The Last Great Season:

The Last Good Season Michael Shapiro, 2003 A touching chronicle of the Brooklyn Dodgers and their last great season retraces this legendary team's final pennant and their difficult subsequent move to Los Angeles The Last Great Cavalryman Richard Mead, 2013-01-19 Dick McCreery was commissioned into the 12th Royal Lancers in 1915 and served on The Western Front winning the MC and surviving wounds In 1938 he joined the staff of 1st Division under Alexander before being given command of 2 Armored Brigade He won the DSO for his leadership during the retreat to Dunkirk May/June 1940 In North Africa McCreery was sacked by Auchinleck with whom he had major differences but while waiting for a plane home he was spotted by Alexander who made him his Chief of Staff He is credited by many but not Montgomery the two did not get on for the solution to the El Alamein victory He was promoted to command X Corps at Salerno which he commanded during the advance to the Gothic Line He relieved Leese as Commander 8th Army in September 1944 and it was his brilliant plan that seized the Argenta Gap and drove the Germans back across the River Po into Austria He became British High Commissioner in Austria C in C British Army of the Rhine and British Military Representative at the UN retiring in 1949 Although not a public figure McCreery was key figure in the development of armored warfare a brilliant tactician and among the most important British fighting generals of the Second World War This is an overdue acknowledgment of his contribution to victory The Last Great War of Antiquity James Howard-Johnston, 2021 The last great war of antiquity was fought on an unprecedented scale along the full length of the Persian Roman frontier James Howard Johnston pieces together the fragmentary evidence of this period to form for the first time a coherent story of the dramatic events key players and vast lands over which the conflict spread The Last Great Safari Corey W. Reigel, 2015-04-22 In The Last Great Safari East Africa in World War I military historian Corey W Reigel explores a fascinating and misunderstood theater of operations in the history of the First World War Unprepared for the Great War colonial units combined modern industrial weapons and equipment with traditional African methods to produce a hybrid force Throughout The Last Great Safari Reigel challenges myth after myth Were really one million Allied soldiers pulled up from Europe to toil in the tropical sun only to fall victim to local diseases Did the Germans truly become masters of guerrilla warfare and humiliate the British Empire in what appeared a David versus Goliath conflict Reigel brings together traditional military studies and African history to explore the myths fables and stereotypes that have long characterized examinations of this topic from questions as to how German East Africa contributed to the fate of the war to claims respecting significant diversion of resources Racism played a significant role in then prevalent definitions of what constituted military success and in how Africans and Indians were recruited holding more sway in the minds of white armies as a success factor than differences in weapons Reigel points out how modern methods of medicine and transportation ultimately failed only to be replaced by a hybrid of industrial Europe and traditional African solutions for dealing with an especially difficult climate In the end when necessity came to outweigh then current ideas of professionalism did German forces outfight their opponents The Last Great Safari East Africa in World War I will interest students of military history African studies and World War I as this tale of colonial warfare within a war of attrition shaped part of Africa's colonial future
