Christiane Brems,2008-03-19 Christiane Brems an experienced clinician supervisor and educator presents a metatheoretical yet practical guide to working with children ages 3 to 12 years She draws heavily on developmental interpersonal family systems and self psychological schools of thought and integrates the core components of all of these approaches in a clear and concise manner She stresses the need for intensive assessment to precede conceptualization and treatment planning so that treatment techniques are dictated by the needs of each child and family Brems has contoured the third edition to meet the practical needs and expectations of students and practitioners Divided among four sections the chapters follow the logical development of clinicians mirroring the natural flow of work with children from the practitioners self exploration to learning about special aspects of children such as diversity and development to awareness about the special needs and demands of children as related to environmental legal and ethical issues Brems prepares clinicians to discover their own personal traits that may facilitate or hinder their work with children She walks child therapists and counselors through the initial stages of intake assessment and conceptualization The material on assessment instruments is thoroughly updated discussions refer to the latest versions of instruments and if new instruments emerged that meet one of the purposes deemed essential to child treatment they are included The text contains case examples each illustrating a specific therapeutic technique The Open-air Boy George Mottram Andrews Hewett,1902 Whistler; Or, The Manly Boy Walter Aimwell,1870 A fourteen year old boy Whistler goes to his uncle s home for a summer vacation Traditions of the Arikara George Amos Dorsey,1904 The Whole Story Richard Rossner,1988 This is a selection of 12 short stories from 20th century English speaking writers including some from the USA New Zealand Africa and the Caribbean and including authors such as Hemingway Greene and Narayan
