Practice and Research Ian F. Shaw, 2016-12-05 Practice and Research is an overview of Professor Ian Shaw's analysis of the complexity and challenges of the practice research relationship in social work, a theme that has been the focus of much of his writing over his career. Introduced with a new essay that reflects on the serendipity, misfires and occasional patterns in his work, the book is grouped into five sections. It covers the following themes, each of which is fully contextualized: Perspectives on Social Work Research, Evaluation, Qualitative Social Work Research, Practice and Research, The Receiving End, Service Users and Research. This book has much to say about the relationship between social work practice and research and is a must read for any social work student or practitioner. Master the Civil Service Exams Peterson's, 2013-05-07 Master the Civil Service Exams offers complete test preparation for the written exam so you can pursue a government job. Math, verbal and clerical exercises plus four full length practice tests build skills and confidence while experts in the field provide an inside scoop on how to become a first rate job candidate. You will also find up to date information on the civil service job market and projected areas of growth. Professional Discretion in Welfare Services Tony Evans, 2016-04-15 Discretion has re-emerged as an issue of central importance for welfare professionals over the last two decades in the face of an intensification of management culture across the public sector. This book presents an innovative framework for the analysis of discretion, offering three accounts of the managerial role: the domination model, the street level model and the author's alternative discursive perspective. These different regimes of discretion are examined through a case study within a social services department, comparing and contrasting social work discretion in an Older Persons Team and a Mental Health

Team This innovative theoretical and empirical analysis will be of great interest to postgraduate students and researchers in social work and related disciplines including social policy public administration and organizational studies as well as professionals in social work health and education
