Charles Anderson, 2000-05-01 Too many divers and snorkelers pass their time in a daze swimming blindly from one big object to the next They miss out on the myriad beautiful and fascinating small creatures that are there on show for anyone who takes the time to look The marine life of Indonesia is second to none in terms of both the number of species and diversity of forms There are more species of fish coral and more of almost all marine life groups present in Indonesian waters than in any other country Here is a colorful and scintillating introduction to an astounding array of marine life that will arouse the interest of marine enthusiasts divers and snorkelers alike The guide includes more than 250 magnificent color photographs that explore the wonderous underwater world of the Indonesian archipelago essential information on the marine life of the Archipelago from corals to marine reptiles sea snails to lobsters bottomhuggers to pufferfishes starfish to sea slugs a comprehensive marine life section that will help readers identify each particular species and its habitat Tempo Dulu Annick M. Doeff, 2012-02-16 This book is a diary of the events in Indonesia at the beginning of World War II as seen through the eyes of a nine year old Dutch girl It describes events not much talked or studied about when dealing with WWII There are many stories and studies that deal with the German concentration camps and the Holocaust in Europe This is a story of the other concentration camps across the Far East and specifically the occupation by the Japanese of the Dutch East Indies The author describes her experiences leading up to her incarceration in some of these concentration camps as well as her relationships with her family and friends The period covered is between 1941 and 1945 It is a moving story akin to The Diary of Anne Frank that took place in Holland but in this case the story is set in the Dutch East Indies It is remarkable in its vivid description of the events and in the sharpness of her memories that took place some sixty years ago Small Sacrifices Anne Schiller, 1997-05-22 This is an ethnographic study of the Ngaju Dyaks rain forest dwellers of the remote interior region of Central Kalimantan Indonesian Borneo Like many indigenous peoples the

Ngaju have lately been affected by exposure to world religions technological advances and myriad external factors involving their growing incorporation into the rapidly expanding state system Schiller demonstrates that their responses to these pressures are most clearly seen in the religious sphere and involve the recasting and reinterpreting of their indigenous religion She focuses particularly on the changing form and content of tiwah an elaborate ritual of secondary burial with multiple and diverse meanings for Hindu Kaharingan Ngaju as well as for those who have converted to Islam or Christianity
