Social Structure And Rural Development In The Third World:

Social Structure and Rural Development in the Third World Guy Berger, 1992-10-22 An analysis of the relationship between Third World farmers and the international economy Rural Development in South Korea William W. Boyer, 1991 After considering the problem of decentralizing rural development in South Korea generally the authors analyze the proliferation period from 1970 to 1979 of Seemaul Undong South Korea s so called New Community Movement which was an attempt to achieve an integrated rural development program The final chapter suggests directions for South Korea and draws implications for development elsewhere A Geography of the Third World C.G Clarke, Dr J P Dickenson, J.P Dickenson, W.T.S Gould, S Mather, Sandra Mather, Prof R Mansell Prothero, R.M Prothero, D.J Siddle, C.T Smith, Mr C T Smith, E. Thomas-Hope, 2013-04-15 The label of Third World covers half the land surface and three quarters of the population of the planet The problems and potential of this region and its peoples are attracting increasing concern and interest Fully revised and updated this edition includes a wealth of photographic and line illustrations boxed case studies chapter summaries guides to further reading Issues of increasing concern at the end of the twentieth century are fully addressed for example the widening gap in economic performance between countries in the Third world and the assertion of national cultures in the face of globalisation New material on gender issues and the environmental impact of development has been included

Social Capital and Rural Development in the Knowledge Society Hans Westlund, Kiyoshi Kobayashi, 2013-01-01 This book by Westlund and Kobayashi emphasises the fact that the gap between urban and rural areas is no longer relevant today all places and regions are under a strong influence from cities The authors show in a straightforward way that the continuum between more and less urbanized places requires new types of regulations based on innovation and local skills and that rural policies cannot be based on agriculture only but primarily require the mobilization of local social capital links Andr Torre INRA Agroparistech Paris France Rural communities are not all resource dependent and very low density places Not all have people leaving in droves and no newcomers This book s theoretical arguments and case studies from five countries help one understand better the diversity of rural We find population gainers population losers newcomers and long term stayers together in sizable towns Aboriginal communities where out migration is limited The diversity is a key dimension in the analyses of public and private action to build and maintain social capital Roger E Bolton Williams College US This amazingly surprising book takes the popular topic of social capital and provocatively examines the contemporary rural development issue New social capital driven thinking and insights are applied globally from a conceptual frame and locally with examples The way forward for both urban and rural development is achieved when the variables that define social capital are simultaneously balanced around focused development objectives Examples show how a multidimensional view of social capital enables meaningful rural development Roger R Stough George Mason University US Social capital is often considered a key factor for local development This book analyzes the role of social capital for rural areas survival and development in the current age of metropolitan growth an era in which urban is the norm and where rural areas must adapt to this new situation and build innovative urban rural relations The traditional division between rural and urban is no longer valid in the knowledge society Instead of being a homogeneous unit based on primary sector production the countryside in the developed world increasingly consists of areas with very different development paths With examples from Europe Asia and America the book discusses building and renewal of rural social capital from both bottom up and top down perspectives and from the standpoint of business and both the public and private sectors Being the first book to treat social capital and rural development in the age of megacities and the knowledge economy it will be of great benefit to academics interested in social capital research and rural development

The Geography of the Third World Michael Pacione, 2012-08-06 First published in 1988 this reissue presents a comprehensive overview of contemporary developments and research into the geography of the Third World at a time when economies and societies there were changing at a much more rapid rate than their counterparts in the developing world It covers the topic both systematically and by region showing how the unique background of each region affects developments there

Urban Development and New Towns in the Third World Alain R.A. Jacquemin, 2019-01-22 First published in 1999 this volume examines India and Bombay countries which represent some of the world's most dramatic examples of rapid urban growth One of the strategies frequently adopted by the Indian authorities to cope with this urban growth is the development of new towns such as New Bombay which is India's largest and most significant urban planning experience since Independence The New Bombay model based on a specific planning and financing strategy is considered highly successful and so is increasingly being copied and implemented in other urban areas of India This volume makes the first independent evaluation of New Bombay and sets it in a wider Third World urban development context As well as analysing the processes of physical and economic growth the volume also examines the process of social development and in particular the consequences of this planning concept for the urban poor

Latin American Peasants Tom Brass, 2004-08-02 The essays in this collection examine agrarian transformation in Latin America and the role in this of peasants with particular reference to Bolivia Peru Chile Brazil and Central America Among the issues covered are the impact of globalization and neo liberal economic policies

Health and Health Care in Developing Countries Peter Conrad, Eugene B. Gallagher, 2011 The volume covers a range of areas central Africa Nigeria Singapore Taiwan Indonesia Nepal China United Arab Emirates Oman and Mexico and a broad scope of topics from emergency care the AIDS epidemic and women's health care to public health programs and national health care policies Contributors address the central question of whether health systems in developing areas should emphasize the role of clinical medicine and individual physicians or community and preventive medical resources The major health problems faced by these societies inadequate sanitation infectious disease high infant child mortality and a lack of family planning indicate the greater need for health educators and public health workers despite many poor nations desire for Western doctors Other topics that are examined include the process of seeking medical aid the relationship between traditional and modern medicines medical education hospital care and communication between doctors and patients in developing countries and the relevance and application of sociology in Third World settings This volume seeks to draw attention to the significance of medical sociology for understanding Third World health problems and to show how examining developing societies may necessitate reframing or modifying some Western sociological notions

Social Capital and Local Development Elena Pisani, Giorgio Franceschetti, Laura Secco, Asimina Christoforou, 2017-10-27 This book addresses the role of social capital in promoting rural and local development The recent financial and economic crises have exposed the European Union EU to an increased risk of social exclusion and poverty which are now at the heart of its economic employment and social agenda with explicit reference to rural and marginal areas Europe 2020 The authors work from the notion that rural development is not imposed from the outside but depends also on endogenous factors namely local cultural and ecological amenities eco system services and economic links with urban areas which expand rural opportunities for innovation competitiveness employment and sustainable development Social capital is of paramount importance because it helps build networks and trusting relations among local stakeholders in the public and private spheres and supporting the enhancement of governance of natural resources in rural areas

Entrepreneurship Networks in Italy Antonia Rosa Gurrieri, Marilene Lorizio, Annamaria Stramaglia, 2013-11-22 In light of the recent dynamics of the recession sparked by the global economic crisis a roadmap for the growth and recovery of national economies is urgently needed As such this book focuses on the potential offered not only by the manufacturing sector but also by the agricultural and tertiary sectors In fact during the crisis these sectors demonstrated remarkable resilience in the Italian economy and there have even been positive trends in specific segments This book points out how an exit strategy could be applied that involves all economic sectors and which can be replicated in various national economies

Participation, Development and Social Structure Bazlul M. Karim, 1994-04-26 M Bazlul Karim surveys the problems and prospects of participatory development involving the primarily rural poor in developing countries The case study focuses exclusively on Bangladesh with considerable emphasis on theoretical and comparative analysis as well The author uses Weberian notion of social stratification as the theoretical guidance in examining the nature of inequalities in wealth status and power These stratification variables are examined in depth in regard to various types of participation participation in development programs social participation and political participation

Economic Reforms and Fertility Behaviour Weiguo Zhang, 2013-12-19 Based on an intensive fieldwork in a southern Hebei village in northern China 1992-3 the author takes an institutional approach and focuses on the way deliberate Chinese state policies driven by new economic and social agendas since the late 1970s have impacted on marriage family relations and consequently on the way fertility trends have been adversely affected the study is also very much concerned with the human dimension and the way in which such social and economic changes are perceived and applied in a rural community The research presented in this study goes a long way to unravelling the puzzle concerning the reasons for a very rapid decline in Chinese fertility rates contrasting sharply with a very different fertility transition within western cultures

Routledge Handbook of Asian Demography Zhongwei Zhao, Adrian C. Hayes, 2017-12-14 Home to close to 60 per cent of the world's population Asia is the largest and by far the most populous continent It is also extremely diverse physically and culturally Asian countries and regions have their own distinctive histories cultural traditions religious beliefs and political systems and they have often pursued different routes to development Asian populations also present a striking array of demographic characteristics and stages of demographic transition This handbook is the first to provide a comprehensive study of population change across the whole of Asia Comprising 28 chapters by more than 40 international experts this handbook examines demographic transitions on the continent their considerable variations their causes and consequences and their relationships with a wide range of social economic political and cultural processes Major topics covered include population studies and sources of demographic data historical demography family planning and fertility decline sex preferences mortality changes causes of death HIV AIDS population distribution and migration urbanization marriage and family human capital and labour force population ageing demographic dividends political demography population and environment and Asia's demographic future This handbook provides an authoritative and comprehensive reference for researchers policymakers academics students and anyone who is interested in population change in Asia and the world

Rethinking Sustainability Jonathan Mark Harris, 2009-11-12 Bringing together the thoughts of economists political scientists anthropologists philosophers and agricultural policy professionals this volume focuses on the issues of sustainability in development Examining such topics as international trade political power gender roles legal institutions and agricultural research the contributors focus on the missing links in theory and practice that have been barriers to the achievement of truly sustainable development Any theory of sustainable development must take into account economic social and environmental dimensions Until recently the question What is development was often answered predominantly from the economist s perspective with high priority being assigned to expansion of economic output Social political institutional and ethical aspects have often been neglected But now that sustainable development has become a broadly accepted concept it is impossible to maintain a narrowly economic view of development For this reason the varied perspectives offered by the contributors to this volume are crucial to understanding the process of development as it relates to environmental sustainability and human well being The selection of articles is meant to be stimulating and provocative rather than comprehensive They are roughly divided between those dealing with broad theoretical issues concerning the economic political and social aspects of development Part I and those presenting more applied analysis Part II The common thread is a concern for examining which factors contribute to making development socially just and environmentally sound Rethinking Sustainability will be of interest to economists and social scientists development professionals and instructors seeking to offer their students a broad perspective on development issues Jonathan Harris is Senior Research Associate Global Development and Environment Institute at Tufts University as well as Adjunct Associate Professor of International Economics at Tufts University Fletcher School of Law
