The Image And The Dream:

The Image and the Dream Chloe Gartner, 1994 The Meaning of the Dream in Psychoanalysis Rachel B. Blass, 2012-02-01 The Freudian claim that dreams are meaningful and that their meanings can be discovered through dream interpretation has in recent times come under harsh attack from both scientific and hermeneutic psychoanalytic circles In a forceful response to these critiques Rachel Blass demonstrates that while Freud and his followers have thus far failed to provide adequate justification for his dream theory such justification may now be found through an alternate and legitimate yet neglected route one that establishes both scientifically and philosophically the relationship between the self of the dreamer and that of the awake individual The implications of this argument are both practical and theoretical by providing sorely absent scientific and philosophical grounding to the very foundations of dream interpretation the book clarifies and broadens the possibilities of dream interpretation within the clinical setting and breaks new ground in the field of psychoanalytic epistemology and the philosophy of the human sciences The Herald Dream Richard Kradin, 2018-05-08 This monograph focuses on a systemic approach to dream interpretation and the unique importance of the initial dream The first dream reported in a psychoanalytic therapy session poignantly encapsulates the major issues that the patient brings to the treatment These dreams herald the trajectory of the treatment and can be interpreted in the service of psychodynamic diagnosis and prognosis The book melds aspects of Jungian dream analysis with neo Freudian analytic thought current neurobiological concepts and Buddhist psychology to yield a rich and powerful understanding of how dreams symbolize the multifaceted aspects of the psyche Multiple examples of initial dreams are discussed in detail with suggestions for how they can inform the analytic stance and serve as objects for analysis over the course of a treatment Psychology of the Image Michael Forrester, 2012-12-06 Psychology of the Image outlines a theoretical framework bringing together the semiotic concepts developed by Charles Peirce the sociological insights of Ervin Goffman and the psychoanalytic ideas of Jacques Lacan Image studies in fashion advertising photography film studies and psychology have been influenced by these theorists in significant ways The framework presented helps the reader understand how these ideas relate to the study of different domains of the image the internal imagery of dreams external images such as the photograph and image processes which span both contexts e g images we have about ourselves The topics discussed are organised into three themes The first considers mental imagery including sound and dreams The second addresses the interdependent nature of internal and external images e g the gendered self and social identity In the third theme attention turns to external images including television film photography the computer and the internet Psychology of the Image will be of interest to undergraduates postgraduates lecturers and researchers in the fields of psychology media studies and sociology Dreams and Dream Reports in the Writings of Josephus Robert Karl Gnuse, 1996 This volume evaluates the understanding of dreams and the form of dream reports in Josephus writings and it compares Josephus texts with ancient Near Eastern biblical and Hellenistic contemporary authors have made of them However not all the entries in this glossary constitute concepts some correspond to notions others to intuitions and even to recurrent situations with which the analyst is confronted By grounding in each entry the theoretical reflection on a clinical case the reader is lead towards the incessant to and fro process which governs the analyst s reflections from clinical experience to theory This book therefore constitutes an essential tool for psychologists psychoanalysts and all professionals in the field of mental care

Freud's Theory of Dreams Montague David Eder,1912 Psychoanalysis and the Unconscious Harry Woodburn Chase,1910 The Pedagogical Seminary ,1910 Vols 5 15 include Bibliography of child study by Louis N Wilson Current Literature ,1907 Studies in Poetic Discourse Hans-Jost Frey,1996 This study of four major poets Mallarme Baudelaire Rimbaud and Holderlin examines the self reflexivity of modern poetry exploring questions concerning what it means for a poem to be about its own process of saying What does it mean to read and understand a text that is focused not on its content but on its saying What kind of relation does a writer have to the language used in a text How are we to think about the relation of content to the saying In the chapter on Mallarme the author uses several close readings to investigate the referentiality of literature in general and the concept of undecidability in Mallarme For example in A la nue accablante tu he shows the way undecidability operates in syntax metaphors sounds and plays on individual letters of the alphabet The chapter on Rimbaud explores the significance of the poet s famous statement JE est un autre I is an other leading to a meditation on the question of the control of the author the relationship between saying and that which is said the way in which language overwhelms the speaker In the Baudelaire chapter the author analyzes the themes of memory and imagination in Baudelaire s writings on painting and Victor Hugo showing how these themes reveal the writer s thoughts on artistic conception and execution The author then reads Holderlin s hymn Der Rhein with the fifth of Rousseau s Reveries du promeneur solitaire showing how in Holderlin s poem and other texts the crucial issue is a paradoxical relationship between lack and fullness or perfection The final Holderlin chapter presents a sustained critique of Heidegger's exegesis of Holderlin opening new avenues in the discussions of both Holderlin and Heidegger Psychoanalysis and the Image Griselda Pollock, 2008-04-15 Psychoanalysis and the Image brings together an influential team of international scholars who demonstrate innovative ways to apply psychoanalytical resources in the study of international modern art and visual representation Examines psychoanalytic concepts values debates and controversies that have been hallmarks of visual representation in the modern and contemporary periods Covers topics including melancholia sex and pathology to the body and parent child relations Advances theoretical debates in art history while offering substantive analyses of significant bodies of twentieth century art Edited by internationally renowned art historian Griselda Pollock
