Voices From The Past, Armistice 1918 Paul Kendall,2017-02-28 At 11 00 hours on 11 November 1918 the guns fell silent across the battlefields of Europe After the deadliest conflict the world had ever seen peace had finally arrived Since the withdrawal from the Somme and the repulse at Verdun the Germans knew they could not win the war and had sought a negotiated end to the fighting This was rejected by the Allies and the fighting continued until almost two years later with its economy on the verge of collapse Germany had no choice but to accept defeat and seek terms for an armistice The story of the efforts to bring the war to a conclusion and those final days and hours of the First World War are told in the words of the politicians soldiers and newspaper columnists who were there at the time From the nervous anxiety of the men on the front line counting down the last few and in some cases still deadly minutes through to the wild celebrations around the world on Armistice Day renowned historian Paul Kendall relives some of the most emotional scenes ever witnessed through the eyes of those men and women that were there and had lived to see the end of the First World War

Death by Design Peter Beale,2016-07-22 At the outbreak of war in 1939 British tank crews were ill equipped under trained and badly led As a consequence the lives of hundreds of crewmen were wasted unnecessarily This was due not only to the poor design and construction of British tanks but also to the lack of thought and planning on the part of successive pre war governments and the War Office Death by Design explores how and why Britain went from leading the world in tank design at the end of the

First World War to lagging far behind the design quality of Russian and German tanks in the Second World War This book is a much needed warning to governments and military planners a nation must always be prepared to defend itself and ensure that its soldiers are equipped with the tools to do so The Torch We Throw: The Dundurn WWI Historical Library Brereton Greenhous, James McWilliams, R. James Steel, Kevin R. Shackleton, George H. Cassar, Bruce Cane, 2014-07-23 The giant conflagration of the First World War created the world we live in today and its history is replete with stirring battles mind boggling strategies and geopolitical manoeuvring However the real story was lived in the trenches of Europe and the lonely households of those left behind The stories of this period are full of tragedy anger and loss but also inspirational courage This special five book bundle presents some of these stories from brave Canadian contributions to the battlefields at Ypres and Amiens to the specific untold story of Canada's unheralded 58th Division to an analysis of the myth and legend of air ace Billy Bishop to the voice of one single soldier Deward Barnes told through his diary These books provide new and enlightening perspectives on the war Amiens Hell in Flanders Fields It Made you Think of Home The Making of Billy Bishop Second to None Amiens 1918 James McWilliams, R James Steel, 2016-07-11 On 8 August 1918 the Allied forces launched the surprise attack that heralded the end of the First World War With skill and daring 21 divisions of men breached the German lines supported by 500 tanks and 1 000 aircraft This book considers the successes and failures of both sides in this conflict Amiens James McWilliams, 2001-09-01 It was the decisive battle of World War I German commander Erich Ludendorff called it the black day of the German army Many authors have stated that it was the beginning of the end of the great conflict And yet until now no book has been published on the climactic battle at Amiens Amiens was one of the first modern battles and certainly the first attempted by the Allies Employing the troops of five nations including Canada and utilizing secrecy deception and combined operations the Allies won the first of a string of victories culminating in the Armistice one hundred days later Amiens Dawn of Victory is the first book to study the historic battle in minute detail Using eyewitness accounts from dozens of survivors plus many accounts both published and unpublished by the participants the authors take us into the trenches the tanks and the cockpits It Made You Think of Home Bruce Cane, George Frederick Barnes, 2004-08-01 We took our positions five kneeling and five standing we got the order to fire One blank and nine live rounds I did not have the blank That is the voice of Deward Barnes an unwilling but dutiful member of the firing squad that shot Harold Lodge one of 25 Canadians executed during the First World War In this diary we hear something that is otherwise gone forever the authentic voice of the First World War soldier Everyman in khaki Fully annotated so that everyone today can understand the nuance of each entry the Barnes diary takes us into the trenches and the firing lines of the Western Front like no other first hand Canadian account of that terrible war can Like any trained infantryman Deward could tell the kick of a live round from a blank one and that kick he bestows on us with each turn of the page The Tanks: 1939-1945 Sir Basil Henry Liddell Hart, 1959 Comprehensive history of British armored forces from their beginnings to the
