Tao And The Daimon Segments Of A Religious Inquiry:

The Tao and the Daimon Robert C. Neville, 1982-01-01 The Tao and the Daimon examines a central theme in religious studies the question of the authority and authenticity of traditional religious faith and practice tao in light of the challenge from the spirit of critical reason Socrates daimon From a non judgmental historical standpoint it develops the dialectical relation between religion and rational inquiry Neville employs a philosophical system to set a task for reflection making it possible to see how Eastern and Western religious traditions differ overlap contradict and reinforce one another The central chapters are detailed studies of theologically interesting elements in Christianity Buddhism taoism and Neoconfucianism How can one judge of the higher truths of another religion without having practiced it Can the tao and the daimon after all be reconciled purely in the conceptual realm of speculative philosophy Neville recognizes the very real differences between conceptualizing and practicing and the very real differences in understanding that can result At the same time he transcends the problem by identifying and exemplifying in his own work speculative philosophy as a tao in itself a new locus of religious significance our own scholarly interpretation new creations of the holy out of practiced scholarly piety toward the old The Tao and the Daimon Robert Cummings Neville, 1983-06-30 The Tao and the Daimon examines a central theme in religious studies the question of the authority and authenticity of traditional religious faith and practice tao in light of the challenge from the spirit of critical reason Socrates daimon From a non judgmental historical standpoint it develops the dialectical relation between religion and rational inquiry Neville employs a philosophical system to set a task for reflection making it possible to see how Eastern and Western religious traditions differ overlap contradict and reinforce one another The central chapters are detailed studies of theologically interesting elements in Christianity Buddhism taoism and Neoconfucianism How can one judge of the higher truths of another religion without having practiced it Can the tao and the daimon after all be reconciled purely in the conceptual realm of speculative philosophy Neville recognizes the very real differences between conceptualizing and practicing and the very real differences in understanding that can result At the same time he transcends the problem by identifying and exemplifying in his own work speculative philosophy as a tao in itself a new locus of religious significance our own scholarly interpretation new creations of the holy out of practiced scholarly piety toward the old

SCM Core Text: Christian Approaches to Other Faiths Paul Hedges, 2013-02-11 The textbook begins with a chapter on exclusivism inclusivism particularity and pluralism and one on interfaith Each chapter explains the history rationale and workings of the various approaches Moreover each is divided into sub sections dealing with various forms of each approach so that each may be appreciated in its individuality i e the chapter on Inclusivism will include sections on fulfilment theology anonymous Christians etc The second part of this textbook deals with attitudes towards different faiths considering the problems and relations that exist with Christian approaches to each It will deal with the world s major faiths as well as primal religions and new religious movements The introduction and conclusion will deal with some central themes that run throughout in particular the questions of the Trinity and concepts of salvation In each section reference will be made to the key texts discussed in the Reader which accompanies this 9780334041155 however the work may be read as a stand alone text Triangulating Religion, Belief, and Faith in the Twenty-First Century Bradford McCall,2025-01-16 This book gives the reader the ability to make new inroads to understanding how faith belief and religion not only differ but also how they can contribute to comparative theology These three topics broadly covered herein can heighten the understanding of the Sacred by those who study them As to a few preliminaries what is faith Further what is belief Which one comes first in a person s journey toward the Sacred Moreover does religion factor into these two terms and if so where and how Does Augustine s well worn line faith seeking understanding mean anything today If it does would it mean belief comes prior to faith and or religion One can argue both sides of this debate and still be considered orthodox seemingly Perhaps it is the case that belief precedes faith most of the time but not all of the time Perhaps it is the other way around What exactly is the demarcation between belief and faith Many a person believes a thing to be true in their very bones such a stance borders on what is commonly referred to as faith Is religion the combination of belief and faith together into a coherent system of thought or is it emergent from the two existing as a separate mental or spiritual entity Explore these questions and more The Cosmic Breath Amos Yong,2012-05-10 Recent thinking in the interfaith dialogue and in the theology science dialogue have taken a pneumatological turn The Cosmic Breath explores this pneumatological theology as unfolded in the Christian Buddhist dialogue alongside critical interaction with the theology and science conversation As an attempt in comparative and constructive Christian philosophical theology its central thesis is that a pneumatological approach to Buddhist traditions in further dialogue with modern science generates new philosophical resources that invigorate Christian thinking about the natural world and humanity s place in it The result is a transformation of the Buddhist Christian dialogue from insights generated in the theology and science interface and a contribution to the religion and science dialogue from a comparative theological and philosophical perspective Methodologies of Comparative Philosophy Robert W. Smid,2010-07-02 What is comparative philosophy This question is ultimately a methodological one according to this much needed book The cultivation of area studies in diverse traditions has opened up opportunities for cross cultural understanding that have rarely existed before and comparative philosophy is a rapidly emerging area of inquiry Yet surprisingly little has been written on comparative methodology in philosophy Of course there is much at stake in how we compare things how comparison is done determines what comparison is Author Robert W Smid provides a critical review of four of the most influential comparative methodologies within the American pragmatist and process philosophical traditions those of William Ernest Hocking F S C Northrop Robert Cummings Neville and David L Hall in collaboration with Roger T Ames Discussing the history of each methodology s development and critically assessing its strengths and weaknesses Smid demonstrates that it is possible to compare methods as well as traditions and encourages those interested to join the contemporary conversation Theology in Global Context Amos Yong, Peter G. Heltzel, 2016-10-06 Robert Cummings Neville has been a consistent advocate for the necessity of global theology Early in his career he realized that the philosophical framework of the West alone was inadequate for a truly global theology Since then he has sought to develop theology creatively and responsibly within the world context The original essays in this volume written in his honour by fellow theologians participate in and model the kind of dialogical global theology embodied in Neville's work C.S. Peirce and the Nested Continua Model of Religious Interpretation Gary Slater, 2015 This study develops resources in the work of Charles S Peirce 1839-1914 for the purposes of contemporary philosophy It contextualizes Peirce's prevailing influences and provides greater context in relation to the currents of nineteenth century thought Dr Gary Slater articulates a nested continua model for theological interpretation which is indebted to Peirce's creation of Existential Graphs a system of diagrams designed to provide visual representation of the process of human reasoning He investigates how the model can be applied by looking at recent debates in historiography He deals respectively with Peter Ochs and Robert C Neville as contemporary manifestations of Peircean philosophical theology This work concludes with an assessment of the model's theological implications Bibliography on East Asian Religion and Philosophy, 2001 This comprehensive research bibliography compiles, annotates, indexes and cross-references resources in the principal Western languages which focus on China, Japan and Korea in the areas of philosophy and religious studies supporting resources in theology, history, culture and related social sciences A notable additional feature is the inclusion of extensive Internet-based resources such as a wide variety of web sites, discussion lists, electronic texts, virtual libraries, online journals and related material The Divine Matrix Joseph A. Bracken, 2006-03-29 Dialogue among religions has always been challenging Today the questions are becoming more fundamental: are the various traditions—Buddhist, Christian, Hindu, Tao—even talking about the same thing when they speak of Nature of God, Emptiness or Brahman? The Divine Matrix represents a bold scholarly attempt to provide a framework for discussing these and other questions that will keep the interreligious dialogue project from grinding to a halt In The Divine Matrix philosopher and theologian Joseph Bracken first names the idea that the Infinite is the transcendent source and goal of human activity to be the notion common to virtually all the major world religions He suggests that the Infinite is prototypically experienced not as an entity but as an ongoing activity, the principle of activity for all beings God included This idea is consistent with the notion of eternal and continuous motion in Aristotle with the act of being, actus essendi, in the theology of Thomas Aquinas and Meister Eckhart and with the ground of being of Schelling and Heidegger as well as with Whitehead's definition of creativity Bracken goes on to show that this idea is implicit in descriptions of Brahman in the Hindu Upanishads, in the experience of pratyakṣa samutpada dependent co-arising in classical Buddhism and in descriptions of the Tao in Tao Te Ching and Chuang Tzu The Divine Matrix proposes that the Infinite thus identified be understood as a nondual reality, an activity that does not exist in itself but only in the entities which it thereby empowers to exist This Bracken argues becomes the key to understanding ultimate reality within the different world religions Participation and the Mystery Jorge N. Ferrer, 2017-04-12 Participation and the Mystery is both an introduction to and expansion of Jorge N Ferrer's groundbreaking work on participatory spirituality which holds that human beings are active cocreators of spiritual phenomena worlds and even ultimates After examining the impact of his work since the publication of Revisioning Transpersonal Theory Ferrer discusses the relationship between science and transpersonal psychology the nature of a fully embodied spirituality and the features of integral spiritual practice The book also introduces a participatory philosophy of education and applies it to the academic teaching of mysticism and a novel approach to embodied spiritual inquiry Critically engaging the influential work of Stanislov Grof Ken Wilber and A H Almaas Ferrer concludes with an original solution to the problem of religious pluralism that affirms the ontological richness of religious worlds while avoiding the extremes of perennialism and contextualism offering a hopeful vision for the future of world religion Participation and the Mystery is an invaluable resource to anyone seeking to deepen their understanding of participatory approaches to transpersonal psychology integral and contemplative education contemporary spirituality and religious studies All Under Heaven John H. Berthrong, 1994-03-22 This book is a study of comparative philosophy and theology The themes are the critical issues arising from the modern interpretation of Confucian doctrine as they confront the Christian beliefs of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Discerning the Spirit(s) Amos Yong, 2019-03-08 Efforts to construct a Christian theology of religions have inevitably stumbled on the Christian scandal of particularity the historical Jesus of Nazareth What however if we began by focusing on the universal presence and activity of God in the world as symbolized by the Holy Spirit Yong develops just such a pneumatological approach to religions drawing by way of resource on the Pentecostal charismatic experience of the Spirit This book thus invites Pentecostals charismatics and other Christians to conceive of how a pneumatological approach to religions can invigorate the wider ecumenical conversation At the same time it also brings recent Pentecostal charismatic scholarship into dialogue with a broader audience including those interested in philosophical theology world religions global spiritualities and comparative religion and theology An Imaginative Glimpse Joas Adiprasetya, 2013-08-21 In contrast to the popular notion that the doctrine of the Trinity hinders Christians from engaging with the reality of religious diversity this book argues that the doctrine is the best way of constructing contemporary theology of religions An Imaginative Glimpse reexamines three prominent Trinitarian theologians of religions Raimundo Panikkar Gavin D Costa and S Mark Heim and proposes a fresh and creative model by bringing the classical idea of perichoresis to its present day multifaith situation Opening a new alternative in both Trinitarian theology and theology of religions Adiprasetya's approach adds a distinctive contribution to the ongoing and challenging discussion in both fields By using perichoresis imaginatively as a multidimensional category for multiple religious participations within the Trinity Adiprasetya argues that the model is able to respect all religions on their own terms while at the same time being faithful to the Christian standpoint God and Passion in Kierkegaard's Climacus Johannes Corrodi Katzenstein, 2007

Johannes Corrodi Katzenstein offers a contribution to the current debate on Kierkegaard mostly concerning the rationality of religious belief and the presumed religious neutrality autonomy of philosophical and scientific thought More specifically his book is an attempt to relate Kierkegaard s theory of the stages of life aesthetic ethical religious to issues that have been of utmost concern to Anglo American analytical philosophy such as the nature of truth rational knowledge objectivity etc From this angle Kierkegaard turns out to be not the irrationalist he has often been made into but rather the outspoken witness of a passion that guides all thinking i e the passion to think what cannot be thought An attempt is made to show that for Kierkegaard anticipating some of the arguments of contemporary postsecular philosophy the ideal of pure or autonomous reason inevitably has its basis in a pre rational often tacit commitment to an origin whose primary home is in religious faith Rather than precluding dialogue awareness of these deeper forces and starting points of our various philosophical and scientific outlooks is a critical requirement for mutual understanding between secularist and religious perspectives and traditions competing for cultural and political dominance Ultimates Robert Cummings Neville,2013-10-01 A new theology of ultimate realities and a new theory of religion to back it up addressed to believers unbelievers and scholars of all traditions

Teaching Mysticism William B. Parsons,2011-12-16 The term mysticism has never been consistently defined or employed either in religious traditions or in academic discourse The essays in this volume offer ways of defining what mysticism is as well as methods for grappling with its complexity in a classroom Ernst Troeltsch and Comparative Theology Echol Lee Nix,2010 Ernst Troeltsch and Comparative Theology examines the methodological attempts of Ernst Troeltsch and Robert Neville for discerning Christian normativity The investigation of Troeltsch focuses on his treatment of the absoluteness of Christianity and highlights the crisis brought upon absolute religious claims by the study of the history of religions By rejecting both the supernatural exclusive apologetic of orthodox Protestantism and the evolutionary apologetic of liberal Protestantism Troeltsch insists that theology s method should be the history of religions method die religionsgeschichtliche Methode Like Troeltsch Neville agrees with historical inquiries but contrary to Troeltsch Neville advances an axiological hypothesis to thinking which is founded in valuation Neville explains the role of valuation at the imaginative level of thinking and relates it to his theory of normative truth in religious symbols This study shows that Neville begins with Troeltsch s methodological presuppositions but achieves more normative theology than Troeltsch especially on ways in which God is engaged in symbolically shaped thinking and practice Both thinkers offer creative insights for theology that make possible a critical comparison of truth claims regarding the validity of Christianity in and for a historically conscious age Religions View Religions ,2006-01-01 Because religion is so central to the lives and experience of the vast majority of people throughout the world it figures very prominently in a variety of ways in interhuman relations Unfortunately religion often appears to be one of the potent sources of mistrust discord and strife between and among individuals groups and cultures What frequently lies at the root of such suspicion and dissension is general ignorance concerning the religious other a lack of knowledge about his or her beliefs aspirations and views of the good and morally honorable life And even if people have some factual knowledge about other religions they regularly display little understanding of them and their adherents Learning both to know and understand people of other faiths and their religions is absolutely requisite to the realization of paradigms of coherent and intelligent convivance that is living together in sensible peaceable and cooperative harmony An effective agency for fostering such knowledge and understanding is the discipline of theology of religions which examines how religions have and ought to view other religions And it is particularly the practice of comparative theology of religions which bears the most promise in this regard The present symposium consists of precisely this kind of comparative exercise and may be viewed as an important contribution to the development of a new project which endeavors to enlarge the horizon and broaden the focus and reflection of theology of religions as that has been gradually developed during the last few decades a new enterprise in other words which seeks to universalize and mutualize theology of religions discourse One of the important things this volume shows is that the views religions have of other religions differ from one another in very substantial ways which is explained by the fact that they derive from diverging paradigms of faith belief and ritual and specific cultural and social contexts This textbook demonstrates how strongly different Hindu Buddhist Shinto and Confucian views are from those of Islam Judaism and Christianity which latter in turn also exhibit considerable differences among themselves These differences are greater than people immersed in their own cultures often realize or expect It is becoming ever more clear that ignorance of or disinclination to acknowledge or refusal to accept these real differences constitute major root causes of serious conflicts in the world The essays in this book written by representatives of the major world religions offer descriptive and or prescriptive appraisals of other religions in general or one other religion in particular from the perspective of the religion of the author concerned It is hoped that this unique exercise in intercultural theology of religions will generate insights and new forms of understanding which can be used by religious leaders and other educators to help correct the disposition toward religious haughtiness insularity and communalism and the dangerous leanings toward interreligious suspicion antipathy and animosity which are all too often evident in our contemporary societies

The Good Is One, Its Manifestations Many Robert Cummings Neville, 2016-09-30 Building on his long standing work in metaphysics and Asian philosophy Robert Cummings Neville presents a series of essays that cumulatively articulate a contemporary progressive Confucian position as a global philosophy Through analysis of the metaphysical and moral traditions of Confucianism Neville brings these traditions into the twenty first century According to Confucianism rituals define most of our relations with other individuals social institutions and nature and while rituals make possible the positive institutions of high human civilization they may also lead to harmful behaviors including racism xenophobia and sexism Neville argues that the amendment of rituals that institutionalize oppression is a positive task which should be undertaken from within a skillfully ritualized life rather than in the form of external criticism Confucianism in Neville s hands is a left wing progressive liberal political philosophy one that can address institutionalized oppression and suggest a path for moving forward
