Beast has dance This is a play about overcoming fear and the subconscious world is represented through imagery and movement The play begins with a startling dream sequence and then segues into the drawing room world of a Jane Austen novel before moving to the wilds of Dartmoor Throughout this journey one is never sure if the play is in dreamtime or not and Way connects this feeling to the very act of theatre itself As ever the themes are explored through dramatic action and the result in Beauty and the Beast is a script of rare brevity that allows actors and directors room to explore the profound nature of the story

Fashion, Dress and Identity in South Asian Diaspora Narratives Noemí Pereira-Ares, 2017-11-30 This book is the first book length study to explore the sartorial politics of identity in the literature of the South Asian diaspora in Britain Using fashion and dress as the main focus of analysis and linking them with a myriad of identity concerns the book takes the reader on a journey from the eighteenth century to the new millennium from early travel account by South Asian writers to contemporary British Asian fictions Besides sartorial readings of other key authors and texts the book provides an in depth exploration of Kamala Markandaya's The Nowhere Man 1972 Hanif Kureishi's The Buddha of Suburbia 1990 Meera Syal's Life Isn't All Ha Ha Hee Hee 1999 and Monica Ali's Brick Lane 2003 This work examines what an analysis of dress contributes to the interpretation of the featured texts their contexts and identity politics but it also considers what literature has added to past and present discussions on the South Asian dressed body in Britain Endowed with an interdisciplinary emphasis the book is of interest to students and academics in a variety of fields including literary criticism socio cultural studies and fashion theory

Bridges, Borders and Bodies Christine Vogt-William, 2014-10-02 South Asian diasporas can be considered transcultural legacies of colonialism while constituting transcultural forms of postcolonial reality in today's globalised world The main focus of investigation here is South Asian women's fiction where diverse forms of identity negotiation undertaken by the protagonists in a number of contemporary novels from the 1990s to the early 2000s are read as transgressions. The themes of early gendered experiences of South Asian indentured labour migration, female genealogies and transmissions of cultural heritages down female lines as well as negotiations of patriarchal violence are read using a framework culled from postcolonial and feminist criticism. The literary representations of South Asian diasporic female experience in these texts are forms of commentary and critique by contemporary South Asian diasporic women writers. Hence these novels can be viewed as feminist strategies of textual creativity with distinct political aims of presenting transformative narratives addressing the tensions of diaspora and patriarchy. This book is intended to contribute to the current spectrum of academic work being done in diaspora studies in that it brings together the concepts of diaspora, transculturality, contemporary women's writing and transnational feminist critical approaches to bear on South Asian women's diasporic literature. Contrary to the celebratory notion of the concept in much theory, transculturality as represented in these texts is fraught with ambivalence.

Black British Women's Theatre Nicola Abram, 2020-10-12. This book marks a significant methodological shift in studies of black British women's theatre; it looks beyond published plays to the wealth of material held in archives of various kinds, from national repositories and themed collections to individuals' personal papers. It finds there a cache of unpublished manuscripts and production recordings distinctive for their non-naturalistic aesthetics. Close analysis of selected works identifies this as an intersectional feminist creative practice. Chapters focus on five theatre companies and artists spanning several decades: Theatre of Black Women (1982-1988) co-founded by Booker Prize-winning writer Bernardine Evaristo; Munirah Theatre Company (1983-1991); Black Mime Theatre Women's Troop (1990-1992); Zindika and SuAndi. The book concludes by reflecting on the politics of representation with reference to popular postmillennial playwright Debbie Tucker Green. Drawing on new interviews with the playwrights, practitioners and their peers, this book assembles a rich, interconnected and occasionally corrective history of black British women's creativity. By reproducing 22 facsimile images of flyers, production programmes, photographs and other ephemera, Black British Women's Theatre Intersectionality Archives Aesthetics not only articulates a hidden history but allows its readers their own encounter with the fragile record of this vibrant past.

Acts of Passion Nina Rapi, Maya Chowdhry, 2014-06-03. The first volume to focus exclusively on lesbian performance work, Acts of Passion: Sexuality, Gender and Performance draws on the experiences and expertise of a wide range of lesbian practitioners and theorists to explore the impact and influences of sexuality and gender on performance. It examines essays, dialogues and performance texts from theater directors, performers, theorists, playwrights and performance writers against social and cultural constructs and performance theories to produce a diverse and challenging portrait of lesbian live performance art. The book's penetrating scope covers drag queens, lesbian vampires, representations of lesbian sex, solo artists, the art of collaboration, lesbian aesthetics and lesbian playwrights writing straight and illustrates why live performance is one of the most dynamic forums in which women can create control and produce their work without artistic constraint Acts of Passion explodes binary definitions of gender and sexuality by destabilizing familiar notions of the real and creating new production values and aesthetics in the process The relationships between experience and expression sexuality and cultural placing context and artistic control representation and self representation become clearer as the book discusses the manner in which women are represented as absent in the signifying system of patriarchal society how questions of purity authenticity and self definition complicate the field of representation the power of lesbian dance performance to make the lesbian body culturally visible several new wave performers creating work getting seen showing flesh doing politics and making money the projections preconceptions expectations and general baggage attached to the performing lesbian body what the term lesbian playwright means within contemporary culture It s Queer Up North a British National Arts Organization the arguments for and against mainstreaming lesbian performance Anyone interested in theater and performance cultural studies gender issues and the politics of positive representation whether playwright performer director writer academic student or theatre goer will find Acts of Passion a powerful step in wrenching the power of representation away from the dominant culture Defiant saucy sexy and smart the contributors appropriate their own spaces identities crafts and languages both within this book and without
