Cultural Heritage Management and Indigenous People in the North of Colombia Wilhelm Londoño Díaz, 2020-12-29

Cultural Heritage Management and Indigenous People in the North of Colombia explores indigenous people's struggle for territorial autonomy in an aggressive political environment and the tensions between heritage tourism and Indigenous rights. South American cases where local communities, especially Indigenous groups, are opposed to infrastructure projects are little known. This book lays out the results of more than a decade of research in which the resettlement of a pre-Columbian village has been documented. It highlights the difficulty of establishing the link between archaeological sites and objects and Indigenous people due to legal restrictions. From a decolonial framework, the archaeology of Pueblito Chairama Teyk is explored, and the village stands as a model to understand the broader picture of the relationship between Indigenous people and political and economic forces in South America The book will be of interest to researchers in Archaeology Anthropology Heritage and Indigenous Studies who wish to understand the particularities of South American repatriation cases and Indigenous archaeology in the region

Religion in the Lands That Became America Thomas A. Tweed, 2025-05-13 A sweeping retelling of American religious history showing how religion has enhanced and hindered human flourishing from the Ice Age to the Information Age Until now the standard narrative of American religious history has begun with English settlers in Jamestown or Plymouth and remained predominantly Protestant and Atlantic Driven by his strong sense of the historical and moral shortcomings of the usual story Thomas A Tweed offers a very different narrative in this ambitious new history He begins the story much earlier 11 000 years ago at a rock shelter in present day Texas and follows Indigenous Peoples African Americans transnational migrants and people of many faiths as they transform the landscape and confront the big lifeway transitions from foraging to farming and from factories to fiber optics Setting aside the familiar narrative themes he highlights sustainability showing how religion both promoted and inhibited individual communal and environmental flourishing during three sustainability crises the medieval Cornfield Crisis which destabilized Indigenous ceremonial centers the Colonial Crisis which began with the displacement of Indigenous Peoples and the enslavement of Africans and the Industrial Crisis which brought social inequity and environmental degradation The unresolved Colonial and Industrial Crises continue to haunt the nation Tweed suggests but he recovers historical sources of hope as he retells the rich story of America's religious past

The Land Is Our History Miranda Johnson, 2016-09-20 The Land Is Our History tells the story of indigenous legal activism at a critical political and cultural juncture in Australia Canada and New Zealand In the late 1960s indigenous activists protested assimilation policies and the usurpation of their lands as a new mining boom took off radically threatening their collective identities Often excluded from legal recourse in the past indigenous leaders took their claims to court with remarkable results For the first time their distinctive histories were admitted as evidence of their rights Miranda Johnson examines how indigenous peoples advocated for themselves in courts and commissions of inquiry between the early 1970s to the mid 1990s chronicling an extraordinary and overlooked history in which virtually disenfranchised peoples forced powerful settler democracies to reckon with their demands Based on extensive archival research and interviews with leading participants The Land Is Our History brings to the fore complex and rich discussions among activists lawyers anthropologists judges and others in the context of legal cases in far flung communities dealing with rights history and identity The effects of these debates were unexpectedly wide ranging By asserting that they were the first peoples of the land indigenous leaders compelled the powerful settler states that surrounded them to negotiate their rights and status Fracturing national myths and making new stories of origin necessary indigenous peoples claims challenged settler societies to rethink their sense of belonging Housing and Urban

Arneil,2017-09-29 Modern colonization is generally defined as a process by which a state settles and dominates a foreign land and people This book argues that through the nineteenth and into the first half of the twentieth centuries thousands of domestic colonies were proposed and or created by governments and civil society organizations for fellow citizens as opposed to foreigners and within their own borders rather than overseas Such colonies sought to solve every social problem arising within industrializing and urbanizing states Domestic Colonies argues that colonization ought to be seen during this period as a domestic policy designed to solve social problems at home as well as foreign policy designed to expand imperial power Three kind of domestic colonies are analysed in this book labour colonies for the idle poor farm colonies for the mentally ill and disabled and utopian colonies for racial religious and political minorities All of them were justified by an ideology of colonialism that argued if people were segregated in colonies located on empty land and engaged in agrarian labour this would improve both the people and the land Key domestic colonialists analysed in this book include Alexis de Tocqueville Abraham Lincoln Peter Kropotkin Robert Owen and Booker T Washington The turn inward to colony thus requires us to rethink the meaning and scope of colonization and colonialism in modern political theory and practice Literary Digest
