Spirit Bird Journey:

Spirit Bird Journey Sarah Milledge Nelson, 2016-09-17 Sarah Nelson's teaching novel follows Clara a Korean American archaeologist to an excavation in her ancestral homeland. The story recounts her experiences as a field archaeologist and as a young woman caught between two cultures. Nelson also tells the story of Flyingbird and the Neolithic people who lived in the mound Clara is excavating. Addressing issues of gender, shamanism, ethnic identity, and Neolithic culture and written by a leading American archaeologist specializing in these topics, this volume is both a good read and good archaeology. An ideal starting point to introduce archaeology to college students. Shamans, Queens, and Figurines Sarah Milledge Nelson, 2016-07-01

Sarah Nelson recognized as one of the key figures in studying gender in the ancient world and women in archaeology brings together much of the work she has done over three decades into a single volume. The book covers her theoretical contributions, her extensive studies of gender in the archaeology of East Asia, and her literary work on the subject. Included with the selections of her writing taken from diverse articles and books published in a variety of places is an illuminating commentary about the development of her professional and personal understanding of how gender plays out in ancient societies and modern universities and her current thinking on both topics. Asha and the Spirit Bird Jasbinder Bilan, 2020-06-02 In contemporary India, 12-year-old Asha will journey across the dangerous Himalayas to find her missing father and save her family's home guided by a mythical bird and a green-eyed tiger who she believes to be the spirits of her ancestors. This is an incredibly unique debut about loss, family, buried treasure, and hope. Asha lives on a family farm with her mother in rural India in the foothills of the Himalayas. Life would be perfect if her father were with them instead of working at the factory in the faraway city. But she knows they wouldn't be able to afford their home without the money he sends home. When four months go by without a single letter, a ruthless debt collector arrives with a warning and soon the entire world that Asha has known is threatened. Determined to save her home, Asha and her best friend must swallow their fears and set out on a dangerous journey across the Himalayas to find her father. As desperation turns to peril, Asha will face law enforcement, natural disaster, and the wild dangers of the Himalayas. But with a majestic bird and a green-eyed tiger as her guides who she believes to be the spirits of her ancestors, she's determined to keep faith in order to save her family.

Shamanism and the Origin of States Sarah Milledge Nelson, 2019-07-23 Sarah Milledge Nelson's bold thesis is that the development of states in East Asia (China, Japan, Korea) was an outgrowth of the leadership in smaller communities guided by shamans. Using a mixture of historical documents, mythology, archaeological data, and ethnographic studies of contemporary shamans, she builds a case for shamans being the driving force behind the blossoming of complex societies. More interesting, shamans in East Asia are generally women who used their access to the spirit world to take leadership roles. This work challenges traditional interpretations of growth of Asian states which is overlaid with later Confucian notions of gender roles. Written at a level accessible for undergraduates, this concise work will be fascinating reading for those interested in East Asian archaeology politics and society in gender roles and in shamanism The moon of leaves, and other poems Aristo (pseud.),1901

Object Stories Steve Brown, Anne Clarke, Ursula Frederick, 2016-06-16 Archaeologists are synonymous with artifacts With artifacts we construct stories concerning past lives and livelihoods yet we rarely write of deeply personal encounters or of the way the lives of objects and our lives become enmeshed In this volume 23 archaeologists each tell an intimate story of their experience and entanglement with an evocative artifact Artifacts range from a New Britain obsidian tool to an abandoned Viking toy boat the marble finger of a classical Greek statue and ordinary pottery fragments from Roman England and Polynesia Other tales cover contemporary objects including a toothpick bell door and the blueprint for a 1970s motorcar These creative stories are self consciously personal they derive from real world encounter viewed through the peculiarities and material intimacy of archaeological practice This text can be used in undergraduate and graduate courses focused on archaeological interpretation and theory as well as on material culture and story telling

Making Senses of the Past Jo Day, 2013-03-19 Since the nineteenth century museums have kept their artifacts in glass cases to better preserve them and drawings and photographs have become standard ways of presenting the past These practices have led to an archaeology dominated by visual description even though human interaction with the surrounding world involves the whole body and all of its senses In the past few years sensory archaeology has become more prominent and Making Senses of the Past is one of the first collected volumes on this subject This book presents cutting edge research on new theoretical issues The essays presented here take readers on a multisensory journey around the world and across time In ancient Peru a site provides sensory surprises as voices resound beneath the ground and hidden carvings slowly reveal their secrets In Canada and New Zealand the flicker of reflected light from a lake dances on the faces of painted rocks and may have influenced when and why the pigment was applied In Mesopotamia vessels for foodstuffs build a picture of a past cuisine that encompasses taste and social activity in the building of communities While perfume and flowers are examined in various cultures in the chamber tombs of ancient Roman Palestine we are reminded that not all smells are pleasant Making Senses of the Past explores alternative ways to perceive past societies and offers a new way of wiring archaeology that incorporates the senses

Gender in Archaeology Sarah Milledge Nelson, 2004-03-15 This new edition of the first comprehensive feminist theoretical synthesis of the archaeological work on gender reflects the extensive changes in the study of gender and archaeology over the past 8 years New issues such as sexuality studies the body children and feminist pedagogy enrich this edition while the author updates work on the roles of women and men in such areas as human origins the sexual division of labor kinship and other social structures state development and ideology Nelson provides examples from gender specific archaeological studies worldwide to examine such traditional myths as woman the gatherer the goddess hypothesis and the Amazon warriors replacing them with a more nuanced informed treatment of gender based on the latest research She also examines the structure of the archaeology in her attempt to understand and change a discipline that has made women all but invisible both as researchers and objects of research Honored as a Choice Magazine Outstanding Academic Book Nelson's work will continue to be the benchmark for archaeologists interested in gender as a subject of research and in the profession Gyeongju Sarah Milledge Nelson, 2017-02-17 Gyeongju the capital of the Kingdom of Silla grew from a loose confederation of villages called Saro to become the capital of most of the Korean peninsula Its relationships with Japan the Eurasian Steppes and countries along the Silk Road leading to Europe helped to make the city one of the most prosperous and significant in ancient East Asia In this seminal new volume Sarah Milledge Nelson draws on over 30 years experience to offer the first complete history of this fascinating city Gyeongju explores culture class and rank industry international relations rulers and socio cultural issues such as gender and examines in detail the complex systems of class and rank Gyeongju's position as the royal seat of Silla and the influence and legacy of the ancient city Excavations in Gyeongju have provided evidence not only of the wealth and power of the monarchy but also of production and agriculture and the reach of Gyeongju's trade routes making this city a fascinating case study for the region Augmented with extensive maps and images which illustrate the city's rich history this volume is crucial reading for anyone interested in the city the kingdom of Silla the history and archaeology of Korea and early urbanism and state formation in East Asia

Subjects and Narrative in Archaeology Ruth M. Van Dyke, Reinhard Bernbeck, 2015-04-03 Seeking to move beyond the customary limits of archaeological prose and representation Subjects and Narratives in Archaeology presents archaeology in a variety of nontraditional formats The volume demonstrates that visual art creative nonfiction archaeological fiction video drama and other artistic pursuits have much to offer archaeological interpretation and analysis Chapters in the volume are augmented by narrative poetry paintings dialogues online databases videos audio files and slideshows The work will be available in print and as an enhanced ebook that incorporates and showcases the multimedia elements in archaeological narrative While exploring these new and not so new forms the contributors discuss the boundaries and connections between empirical data and archaeological imagination Both a critique and an experiment Subjects and Narratives in Archaeology addresses the goals advantages and difficulties of alternative forms of archaeological representation Exploring the idea that academically sound archaeology can be fun to create and read the book takes a step beyond the boundaries of both traditional archaeology and traditional publishing
