The Spoils of Freedom Renata Salecl, 2002-01-31 The rise of nationalist racist and anti feminist ideologies is one of the most frightening repercussions of the collapse of socialism Using psychoanalytic theories of fantasy to investigate why such extremist ideologies have taken hold Renata Salecl argues that the major social and political changes in post communist Eastern Europe require a radical re evaluation of notions of liberal theories of democracy In doing so she offers a new approach to human rights and feminism grounded in her own active participation in the struggles first against communism and now against nationalism and anti feminism

The Political Psychology of the Veil Sahar Ghumkhor, 2019-11-21 Veiled women in the West appear menacing Their visible invisibility is a cause of obsession What is beneath the veil more than a woman This book investigates the preoccupation with the veiled body through the imaging and imagining of Muslim women It examines the relationship between the body and knowledge through the politics of freedom as grounded in a natural body in the index of flesh The impulse to unveil is more than a desire to free the Muslim woman What lies at the heart of the fantasy of saving the Muslim woman is the West's desire to save itself The preoccupation with the veiled woman is a defense that preserves neither the object of orientalism nor the difference embodied in women's bodies but inversely insists on the corporeal boundaries of the West's mode of knowing and truth making The book contends that the imagination of unveiling restores the West's sense of its own power and enables it to intrude where it is other thus making it the centre and the agent by promising universal freedom all the while stifling the question of what freedom is

Walled Life Jenny Stümer, 2022-02-24 Going beyond a discussion of political architecture Walled Life investigates the mediation of material and imagined border walls through cinema and art practices The book reads political walls as more than physical obstruction instead treating the wall as an affective screen capable of negotiating the messy feelings personal conflicts and haunting legacies that make up walled life as an evolving signpost in the current global border regime By exploring the wall as an emotional and visceral presence the book shows that if we read political walls as forms of affective media they become legible not simply as shields impositions or monuments but as projective surfaces that negotiate the interaction of psychological barriers with political structures through cinema art and of course the wall itself Drawing on the Berlin Wall the West Bank Separation barrier and the U S Mexico border Walled Life discovers each wall through the films and artworks

it has inspired examining a wide array of graffiti murals art installations movies photography and paintings Remediating the silent barriers we erect between and often within ourselves these interventions tell us about the political fantasies and traumatic histories that undergird the politics of walls as they rework the affective settings of political boundaries
