magical transformation In Film and Fairy Tales Kristian Moen examines the role played by fairy tales in shaping cinema its culture and its discourse during its most formative years Well established by the feerie of the nineteenth century as popular entertainment and visual spectacle the wonders of mutability offered by fairy tale fantasies in the early films of Melies situated cinema itself as a realm of enchantment rife with enthralling and disturbing possibilities Through an analysis of early film theorists and a detailed case study of Tourneur s 1918 film The Blue Bird Moen shows how the spectacles and tropes of the fairy tale continued to shape ideas of cinema s place in modern life Stars like Mary Pickford and Marguerite Clark who not only played fantasy roles but presented their off screen personae in deliberately fantastic terms and the transformative claims of modernity expressed through visions such as Orientalist fairylands are analysed to show the extent to which fairy tales were used to negotiate different experiences of modernity the giddy adventures of social mobility consumer culture and identity transformation the threats and anxieties of cultural change impermanence and mutability Moen traces the evolution of the fairy tale in film to its self aestheticising peak in Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs alongside ironic allusions in films like Hitchcock s Rebecca and Howard Hawks Ball of Fire concluding with an examination of how fairy tale visions of fantastic transformation have seen a resurgence in contemporary cinema from Tim Burton to Harry Potter In the process he shows how cinema made fairy tales modern and fairy tales helped make cinema what it is today

General Extension Division Record , 1919 Love, Power, and Gender in Seventeenth-Century French Fairy Tales Bronwyn Reddan, 2020-12 Love is a key ingredient in the stereotypical fairy tale ending in which everyone lives happily ever after This romantic formula continues to influence contemporary ideas about love and marriage but it ignores the history of love as an emotion that shapes and is shaped by hierarchies of power including gender class education and social status This interdisciplinary study questions the idealization of love as the ultimate happy ending by showing how the conteuses the women writers who dominated the first French fairy tale vogue in the 1690s used the fairy tale genre to critique the power dynamics of courtship and marriage Their tales do not sit comfortably in the fairy tale canon as they explore the good the bad and the ugly effects of love and marriage on the lives of their heroines Bronwyn Reddan argues that the conteuses scripts for love emphasize the importance of gender in determining the right way to love in seventeenth century France Their version of fairy tale love is historical and contingent rather than universal and timeless This conversation about love compels revision of the happily ever after narrative and offers incisive commentary on the gendered scripts for the performance of love in courtship and marriage in seventeenth century France
