Film Directors Michael Singer,1992 Women in Horror Films, 1940s Gregory William Mank,2015-09-15 They had more in common than just a scream whether they faced Dracula Frankenstein s Monster the Mummy Dr Jekyll Mr Hyde King Kong the Wolf Man or any of the other legendary Hollywood monsters Some were even monsters themselves such as Elsa Lanchester as the Bride and Gloria Holden as Dracula s Daughter And while evading the Strangler of the Swamp former Miss America Rosemary La Planche is allowed to rescue her leading man This book provides details about the lives and careers of 21 of these cinematic leading ladies femmes fatales monsters and misfits putting into perspective their contributions to the films and folklore of Hollywood terror and also the sexual harassment exploitation and genuine danger they faced on the job Veteran actress Virginia Christine recalls Universal burying her alive in a backlot swamp in full mummy makeup for the resurrection scene in The Mummy's Curse and how the studio saved that scene for the last day in case she suffocated. Filled with anecdotes and recollections, many of the entries are based on original interviews and there are numerous old photographs and movie stills. Representations of the Mother-in-Law in Literature, Film, Drama, and Television Jo Parnell, 2018-08-03 This book is a comprehensive study of some ways of treating the subject that demonstrate new and unusual perspectives and provides a different approach to the popularly held views of mothers in law and that further address these works as popular culture and as texts in their own right from within the framework of literary theory and as works that demonstrate the ability to reach and connect with and satisfy both the general reader, the student and the scholar from all levels and walks of life. The A-Z of Horror Films Howard Maxford, 1996 This is the most complete single volume guide to the horror movie from its beginning in the early years of cinema to the big budget movies of the present day. The book covers the major studios, also gives information on less familiar film makers. Translation and Adaptation in Theatre and Film Katja Krebs, 2013-08-15 This book provides a pioneering and provocative exploration of the rich synergies between adaptation studies and translation studies and is the first genuine attempt to discuss the rather loose usage of the concepts of translation and adaptation in terms of theatre and film. At the heart of this collection is the proposition that translation studies and adaptation studies have much to offer each other in practical and theoretical terms and can no longer exist independently from one another. As a result it generates productive ideas within the contact zone between these two fields of study both through new theoretical paradigms and detailed case studies. Such closely intertwined areas as translation and adaptation need to encounter each other's methodologies and perspectives in order to develop ever more rigorous approaches to the study of adaptation and translation phenomena, challenging current assumptions and prejudices in terms of both. The book includes contributions as diverse yet interrelated as Bakhtin's notion of translation and adaptation, Bollywood adaptations of Shakespeare's Othello and an analysis of performance practice itself, arguably an adaptive practice which uses a variety of languages from English and Greek to British and International Sign Language. As translation and adaptation practices are an integral part of global cultural and political activities and agendas, it is ever more important to study such occurrences of rewriting and reshaping. By exploring and investigating interdisciplinary and cross-cultural perspectives and approaches, this volume investigates the impact such occurrences of rewriting have on the constructions and experiences of cultures while at the same time developing a rigorous methodological framework which will form the basis of future scholarship on performance and film translation and adaptation. Alice Cooper at 75 Gary Graff, 2023-01-31 Includes 2 folded posters and 8x10 inch photography enclosed in envelope. The Horror Spoofs of Abbott and Costello Jeffrey S.
