Eifert, 1965-06-01      Far Horizon Tony Park, 2017-08-01 Far Horizon by Tony Park the author of Red Earth is a full throttle international thriller that will engross fans of Clive Cussler Mike Williams is leading a supposedly carefree life as an overland tour guide in Africa But just a year ago the former Australian Army officer had endured the brutal death of his girlfriend at the hands of ivory hunters in Mozambique Now the South African Police are on the murderers trail and need Mike s help But he has a truckload of tourists who have no idea what has been asked of him although one passenger has her suspicions Following a chase through some of Africa s most spectacular locations Mike gets his shot at revenge but at what cost      A Far Horizon Meira Chand, 2020-05-15 Calcutta 1756 In Indian Black Town the luminously beautiful Sati is believed to be possessed by the goddess Kali and finds herself at the centre of a religious cult In British White Town Chief Magistrate Holwell and Governor Drake come together to face a common enemy Siraj Uddaulah the volatile young nawab in Murshidabad When the nawab finally descends upon Calcutta with a huge army it s too late for those British residents who have not fled the city in time Locked into Fort William with a large number of the Black Town population these British prisoners spend a night of horror that would become legend of the history of the Raj Lushly written and richly evocative A Far Horizon is a sweeping chronicle of the notorious incident of the Black Hole of Calcutta that would later be used to justify the British empire s colonisation of India      The Far Horizon Lucas Malet, 1907      Empire of the Senses , 2017-11-01 Empire of the Senses brings together pathbreaking scholarship on the role the five senses played in early America With perspectives from across the hemisphere exploring individual senses and multi sensory frameworks the volume explores how sensory perception helped frame cultural encounters colonial knowledge and political relationships From early French interpretations of intercultural touch to English plans to restructure the scent of Jamaica these essays elucidate different ways the expansion of rival European empires across the Americas involved a vast interconnected range of sensory experiences and practices Empire of the Senses offers a new comparative perspective on the way European imperialism was constructed operated implemented and sometimes counteracted by rich and complex new sensory frameworks in the diverse contexts of early America This book has been listed on the Books of Note section on the website of Sensory Studies which is dedicated to highlighting the top books in sensory studies www.sensorystudies.org/books-of-note      Nature's Return Mark Kinzer, 2017-06-15 From exploitation to preservation the complex history of one of the Southeast s most important natural areas and South Carolina s only national park Located at the confluence of the Congaree and Wateree Rivers in central South Carolina Congaree National Park protects the nation s largest intact expanse of old growth bottomland hardwood forest Modern visitors to the park enjoy a pristine landscape that seems ancient and untouched by human hands but in truth its history is far different In Nature s Return Mark Kinzer examines the successive waves of inhabitants visitors and landowners of this region by synthesizing information from property and census records studies of forest succession tree ring analyses slave narratives and historical news accounts Established in 1976 Congaree National Park contains within its boundaries nearly twenty seven thousand acres of protected uplands floodplains and swamps Once exploited by humans for farming cattle grazing plantation agriculture and logging the park area is now used gently for recreation and conservation Although the impact of farming grazing and logging in the park was far less extensive than in other river swamps across the Southeast it is still evident to those who know where to look Cultivated in corn and cotton during the nineteenth century the land became the site of extensive logging operations soon after the Civil War a practice that continued intermittently into the late twentieth century From burning canebrakes to clearing fields and logging trees inhabitants of the lower Congaree valley have modified the floodplain environment both to ensure their survival and over time to generate wealth In this they behaved no differently than people living along other major rivers in the South Atlantic Coastal Plain Today Congaree National Park is a forest of vast flats and winding sloughs where champion trees dot the landscape Indeed its history of human use and conservation make it a valuable laboratory for the study not only of flora and fauna but also of anthropology and modern history As the impact of human disturbance fades the Congaree s stature as one of the most important natural areas in the eastern United States only continues to grow

The Fatal Flaw Jerry Garlough, 2012-12-13 Does it not seem strange that these patrons of truth have no actual base for the truth they espouse Should not these champions of reason offer some plausible foundation for the rational thought they employ Who can but doubt these adversaries of God who cannot even account for the moral sense by which they denounce Him What shall we say of masters of science who would deprive science of the undergirding of truth and reason These are not lords of their own domain as they might suppose They are squatters on a land belonging to another mere pretenders plagiarizers of values not their own Like the Prodigal Son they have taken the resources bequeathed by a loving Father and squandered them in futile meanderings No one should take these men as seriously as they take themselves They are not reaching for the far horizon line Rather they are trapped in their tiny cramped valley called physicality and have chosen to ignore every other doorway to reality They are not men reaching for the stars They are rather like those who wade through muck and mire stirring up more as they go

The Sin of Abbé Mouret Émile Zola, 2017-05-04 I really don't understand how people can blame a priest so much when he strays from the path The Sin of Abbé Mouret tells the compelling story of the young priest Serge Mouret Striving after spiritual purity and sanctity he lives a life of constant prayer but his neglect of all physical needs leads to serious illness followed by amnesia No longer knowing he is a priest he falls in love with his nurse Albine Together like a latter day Adam and Eve they roam through an Eden like garden called the Paradou seeking a forbidden tree in whose shade they will make love Zola memorably shows their gradual awakening to sexuality and his poetic descriptions of the luxuriant and beautiful Paradou create a lyrical celebration of Nature When Serge regains his memory and recalls his priestly vows anguish inevitably follows The whole story with its numerous biblical parallels becomes a poetic reworking of the Fall of Man and a questioning of the very meaning of innocence and sin Zola explores the conflict between Church and Nature the sterility of the Church and the fertility of Nature
