Histories from an Emerging African Metropolis James R. Brennan,Andrew Burton,Yusufu Qwaray Lawi,2007 From its modest beginnings in the 1860s Dar es Salaam has grown to become one of Africa s most important urban centres A major political economic and cultural hub the city has also acted as a crucible of local social and cultural innovation exerting a powerful influence on wider Tanzanian society Reflecting important contemporary socio economic trends of urban Africa it has recently attracted the attention of a diverse range of scholars from several disciplines This collection draws on the best of this scholarship Book Jacket Africa Under Colonial Domination 1880-1935 Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa,1985 Africa was partitioned and colonized by the Europeans After military conquest came the commercial exploitation of the wealth of

Africa The intensity of resistance to colonization varied from one region to another but a new economic and social system linked with colonization was put in place bringing about unprecedented demographic and political change Publisher's description Memories of German Colonialism in Tanzania Reginald Elias Kirey, 2023-08-21 German colonial history in today Tanzania Mainland is extensively documented but it has not been studied from its memory perspective despite it being widely remembered among the Tanzanians This book documents German colonial memories as shared cultural legacy that exists in forms of monuments archives and historical sites It also presents them as trans generational memory narratives that live in people's memories that are also commemorated in different ways like erection of war monuments The book analyzes memories of colonialism from the historical perspective showing how the collective memories like monuments and commemorations have undergone structural and institutional changes over time The study uses Michael Rothberg's multi directional theory together with other theoretical approaches to analyze various forms of German colonial memories in Tanzanian context The findings which are analyzed historically indicate that the collective memories of the Germans are cultural communicative commemorative functional and topographical They are also traumatic as well as nostalgic The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography Thula Simpson, Immanuel R. Harisch, 2025-05-09 The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography explores history's fortunes in Modern Africa south of the Sahara from the discipline's Golden Age as a handmaiden in struggles against colonialism to difficult decades when its survival has been threatened by capricious political and economic conditions and the uncertain present where the continent's historians struggle to justify their value to frequently sceptical publics In exploring the discipline's practical role in past struggles for African emancipation the volume speaks directly to these challenging but changing circumstances The chapters feature contributions from leading experts on historiographical traditions of different regions of the continent They collectively demonstrate how the process of instrumentalizing the past to advance lay struggles has influenced the choices historians have made regarding sources methodology interpretation audiences and platforms This practical application has strongly shaped the diverse forms that African historiography has assumed as reflected in this book The themes discussed offer a platform for inserting Africa into comparative studies of global historiographical traditions whilst also contributing to contemporary debates on decolonization In offering accessible insights from leading historians this is an essential handbook for students and scholars of African history and historiography as well as all those interested in postcolonial studies

Ecological Imperialism, Development, and the Capitalist World-System Mariko Lin Frame, 2022-10-13 Two major trends are currently challenging the sustainability of human civilization extreme inequality and the ecological crisis This book argues that these are intrinsically linked by further exploring the complex relationships between global ecological crises neoliberal globalization orthodox development policies and imperialism Drawn from extensive theoretical historical policy and empirical research as well as fieldwork in Africa and Asia this book examines the crucial characteristics of the capitalist world system and how it enables and drives ecological imperialism Neoliberal globalization has allowed for capital's unfettered access to and exploitation of Nature across the planet and neoliberal development policies have reinforced a contemporary form of ecological imperialism where the environments of the Global South are enclosed and exploited and local communities are dispossessed of their land and livelihoods Simultaneously resources from the Global South are funneled to the Global North in the form of consumer goods and ecologically unequal exchange while the profits from those resources are siphoned away to transnational corporations financiers and government elites This work traces the historical development of free market policies while also paying special attention to the role of Northern international financial institutions emerging economies the semi periphery and the often hidden role of international finance in ecological imperialism This volume will be of keen interest to scholars and students of political economy critical development studies environmental sociology and political ecology

Lethal Aid Severine Mushambampale Rugumamu,1997 Despite massive infusions of financial and technical assistance from the northern hemisphere Africa is worse off today economically societally and environmentally than it was 30 years ago But were economic development poverty alleviation and democracy ever actually the objectives of either donor or recipient states in the first place To what extent was the limitless potential of the self reliance strategy foreclosed by the corrupting power of foreign aid As much as military power propaganda or diplomacy aid is realistically and essentially one of the economic instruments of statecraft and as such has historically been used as a policy tool for various attempts at influence While policies and strategies on both sides of the aid process may give primacy of place to development actual practice almost invariably reveals the opposite as donor and recipient alike employ aid resources to pursue their respective national class or even regime interests Through the Tanzanian experience of Big Brother's helping hand the author examines the true role of foreign aid in the development process and exposes certain widely held myths about that role

A New History of Tanzania N. Kimambo,H. Maddox,2017-12-29 Tanzania the land and the people have been subject of a great deal of historical research but there remains no readily accessible and concise history of the country. The aim of this volume is to fill that void. A New History of Tanzania takes its name from a lecture series introduced at the University of Dar es Salaam by Professor Isaria Kimambo in 2002. Prior to that a book titled A History of Tanzania had been published in 1969 by East African Publishing House in Nairobi for the Tanzania Historical Association. That book is currently out of print and this is not a reprint. In this book Prof Kimambo has been joined by two other colleagues Prof Gregory H Maddox of Texas Southern University Houston USA and Salvatory S Nyanto a Tanzanian Lecturer at the University of Dar es Salaam and a Ph D candidate at the University of Iowa USA together they have produced an outline history of Tanzania that covers all important aspects from antiquity to the present that is different from and richer than its predecessor. Sources from the fields of archaeology anthropology biology genetics and oral tradition have been used to produce this excellent book.

From Dar es Salaam to Bongoland Bernard Calas, 2010-11-01. The name Dar es Salaam comes from the Arabic phrase meaning house of peace. A popular but erroneous translation is haven of peace resulting from a mix up of the Arabic words dar house and bandar harbour. Named in 1867 by the Sultan of Zanzibar the town has for a long time benefitted from a reputation of being a place of tranquility. The tropical drowsiness is a comfort to the socialist poverty and under equipment that causes an unending anxiety to reign over the town. Today for the Tanzanian the town has become Bongoland that is a place where survival is a matter of cunning and intelligence. Bongo means brain in Kiswahili. Far from being an anecdote this slide into toponymy records the mutations that affect the links that Tanzanians maintain with their principal city and the manner in which it represents them. This book takes into account the changes by departing from the hypothesis that they reveal a process of territorialisation. What are the processes envisaged as spatial investments which by producing exclusivity demarcations and exclusions fragment the urban space and its social fabric? Do the practices and discussions of the urban dwellers construct limited spaces appropriated identified and managed by communities in other words territories? Dar es Salaam is often described as a diversified relatively homogenous and integrating place. However is it not more appropriate to describe it as fragmented? As territorialisation can only occur through frequenting management and localised investment it is therefore through certain places: first shelter and residential area then the school daladala station the fire hydrant and the quay that the town is observed. This led to broach the question in the geographical sense of urban policy carried out since German colonisation to date. At the same time the analysis of these developments allows for an evaluation of the role of the urban crisis and the responses it brings. In sum the aim of this approach is to measure the impact of the uniqueness of the place on the current changes. On one hand this is linked to its long term insertion in the Swahili civilisation and on the other to its colonisation by Germany and later Britain and finally to the singularity of the post colonial path. This latter is marked by an alternation of Ujamaa with Structural Adjustment Plans applied since 1987. How does this remarkable political culture take part in the emerging city today? This book is a translation of De Dar es Salaam Bongoland Mutations urbaines en
