Linn, 1979 Lang, Geoffrey Hay, 2008-08-09 This book brings together a collection of invited interdisciplinary persp tives on the recent topic of Object based Image Analysis OBIA Its c st tent is based on select papers from the 1 OBIA International Conference held in Salzburg in July 2006 and is enriched by several invited chapters All submissions have passed through a blind peer review process resulting in what we believe is a timely volume of the highest scientific theoretical and technical standards The concept of OBIA first gained widespread interest within the GIScience Geographic Information Science community circa 2000 with the advent of the first commercial software for what was then termed obje oriented image analysis However it is widely agreed that OBIA builds on older segmentation edge detection and classification concepts that have been used in remote sensing image analysis for several decades Nevert less its emergence has provided a new critical bridge to spatial concepts applied in multiscale landscape analysis Geographic Information Systems GIS and the synergy between image objects and their radiometric char teristics and analyses in Earth Observation data EO The Traprock Landscapes of New England Peter M. This volume is aimed at geoscientists interested in Precambriansedimentary rocks and at students of Earth history It contains review articles discussing Precambrian conditions and case studiesfrom Precambrian shields and successions of North and SouthAmerica Australia Africa Europe Asia and India Theintroductory papers written by experts on Precambrianenvironments treat comprehensively the application of actualism to the Precambrian the evolution and influence of life on these dimentary rock record the genesis of Banded Iron Formations the Precambrian sulphur cycle and the significance of Precambrian chemical carbonate precipitates The case studies includedepositional settings and processes in Archean terranes in Paleoproterozoic sequences with some emphasis on the lack ofvegetation and weathering and in late Proterozoic sequences withsome emphasis on glacial deposits The contributions demonstrate that Precambrian sedimentary deposits are commonly similar to their Phanerozoic counterparts in terms of composition sedimentary processes and depositional setting but may differ significantly as a result of lack of vegetation climatic and biological constraints composition and circulation of seawater and these cular involvement of continental crust Contains review articles discussing Precambrian conditions and case studies from Precambrian shields and successions of North and South America Australia Africa Europe Asia and India The introductory papers written by experts on Precambrian environments treat comprehensively the application of actualism to the Precambrian the evolution and influence of life on these dimentary rock record the genesis of Banded Iron Formations the Precambrian sulphur cycle and the significance of Precambrianchemical carbonate precipitates Detailed case studies include depositional settings and processes in Archean terranes in Paleoproterozoic sequences with some emphasis on the lack of vegetation and weathering and in lateProterozoic sequences with some emphasis on glacialdeposits Written for geoscientists interested in Precambrian sedimentaryrocks and students of Earth history If you are a member of the International Association of Sedimentologists IAS for purchasing details please see http www iasnet org publications details asp code SP33 White River National Forest (N.F.), Snowmass Ski Area ,1994 Risk Analysis XI S.
