Free Will Henri Bergson, 2014-06-03 First published in 2002. Henri Louis Bergson was born in Paris, October 18, 1859. He entered the École normale in 1878 and was admitted agrégé de philosophie in 1881 and docteur ès lettres in 1889. After holding professorships in various provincial and Parisian lycées, he became maître de conférences at the École normale supérieure in 1897 and, since 1900, has been professor at the Collège de France. In 1901, he became a member of the Institute on his election to the Académie des Sciences morales et politiques. Existence, Historical Fabulation, Destiny Anna-Teresa

Tymieniecka, 2009-06-18 Surging from the ontopoietic vital timing of life, human self-consciousness prompts the innermost desire to rise above its brute facts. Imaginatio creatrix inspires us to fabulate these facts into events and plots with personal significance, attempting to delineate a life course in life stories within the ever-flowing stream of existence. Seeking their deep motivations, causes, and concatenations, we fabulate relatively stabilized networks of interconnecting meaning in history. But to understand the meaning and sense of these networks, reconfigurations call for the purpose and telos of our endless undertaking; they remain always incomplete, carried onwards with the current of life while fluctuating with personal experience in the play of memory. Facts and life stories, subjective desires and propensities, the circumambient world in its historical moves, creative logos and mythos, personal freedom and inward stirrings, thrown in an enigmatic interplay, prompt our imperative thirst for the meaning of this course, its purpose and its fulfillment, the sense of it all. To disentangle all this animates the passions of the literary genius. The focus of this collection is to isolate the main arteries running through the intermingled forces prompting our quest to endow life with meaning. Papers by Jadwiga Smith, Lawrence Kimmel, Alira Ashvo, Munoz, William D. Melaney, Imafedia Okhamafe, Michel Dion, Franck Dalmas, Ludmila Molodkina, Victor Gerald Rivas, Rebecca M. Schreiner, Bruce Ross, Bernadette Prochaska, Tsung-I Dow, Jerre Collins, Cezary Jozef Olbromski, Victor Kocay, Roberto Verolini. Time and Free Will (Annotated Edition) Henri

Bergson, 2018-11-01 Time and Free Will essay deals with the problem of free will which Bergson contends is merely a common confusion among philosophers caused by an illegitimate translation of the unextended into the extended as a means of introducing his theory of duration, which would become highly influential among continental philosophers in the following century.
