Tambaran An Encounter With Cultures In D:

Art and Creativity in a New Guinea Society Ross Bowden, 2022-07-26 The Kwoma the subject of this book are one of a number of peoples in the Sepik River region of northern Papua New Guinea who have created some of the most distinctive visual art in the Pacific Through case studies of their painting sculpture architecture and ritual this book examines in detail how people in this society understand their art as a cultural phenomenon This includes how they understand its origins in the spirit world how they judge quality in art and how they understand artistic creativity The book contrasts Kwoma beliefs with the radically different approach to art found in the modern West The modern Western concept of art first emerged not in the eighteenth century in the Enlightenment or even later as anthropologists and art historians often assume but several centuries earlier in the Renaissance The book gives an account of radical changes that took place culturally in Europe between the twelfth and sixteenth centuries in the way human intellectual creativity was understood and how this gave rise to a new concept of art one that remains unchanged in the modern West today Growing Artefacts, Displaying

Relationships Ludovic Coupaye, 2013-08-01 What gives artefacts their power and beauty This ethnographic study of the decorated long yams made by the Nyamikum Abelam in Papua New Guinea examines how these artefacts acquire their specific properties through processes that mobilise and recruit diverse entities substances and domains All come together to form the finished product that is displayed representing what could be an indigenous form of non verbal sociology Engaging with several contemporary anthropological topics material culture techniques arts aesthetics rituals botany cosmology Melanesian ethnography the text also discusses in depth the complex position of the study of technology within anthropology

Creative Land James Leach, 2004 What is creative in kinship How are people connected to places James Leach answers these questions through formulating creativity as an integral part of kinship on the north coast of Papua New Guinea The book contains a new critique of the genealogical model of kinship suggesting that this model prevents us from grasping the way generative relations including those to land and place constitute persons on the Rai Coast Analytic attention is focused upon the life cycle marriage exchange and artistic production as the activities in which substantial connection is generated The argument made in relation to detailed ethnography yields a fresh perspective on the connections people trace to each other University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963

Authenticity and Authorship in Pacific Island Encounters Jeannette Mageo, Bruce Knauff, 2021-04-01 The insular Pacific is a region saturated with great cultural diversity and poignant memories of colonial and Christian intrusion Considering authenticity and authorship in the area this book looks at how these ideas have manifested themselves in Pacific peoples and cultures Through six rich complementary case studies a theoretical introduction and a critical afterword this volume explores authenticity and authorship as traveling concepts The book reveals diverse and surprising outcomes which shed light on how Pacific identity has changed from the past to the present General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum.
