Taschenbuch Des Films:

Nazi Propaganda Films Rolf Giesen, 2015-09-11 Hitler and the Nazis saturated their country with many types of propaganda to convince the German citizenry that the Nazi ideology was the only ideology. One type of propaganda that the Nazis relied on heavily was cinematic. This work focuses on Nazi propaganda feature films and feature length documentaries made in Germany between 1933 and 1945 and released to the public. Some of them were Staatsauftragsfilme films produced by order of and financed by the Third Reich. The films are arranged by subject and then alphabetically and complete cast and production credits are provided for each. Short biographies of actors, directors, producers, and other who were involved in the making of Nazi propaganda films are also provided.

The Routledge Handbook of German Language Teaching Ruth Whittle, 2024-09-16 The Routledge Handbook of German Language Teaching evaluates and addresses multifaceted multilevel needs of students and teachers within teaching German as a foreign as well as a second language through taking a transcultural approach. Each contribution starts with the author situating themselves in the geographical and institutional context in which they teach as well as the way in which they teach for example in person or online. This acknowledges the Handbook's internationally widespread contributors from countries with different histories in terms of cultural linguistic and educational diversity more generally and the teaching of German in particular. The chapters reflect their voices and consider language learners as people who have their own identities. Material such as plays poems short literary texts rap singing and drawing are discussed in this book as being influential for language learners from beginner level and beyond. This book proposes that learning happens by both the teachers and the learners going on a journey and both changing the outlook on each other and themselves along that journey. Alongside this questions are asked with respect to curricula and the relation between speaking German and belonging in a German speaking country. This Handbook will primarily appeal to teachers and instructors of German as well as those training to become German language instructors. Moreover the book will appeal to researchers interested in the linguistic and theoretical aspects of German language teaching.

Performative Figures of Queer Masculinity Christiane König, 2022-09-15 This is a German history of cinema and film from the 1890s to 1945 with a focus on queer masculinity. Using media studies approaches the study shows how film as a new medium is constituted through performative re enactments of spectacular elements from the entertainment and knowledge cultures of the 19th century. In it bodies desires and identities are constantly remodelled through the formation of difference. Therefore male queerness here does not mean the representation of male homosexuality. Rather it is the dynamic result of complex medial processes affects and self knowledge on and off the screen. Building on Eve

K Sedgwick's queer feminist concept of queer performativity the author creates a historically situated model with which she traces various figures of technically anthropomorphic queer masculinity in the medium of film in an empowering sense This book is a translation of an original German 1st edition Performative Figuren queerer Männlichkeit by Christiane K nig published by J B Metzler imprint of Springer Verlag GmbH Germany part of Springer Nature in 2020 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL com The author with the friendly support of Megan Hanson has subsequently revised the text further in an endeavour to refine the work stylistically Springer Nature works continuously to further the development of tools for the production of books and on the related technologies to support authors

Pathos and Anti-Pathos Tom Vanassche, 2022-12-31. Scholarship often presumes that texts written about the Shoah either by those directly involved in it or those writing its history must always bear witness to the affective aftermath of the event, the lingering emotional effects of suffering. Drawing on the History of Emotions and on trauma theory, this monograph offers a critical study of the ambivalent attributions and expressions of emotion and emotionlessness in the literature and historiography of the Shoah. It addresses three phenomena: the metaphorical discourses by which emotionality and the purported lack thereof are attributed to victims and to perpetrators; the rhetoric of affective self control and of affective distancing in fiction, testimony and historiography; and the poetics of empathy and the status of emotionality in discourses on the Shoah. Through a close analysis of a broad corpus centred around the work of W. G. Sebald, Dieter Schlesak, Ruth Kluger and Raul Hilberg, the book critically contextualises emotionality and its attributions in the post-war era when a scepticism of pathos coincided with demands for factual rigidity. Ultimately, it invites the reader to reflect on their own affective stances towards history and its commemoration in the twenty-first century.

List of Documents and Publications in the Field of Mass Communication Unesco, 1980.

Gender and Sexuality in Weimar Modernity R. McCormick, 2002-02-22. Richard McCormick takes a fresh look at the crisis of gender in Weimar Germany through the analysis of selected cultural texts, both literary and film, characterized under the label New Objectivity. The New Objectivity was characterized by a sober and unsentimental embrace of urban modernity in contrast to Expressionism's horror of technology and belief in auratic art. This movement was profoundly gendered: the epitome of the New Objectivity was the New Woman, working sexually emancipated and unsentimental. The book traces the crisis of gender identities, both male and female, and reveals how a variety of narratives of the time displaced an assortment of social anxieties onto sexual relations.
