Tanu Women:

TANU Women Susan Geiger, 1997 Women's roles in TANU and the independence movement Women Out of Place Brackette Williams, 2013-12-02 These essays investigate the links between agency and race with regard to constructions of masculinity and femininity among radical groups resisting varied forms of political and economic domination Building on the work of anthropologists historians sociologists literary critics and feminist philosophers of science the essays in Women Out of Place the Gender of Agency and Race of Nationality investigate the links between agency and race for what they reveal about constructions of masculinity and femininity and patterns of domesticity among groups seeking to resist varied forms of political and economic domination through a subnational ideology of racial and cultural redemption African Women Kathleen Sheldon, 2017-04-24 African women's history is a topic as vast as the continent itself embracing an array of societies in over fifty countries with different geographies social customs religions and historical situations In African Women Early History to the 21st Century Kathleen Sheldon masterfully delivers a comprehensive study of this expansive story from before the time of records to the present day She provides rich background on descent systems and the roles of women in matrilineal and patrilineal systems Sheldon's work profiles elite women as well as those in leadership roles traders and market women religious women slave women women in resistance movements and women in politics and development The rich case studies and biographies in this thorough survey establish a grand narrative about women's roles in the history of Africa Readings in Gender in Africa Andrea Cornwall, 2005 This is a comprehensive overview on the existing literature on gender in Africa It covers areas such as Western perceptions colonial morality religion and politics Women in Twentieth-Century Africa Iris Berger, 2016-04-25 During a turbulent colonial and postcolonial century African women struggled to control their own marital sexual and economic lives and to gain a significant voice in local and national politics This book introduces many remarkable women who organized religious and political movements fought in anti colonial wars ran away to escape arranged marriages and during the 1990s began successful campaigns for gender parity in national legislatures The book also explores the apparent paradox in the conflicting images of African women as singularly oppressed and dominated by men but also as strong resourceful and willing to challenge governments and local traditions to protect themselves and their families Understanding the tension between women's power and their oppression between their strength and their vulnerability offers a new lens for understanding the relationship between the state and society in the twentieth century Traditions Can Be Changed Harald Barre, 2021-11-05 Whether and to what extent African states and societies have been able to break away from colonial impact is a still contentious issue Harald Barre considers newspapers and academic activism in Tanzania as forums in which the project of an independent African nation was shaped through heated debates Examining the changing discourses on race and gender in the 1960s and 1970s he reveals that equating difference with inequality in the national narrative was fiercely contested Pervasive images rooted in colonialism were thus challenged and in some cases fundamentally transformed by journalists students international scholars international events and the promise of an egalitarian socialist state

Women's Activism in Africa Balghis Badri,Aili Mari Tripp,2017-02-15 Throughout Africa growing numbers of women are coming together and making their voices heard mobilising around causes ranging from democracy and land rights to campaigns against domestic violence In Tanzania and Tunisia women have made major gains in their struggle for equal political rights and in Sierra Leone and Liberia women have been at the forefront of efforts to promote peace and reconciliation While some of these movements have been influenced by international feminism and external donors increasingly it is African women who are shaping the global struggle for women's rights Bringing together African authors who themselves are part of the activist groups this collection represents the only comprehensive and up to date overview of women's movements in contemporary Africa Drawing on case studies and fresh empirical material from across the continent the authors challenge the prevailing assumption that notions of women's rights have trickled down from the global north to the south showing instead that these movements have been shaped by above all the unique experiences and concerns of the local women involved

Women in African Colonial Histories Jean Allman,Susan Geiger,Nakanyike Musisi,2002-04-01 How did African women negotiate the complex political economic and social forces of colonialism in their daily lives How did they make meaningful lives for themselves in a world that challenged fundamental notions of work sexuality marriage motherhood and family By considering the lives of ordinary African women farmers queen mothers midwives urban dwellers migrants and political leaders in the context of particular colonial conditions at specific places and times Women in African Colonial Histories challenges the notion of a homogeneous African women's experience While recognizing the inherent violence and brutality of the colonial encounter the essays in this lively volume show that African women were not simply the hapless victims of European political rule Innovative use of primary sources including life histories oral narratives court cases newspapers colonial archives and physical evidence attests that African women's experiences defy static representation Readers at all levels will find this an important contribution to ongoing debates in African women's history and African colonial history

Making Worlds Susan Hardy Aiken,Ann Brigham,Sallie A. Marston,Penny M. Waterstone,2022-02-08 Making Worlds brings together thirty one distinguished feminist activists artists and scholars to address a series of questions that resonate with increasing urgency in our current global environment How is space imagined represented arranged and distributed What are the lived consequences of these configurations And how are these questions affected by gender and other socially constructed categories of difference race ethnicity sexuality class nationality How are the symbolic formations of place and space marked by cultural ideologies that carry across into the places and spaces we inhabit the boundaries and institutions we maintain In recent years these questions have occasioned intensifying debates but they have seldom extended beyond the boundaries of individual academic disciplines or crossed the divide that has traditionally separated the academy from the outside world Making Worlds both questions and traverses those divisions by combining personal essays activist political rhetoric oral history poetry iconography and performance art with interdisciplinary academic discourses Representing a wide range of perspectives Making Worlds develops a provocative conversation about gender and spatiality in the interwoven symbolic and material environments we create The contributors engage such issues as the body as site of symbolic action fabrication and desire the place and play of sexualities the cultural implications of everyday life home travel work childbirth food disease and death technology and mass media surveillance confinement and the law the dynamics of race and ethnicity imperialism oppression and resistance the politics of urban spaces landscape and cultural memory the experience of time and the nature of Nature For students and scholars in cultural studies geography literary criticism anthropology history and women s studies it offers new ways of thinking about space place and the spatial contexts of social thought and action Gender Justice and the Law Elaine Wood,2020-11-16

Gender Justice and the Law presents a collection of essays that examines how gender as a category of identity must continually be understood in relation to how structures of inequality define and shape its meaning It asks how notions of justice shape gender identity and whether the legal justice system itself privileges notions of gender or is itself gendered Shaped by politics and policy Gender Justice essays contribute to understanding how theoretical practices of intersectionality relate to structures of inequality and relations formed as a result of their interaction Given its theme the collection s essays examine theoretical practices of intersectional identity at the nexus of gender and justice that might also relate to issues of sexuality race class age and ability The Female King of Colonial Nigeria Nwando Achebe,2011-02-21 While providing critical perspectives on women gender sex and sexuality and the colonial encounter she considers how it was possible for this woman to take on the office and responsibilities of a traditionally male role African Socialism in Postcolonial Tanzania Priya Lal,2015-12-01 Drawing on a wide range of oral and written sources this book tells the story of Tanzania s socialist experiment the ujamaa villagization initiative of 1967 75 Inaugurated shortly after independence ujamaa familyhood in Swahili both invoked established socialist themes and departed from the existing global repertoire of development policy seeking to reorganize the Tanzanian countryside into communal villages to achieve national development Priya Lal investigates how Tanzanian leaders and rural people creatively envisioned ujamaa and documents how villagization unfolded on the ground without affixing the project to a trajectory of inevitable failure By forging an empirically rich and conceptually nuanced account of ujamaa African Socialism in Postcolonial Tanzania restores a sense of possibility and process to the early years of African independence refines prevailing theories of nation building and development and expands our understanding of the 1960s and 70s world Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Iris Berger,E. Frances White,1999 These four volumes in this major series provide a single source reference to the status of the field of women s history and to ways that the field can be expanded A basic set for all academic libraries Library Journal Academic Newswire Berger and White focus on Sub Saharan Africa tracing women s history from earliest times to the present By exploring their place in social economic political and religious life the authors highlight the changing societal position of women through shifts over time in ideas about gender and the connections between women's public and private spheres African Women Catherine Coquery-vidrovitch, 2018-10-08 Over the last century the social and economic roles played by African women have evolved dramatically Long confined to home and field overlooked by their menfolk and missionaries alike African women worked thought dreamed and struggled They migrated to the cities invented new jobs and activated the so called informal economy to become Africa's economic and social focal point As a result despite their lack of education and relatively low status women are now Africa's best hope for the future This sweeping and innovative book is the first to reconstruct the full history of women in sub Saharan Africa Tracing the lot of African women from the eve of the colonial period to the present Catherine Coquery Vidrovitch explores the stages and forms of women's collective roles as well as their individual emancipation through revolts urban migrations economic impacts social claims political strength and creativity Comparing case studies drawn from throughout the region she sheds light on issues ranging from gender to economy politics society and culture Utilizing an impressive array of sources she highlights broad general patterns without overlooking crucial local variations With its breadth of coverage and clear analysis of complex questions this book is destined to become a standard text for scholars and students alike Women's Contributions to Development in West Africa Kelly Ann Krawczyk, Bridgett A.

King, 2023-02-28 This book examines women's participation in social economic and political development in West Africa The book looks at women from the premise of being active agents in the development processes within their communities thereby subverting the dominate narrative of women as passive recipients of development The Political Thought of African Independence Gregory R. Smulewicz-Zucker, 2017-09-01 The Political Thought of African Independence An Anthology of Sources brilliantly frames the debates that captivated the world as former European colonies in Africa began their transition to sovereign rule in the 1950s and 60s Its wealth of key documents are enhanced by Gregory Smulewicz Zucker's General Introduction part introductions headnotes and annotations providing needed contextual information and supports for readers

The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Politics Georgina Waylen, Karen Celis, Johanna Kantola, S. Laurel Weldon, 2013-02-12 As a field of scholarship gender and politics has exploded over the last fifty years and is now global institutionalized and ever expanding The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Politics brings to political science an accessible and comprehensive overview of the key contributions of gender scholars to the study of politics and shows how these contributions produce a richer understanding of politics and societies Like the field it represents the handbook has a broad understanding of what counts as political and is based on a notion of gender that highlights masculinities as well as femininities thereby moving feminist debates in politics beyond the focus on women It engages with some of the key aspects of political science as well as important themes in gender and feminist research such as sexuality and body politics thereby forging a dialogue between gender studies in politics and mainstream political science The handbook is organized in sections that look at sexuality and body politics political economy civil society participation representation and policymaking institutions states and governance as well as nation citizenship and identity The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Politics contains and reflects the best scholarship in its field Gendering Ethnicity in African Women's Lives Jan Bender Shetler, 2015-05-05 The elegists ancient Rome's most introspective poets filled their works with vivid first person accounts of dreams Emma Scioli examines these varied and visually striking textual dreamscapes arguing that the poets exploited dynamics of visual representation to share with readers the intensely personal experience of dreaming The Temne of Sierra Leone Joseph J. Bangura, 2017-11-09 Much of the research and study of the formation of Sierra Leone focuses almost exclusively on the role of the so called Creoles or descendants of ex slaves from Europe North America Jamaica and Africa living in the colony In this book Joseph J Bangura cuts through this typical narrative surrounding the making of the British colony and instead offers a fresh look at the role of the often overlooked indigenous Temne speakers Bangura explores however the socio economic formation establishment and evolution of Freetown from the perspective of different Temne speaking groups including market women religious figures and community leaders and the complex relationships developed in the process Examining key issues such as the politics of belonging African agency and the creation of national identities Bangura offers an account of Sierra Leone that sheds new perspectives on the social history of the colony Independent Africa Emmanuel Kwaku Akyeampong, 2023-07-18 Independent Africa explores Africa's political economy in the first two full decades of independence through the joint projects of nation building economic development and international relations Drawing on the political careers of four heads of states Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana Ahmed S kou Tour of Guinea L opold S dar Senghor and Julius Kambarage Nyerere of Tanzania Independent Africa engages four major themes what does it mean to construct an African nation state and what should an African nation state look like how does one grow a tropical economy emerging from European colonialism how to explore an indigenous model of economic development a third way in the context of a Cold War that had divided the world into two camps and how to leverage internal resources and external opportunities to diversify agricultural economies and industrialize Combining aspects of history economics and political science Independent Africa examines the important connections between the first generation of African leaders and the shared ideas that informed their endeavors at nation building and worldmaking
