The Poems, Letters and Land of Robert Burns Robert Burns, 1840

God and the Land : The Metaphysics of Farming in Hesiod and Vergil Stephanie A. Nelson Boston University, 1998-05-18 In this pathbreaking book which includes a powerful new translation of Hesiod's Works and Days by esteemed translator David Grene Stephanie Nelson argues that a society's vision of farming contains deep indications about its view of the human place within nature and our relationship to the divine She contends that both Hesiod in the Works and Days and Vergil in the Georgics saw farming in this way and so wrote their poems not only about farming itself but also about its deeper ethical and religious implications Hesiod Nelson argues saw farming as revealing that man must live by the sweat of his brow and that good for human beings must always be accompanied by hardship Within this vision justice competition cooperation and the need for labor take their place alongside the uncertainties of the seasons and even of particular lucky and unlucky days to form a meaningful whole within which human life is an integral part Vergil Nelson argues deliberately modeled his poem upon the Works and Days and did so in order to reveal that his is a very different vision Hesiod saw the hardship in farming Vergil sees its violence as well Farming is for him both our life within nature and also our battle against her Against the background of Hesiod's poem which found a single meaning for human life Vergil thus creates a split vision and suggests that human beings may be radically alienated from both nature and the divine Nelson argues that both the Georgics and the Works and Days have been misread because scholars have not seen the importance of the connection between the two poems and because they have not seen that farming is the true concern of both farming in its deepest and most profoundly unsettling sense The Land's end, Kynance cove, and other poems John Harris,1858 The Land's End, Kynance Cove, and Other Poems John HARRIS (a Cornish Miner.),1858 The land we live in, a pictorial and literary sketch-book of the British empire British empire,1847

Silence in the Land of Logos Silvia Montiglio,2010-05-17 In ancient Greece the spoken word connoted power whether in the free speech accorded to citizens or in the voice of the poet whose song was thought to know no earthly bounds But how did silence fit into the mental framework of a society that valued speech so highly Here Silvia Montiglio provides the first comprehensive investigation into silence as a distinctive and meaningful phenomenon in archaic and classical Greece Arguing that the notion of silence is not a universal given but is rather situated in a complex network of associations and values Montiglio seeks to establish general principles for understanding silence through analyses of cultural practices including religion literature and law Unlike the silence of a Christian before an ineffable God which signifies the uselessness of words silence in Greek religion paradoxically expresses the power of logos for example during prayer and sacrifice it serves as a shield against words that could offend the gods Montiglio goes on to explore silence in the world of the epic hero where words are equated with action and their absence signals paralysis or tension in power relationships Her other examples include oratory a practice in which citizens must balance their words with silence in very complex ways in order to show that they do not abuse their right to speak Inquiries into lyric poetry drama medical writings and historiography round out this unprecedented study revealing silence as a force in its own right The Great War, The Waste Land and the Modernist Long Poem Oliver Tearle,2019-04-04 The Great War The Waste Land and the Modernist Long Poem explores how cultural responses to the trauma of the First World War found expression in the form of the modernist long poem Beginning with T S Eliot's The Waste Land Oliver Tearle reads that most famous example of the genre in comparison with lesser known long poems such as Hope Mirrlees's Paris A Poem Richard Aldington's A Fool In the Forest and Nancy Cunard's Parallax As well as presenting a new history of this neglected genre the book examines the ways in which the modernist long poem represented the seminal literary form for grappling with the crises of European modernity in the wake of World War I

The Poet and the World Joachim Yeshaya,Elisabeth Hollender,Naoya Katsumata,2019-07-08 A collection of seventeen essays on pre modern Hebrew poetry in honor of Wout van Bekkum The articles in this volume all seek to examine how the religious cultural and social context in which the poet functioned impacted on and is visible either explicitly or more elliptically in their poetical oeuvre For this purposes a broad understanding of world has been accepted including both the natural world and the constructed one society culture language as well as the spiritual and emotional world History a pillar of the man made constructed world has been used to determine the boundaries from Late Antiquity to the Middle Ages and in instances where the topic connects to older traditions to Early Modern Judaism i e pre modern Hebrew and Aramaic poetry

The articles in this volume in the breadth of their temporal and spatial range and their multiplicity of approaches and methodologies highlight the richness of contemporary scholarship on Hebrew poetry. The volume invites the reader to engage with this astonishing body of poetry while providing a glimpse into the world of the payanim and the cultures and societies from which they drew their inspiration and to which they made such important contributions.

The Twentieth Century in Poetry Peter Childs, 2008-01-28 Until now most teaching has focused on the novel as the most useful way of raising issues of gender, ethnicity, theory, nationality, politics, and social class. In The Twentieth Century in Poetry, Peter Childs places literature in a wider social context and demonstrates that all poetry is historically produced and consumed and is part of our understanding of society and identity. This student-friendly critical survey includes chapters on the Georgians, First World War poetry, Eliot, Yeats, the thirties, post-war poetry, contemporary anthologies, women's poetry, Northern Irish, and black British poets. It builds a narrative not of poetry in the twentieth century but of the twentieth century in poetry.

The Rough Poets Melanie Dennis Unrau, 2024-10-15 Oil workers are often typecast as rough, embodying the toxic masculinity, racism, consumerist excess, and wilful ignorance of the extractive industries and petrostates they work for. But their poetry troubles these assumptions, revealing the fear, confusion, betrayal, and indignation hidden beneath tough personas. The Rough Poets presents poetry by workers in the Canadian oil and gas industry, collecting and closely reading texts published between 1938 and 2019.

S. C. Ellis's Northland Trails, Peter Christensen's Rig Talk, Dymphy Dronyk's Contrary Infatuations, Mathew Henderson's The Lease, Naden Parkin's A Relationship with Truth, Lesley Battler's Endangered Hydrocarbons, and Lindsay Bird's Boom Time. These writers are uniquely positioned. Melanie Dennis Unrau argues both as petropoets who write poetry about oil and as theorists of petropoetics with unique knowledge about how to make and unmake worlds that depend on fossil fuels. Their ambivalent, playful, crude, and honest petropoetry shows that oil workers grieve the environmental and social impacts of their work, worry about climate change and the futures of their communities, and desire jobs and ways of life that are good, safe, and just. How does it feel to be a worker in the oil and gas industry in a climate emergency facing an energy transition that threatens your way of life? Unrau takes up this question with the respect, care, and imagination necessary to be an environmentalist reader in solidarity with oil workers.

The Waste Land and Other Poems T.S. Eliot, 2010-12-21 This volume brings together the full contents of Prufrock and Other Observations (1917), Poems (1920), and The Waste Land (1922) together with an informative introduction and a selection of background materials. Included as well are two of Eliot's most influential essays: Tradition and the Individual Talent (1919) and The Metaphysical Poets (1921). As with other volumes in this series, the material appearing here is for the most part drawn from The Broadview Anthology of British Literature, acclaimed as the new standard in the field. Appendices include a wide range of contextual materials pertaining to Modernism, writings by Ezra Pound, H. D., and Mina Loy, reviews of The Waste Land, art by Wyndham Lewis, and excerpts from essays by Virginia Woolf and others.

New Directions in Contemporary Australian Poetry Dan Disney, Matthew Hall, 2021-10-04 This book sets out to navigate questions of the future of Australian poetry Deliberately designed as a dialogue between poets each of the four clusters presented here Indigeneities Political Landscapes Space Place Materiality Revising an Australian Mythos models how poetic communities in Australia continue to grow in alliance toward certain constellated ideas Exploring the ethics of creative production in a place that continues to position capital over culture property over community each of the twenty essays in this anthology takes the subject of Australian poetry definitively beyond Eurocentrism and white privilege By pushing back against nationalizing mythologies that have over the last 200 years since colonization not only narrativized the logic of instrumentalization but rendered our lands precarious this book asserts new possibilities of creative responsiveness within the Australian sensorium
