The Koreans Their Mind And Behavior:

The Koreans Chae-ŭn Kim,1991 The Koreans Jae-un Kim,1991 〇〇〇〇〇〇〇〇〇〇〇〇Research in Indigenous Chinese Psychology 〇〇〇,2019-10-01 Early Experiments and Social Personality Research Research in Personality Transformation and Modernity Research in Indigenous Chinese Psychology Progress in Asian Social Psychology Kuo-Shu Yang,Kwang-Kuo Hwang,Paul Pedersen,Ikuo Daibo,2003-03-30 This volume presents ways of thinking dramatically different from mainstream psychology which is seen by many as primarily a product of Western civilization Asian social psychologists in this edited collection apply Asian perspectives to issues of major concern in their societies including parental beliefs about shame and moral socialization in Taiwan Hong Kong and the United States achievement motivation in Taiwan and the United States and the effects of school violence on the psychological adjustment of Korean adolescents Other chapters examine the role of social psychologists in Confucian societies and group dynamics in Japan The authors believe psychological research using an indigenous approach will enable Asian as well as non Asian psychologists to understand the cognitions and behaviors of Asian people more accurately Scholars and students interested in Asian psychology social cultural and cross cultural psychology will find this volume of interest Frontiers in Cognitive Psychology Michael A. Vanchevsky,2006 Cognitive psychology deals with information processing and includes a variety of thinking processes including perception attention memory knowledge representation categorisation language problem solving reasoning and judgement It is also concerned with the structures and representations involved in cognition Cognitive psychology has significant applications of all areas of human endeavour It is also the subject of intensive study when applied to health and ageing in the absence of a significant health problem as well as education and human computer interaction Other examples are eyewitness memory autobiographical memory spatial cognition skill training suggestibility expertise and skilled behaviour Cosmopatriots Jeroen de Kloet,2007 This volume analyzes mediated articulations of cosmopatriotism in East and South East Asian popular cultures and arts Cosmopatriots navigate between a loyalty to the home country and a sense of longing for and belonging to the world Rather than searching for the truly globalized cosmopolitans the authors of this collection look for the postcolonial rooted cosmopolitans who insist on thinking and feeling simultaneously beyond and within the nation The cultural sites they discuss include Hong Kong Indonesia China Singapore the United States South Korea and Australia They show how media from both sides of the arbitrary divide between high art and popular culture including film literature the fine arts radio music television and mobile phones function as vehicles for the creation and expression of or reflection upon intersections between patriotism and cosmopolitanism Understanding Burnout Recovery Among Native-Born Korean Missionaries Hannah Kyong-Jin Cho,2020-01-29 In this timely book Cho provides mission scholars sending churches and mission agencies with an understanding of Korean missionaries burnout recovery process Her study of Korean missionary burnout recovery included thirty nine research participants who had experienced burnout in missionary service and who subsequently recovered

Participants reported a variety of physical emotional and spiritual symptoms as well as relational difficulties experienced during burnout Cho describes how their self help approach characterized by independent religious self effort brought only temporary relief Through self care however they experienced genuine recovery Self care that leads to lasting recovery is holistic and grace based characterized by a correct understanding of the roles of God and others in their lives and engagement in authentic community for interdependent care This study also gives insightful recommendations to missionary member care systems mission agencies and other sending organizations in an Asian cultural context about how to care for Korean missionaries It is also intended for counselors of home churches so that they can provide better member care for burned out missionaries Lastly this study advances research into contextually appropriate paradigms and strategies helpful to cross cultural missionaries in the area of both Korean missionaries and non Western studies in missionary member care

Indigenous and Cultural Psychology Uichol Kim, Kuo-Shu Yang, Kwang-Kuo Hwang, 2006-09-03 It was once assumed that the bedrock concepts of psychology held true for all the world's peoples More recently post modern approaches to research have expanded on these Western models building a psychology that takes into account the sociopolitical historical religious ecological and other indigenous factors that make every culture as well as every person as agents of their own actions Indigenous and Cultural Psychology surveys psychological and behavioral phenomena in native context in various developing and developed countries with particular focus on Asia An international team of 28 experts clarifies culture specific concepts such as paternalism and the Japanese concept of amae models integrative methods of study and dispels typical misconceptions about the field and its goals The results reflect culturally sound frames of reference while remaining rigorous systematic and verifiable These approaches provide a basis for the discovery of true psychological universals Among the topics featured Scientific and philosophical bases of indigenous psychology Comparisons of indigenous cultural and cross cultural psychologies Socialization parent child relationship and family The private and public self concepts from East Asia Europe and the Americas Interpersonal relationships concepts from East Asia Europe and the U S Factors promoting educational achievement and organizational effectiveness in Asia The growth and indigenization of psychology in developing and developed countries Are any values attitudes beliefs and traits universal Cross national comparisons The potential for indigenous psychology to lead to a global psychology With this book the editors have captured a growing field at a crucial stage in its evolution Indigenous and Cultural Psychology benefits students and researchers on two levels offering groundbreaking findings on understudied concepts and signaling future directions in universal knowledge Korea Journal, 1993 Economic Miracle Market South Korea Dieter K. Schneidewind, 2016-03-07 This book explores the historical and economic development of South Korea its culture as well as the benefits opportunities and challenges that German companies have faced in their cooperation with South Korean enterprises More specifically it juxtaposes economic miracle markets such as Japan and West Germany which rose from the ashes after the Second World War with the help of a century of bustling industrial age with South Korea which developed from virtually nothing The book also addresses why South Korea's history geography society culture and economic capabilities remain widely unknown and unnoticed among westerners despite South Korean companies being among the global market leaders in a number of industries particularly in the automobile and hardware segments Written from the point of view of a seasoned business expert on the country Economic Miracle Market South Korea is essential reading for business and economics research academics looking to improve their knowledge of this relatively unknown success story as well as for practitioners in industry looking to optimize their dealings with South Korean business partners

Disability, Stigmatization, and Children's Developing Selves Misa

Kayama,Wendy Haight,May-Lee Ku,Minhae Cho,Hee Yun Lee,2020 Stigmatization is part of the everyday lives of children with disabilities their families and friends Negative social encounters even with perfect strangers can dampen joyful occasions add stress to challenging situations and lead to social isolation In this book we describe a program of research spanning a decade that seeks to understand disabilities in their developmental and cultural contexts We are especially interested in understanding adults socialization practices that promise to reduce stigmatization in the next generation Guided by developmental cultural psychology including the concept of universalism without uniformity we focus on the understandings and responses to disability and associated stigmatization of elementary school educators practicing in Japan Taiwan South Korea and the US Educators from all four cultural groups expressed strikingly similar concerns about the impact of stigmatization on the emerging cultural self both of children with disabilities and their typically developing peers Educators also described culturally nuanced socialization goals and practices pertaining to inclusive education In Japan for instance educators emphasized the importance of peer group belonging and strategies to support the participation of children with disabilities In the U S educators placed relatively more emphasis on individual development and discussed strategies for the equitable treatment of children with disabilities Educators in Taiwan and South Korea emphasized the cultivation of compassion in typically developing children The understanding gained through examination of how diverse individuals address common challenges using cultural resources available in their everyday lives provides important lessons for strengthening theory policy and programs

Korean Modernization and Uneven Development Kim Kyong-Dong,2017-05-10 Offering an alternative discourse on modernization and development viewed specifically from the East Asia perspective this book focuses its analysis on the Korean experience of modernization and development It considers the broad range of societal transformations which have occurred over the past half century utilizing the vernacular language of Korea extracted from everyday life to interpret characterize globalize and pedagogically broaden the understanding and the human meaning behind these complex social changes The Changing Face of Home Peggy Levitt, Mary C. Waters, 2002-12-12 The children of immigrants account for the fastest growing segment of the U S population under eighteen years old one out of every five children in the United States Will this generation of immigrant children follow the path of earlier waves of immigrants and gradually assimilate into mainstream American life or does the global nature of the contemporary world mean that the trajectory of today s immigrants will be fundamentally different Rather than severing their ties to their home countries many immigrants today sustain economic political and religious ties to their homelands even as they work vote and pray in the countries that receive them The Changing Face of Home is the first book to examine the extent to which the children of immigrants engage in such transnational practices Because most second generation immigrants are still young there is much debate among immigration scholars about the extent to which these children will engage in transnational practices in the future While the contributors to this volume find some evidence of transnationalism among the children of immigrants they disagree over whether these activities will have any long term effects Part I of the volume explores how the practice and consequences of transnationalism vary among different groups Contributors Philip Kasinitz Mary Waters and John Mollenkopf use findings from their large study of immigrant communities in New York City to show how both distance and politics play important roles in determining levels of transnational activity For example many Latin American and Caribbean immigrants are circular migrants spending much time in both their home countries and the United States while Russian Jews and Chinese immigrants have far less contact of any kind with their homelands In Part II the contributors comment on these findings offering suggestions for reconceptualizing the issue and bridging analytical differences In her chapter Nancy Foner makes valuable comparisons with past waves of immigrants as a way of understanding the conditions that may foster or mitigate transnationalism among today s immigrants The final set of chapters examines how home and host country value systems shape how second generation immigrants construct their identities and the economic social and political communities to which they ultimately express allegiance The Changing Face of Home presents an important first round of research and dialogue on the activities and identities of the second generation vis a vis their ancestral homelands and raises important questions for future research
