Himalayan Glaciers, Climate Change and Society R. K. Ganjoo, M. N. Koul, 2025-01-20 This book provides detailed information on the Northwestern Himalayas in India. The scientific data compiled in the book is based on more than two decades of field and laboratory studies by the authors. The Ladakh region is a well known cold desert with unique geological and climatic setting. The influence of Westerlies in the region has played significant role in the Ladakh region to behave much differently than rest of the Himalaya. The Karakorum Anomaly has been a key factor in negating the effect of global climate change in this region of Himalaya. The scientific discussion of some major glaciers of the region as case study are also discussed in this book. The uniqueness of the region with respect to climate shall be elaborated with the help of case studies. The Tourism in Ladakh Himalaya Prem Singh Jina, 1994 Culture and the Environment in the Himalaya Arjun Guneratne, 2009-12-24 This book is concerned with human environment relations in the Himalaya. It explores how different populations and communities in the region understand or conceive of the concept of environment, how their concepts vary across lines of gender, class, age, status and what this implies for policy makers in the fields of environmental conservation and development. The chapters in this book analyse the symbolic schema that shape human environment relations, whether that of scientists studying the Himalayan environment, public officials crafting policy about it or people making a living from their engagement with it and the way that natural phenomena themselves shape human perception of the world. A new approach to the study of the environment in South Asia, this book introduces the new thinking in environmental anthropology and geography into the study of the Himalaya and uses Himalayan ethnography to interrogate and critique contemporary theorizing about the environment. Man and Development in the Himalayas A.
