An English Arcadia George Clarke, An English Arcadia George Clarke, Peter Inskip, Richard Wheeler, Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, 1992 An English Arcadia Harriet Ritvo, 1992 Essays presented at the symposium An English Arcadia landscape and architecture in Britain and America held at the Huntington on 26 and 27 October 1991 in conjunction with an exhibition An English Arcadia 1600 1990 designs for gardens and garden buildings in the care of the British National Trust The English Landscape Garden Tim Richardson, 2024-10-22 Smooth lawns glassy pools cool garden temples mysterious woodland glades evocative statuary the 18th century English landscape garden offers a transcendent vision of Arcadia a world of rich escapism peopled by gods and goddesses young lovers and dairymaids poets and philosophers This sumptuous beautifully photographed volume celebrates this quintessentially British creation arguably its greatest artform taking you on a tour of 20 of the finest surviving gardens including Studley Royal Yorkshire a dreamy valley garden which culminates with a view down and across the ruins of a Cistercian abbey Stowe Buckinghamshire the great politically motivated garden of its day boasting the ensemble masterpiece that is William Kent's Elysian Fields Chiswick House London Lord Burlington's experiment in neoclassical architecture Petworth Sussex of Capability Brown who eschewed the symbolism of earlier generations but created instead his own powerful vision of pastoral Arcadia Hawkstone Park Shropshire designed to elicit a thrill of fear in visitors as they traverse rocky precipices and encounter live hermits Including much new research and specially commissioned photographs this is a book to dive into and be transported to an idyllic dream realm Futurescapes Ralph Pordzik, 2009 This book testifies to the growing interest in the many spaces of utopia It intends to map out on utopian and science fiction discourses some of the new and revisionist models of spatial analysis applied in Literary and Cultural Studies in recent years The aim of the volume is to side step the established generic binary of utopia and dystopia or science fiction and thus to open the analysis of utopian literature to new lines of inquiry The essays collected here propose to think of utopias not so much as fictional texts about future change and transformation but as vital elements in a cultural process through which social spatial and subjective identities are formed Utopias can thus be read as textual systems implying a distinct spatial and temporal dimension as spatial practices that tend to naturalize a cultural and social construction that of the good life the radically improved welfare state the Christian paradise the counter society etc and make that representation operational by interpellating their readers in some determinate relation to their givenness as sites of political and individual improvement This volume is of interest for all scholars and students of literature who wish to explore the ways in which utopias of the past and recent present have circulated as media of cultural exchange and homogenization as sites of cultural and linguistic appropriation and as foci for the spatial formation of national and regional identities in the English speaking world The Long Picturesque, or Unraveling the Rules of Art Patricia Emison, 2024-10-16 This book provides a Renaissance art historian's view of how the picturesque aesthetic developed from roots in the sixteenth century mostly in painting but with ramifications for printmaking landscape design and architecture and further how the picturesque aesthetic fundamentally changed the relationship between art and nature between viewer and image The book's argument is based on wide reading of obscure yet piquant critical texts mostly of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries together with consideration of varied works of art ranging from Fra Angelico to Raphael and Michelangelo and from Rubens to Canaletto and from James Gibbs to Jacques Demy all of them studied not for their place in the history of style but for their spatial imagination

The Idea of the Cottage in English Architecture, 1760 - 1860 Daniel Maudlin, 2015-07-24 The Idea of the Cottage in English Architecture is a history of the late Georgian phenomenon of the architect designed cottage and the architectural discourse that articulated it It is a study of small buildings built on country estates and not so small buildings built in picturesque rural settings resort towns and suburban developments At the heart of the English idea of the cottage is the Classical notion of retreat from the city to the countryside This idea was adopted and adapted by the Augustan infused culture of eighteenth century England where it gained popularity with writers artists architects and their wealthy patrons who from the later eighteenth century commissioned retreats gate lodges estate workers housing and seaside villas designed to appear as cottages The enthusiasm for cottages within polite society did not last By the mid nineteenth century cottage related building and book publishing had slowed and the idea of the cottage itself was eventually lost beneath the Tudor barge boards and decorative chimneystacks of the Historic Revival And yet while both designer and consumer have changed over time the idea of the cottage as the ideal rural retreat continues to resonate through English architecture and English culture

The Flowering of the Landscape Garden Mark

Laird,1999-03-23 Mark Laird offers a wealth of visual and literary materials to revolutionize our understanding of the English landscape garden as a powerful cultural expression

Of Gardens Paula Deitz,2011-11-29 Paula Deitz has delighted readers for more than thirty years with her vivid descriptions of both famous and hidden landscapes Her writings allow readers to share in the experience of her extensive travels from the waterways of Britain s Castle Howard to the Japanese gardens of Kyoto and home again to New York City s Central Park Collected for the first time the essays in Of Gardens record her great adventure of continual discovery not only of the artful beauty of individual gardens but also of the intellectual and historical threads that weave them into patterns of civilization from the modest garden for family subsistence to major urban developments Deitz s essays describe how people over many centuries and in many lands have expressed their originality by devoting themselves to cultivation and conservation During a visit to the Abby Aldrich Rockefeller Garden in Seal Harbor Maine Deitz first came to appreciate the notion that landscape architecture can be as intricately conceived as any major structure and is indeed the means by which we redeem the natural environment through design Years later as she wandered through the gardens of Versailles she realized that because gardens give structure without confinement they encourage a liberation of movement and thought In Of Gardens we follow Deitz down paths of revelation viewing A Bouquet of British Parks Liverpool Edinburgh and London the parks and promenades of Jerusalem the Moonlight Garden of the Taj Mahal a Tuscan style villa in southern California and the rooftop garden at Tokyo s Mori Center among many other sites Deitz covers individual landscape architects and designers including Andr Le N tre Frederick Law Olmsted Beatrix Farrand Russell Page and Michael Van Valkenburgh She then features an array of parks public places and gardens before turning her attention to the burgeoning business of flower shows The volume concludes with a memorable poetic epilogue entitled A Winter Garden of Yellow

Sculpture and the Garden Patrick Eyres,2017-07-05 Although the integration of sculpture in gardens is part of a long tradition dating back at least to antiquity the sculptures themselves are often overlooked both in the history of art and in the history of the garden This collection of essays considers the changing relationship between sculpture and gardens over the last three centuries focusing on four British archetypes the Georgian landscape garden the Victorian urban park the outdoor spaces of twentieth century modernism and the late twentieth century sculpture park Through a series of case studies exploring the contemporaneous audiences of gardens the book uncovers the social political and gendered messages revealed by sculpture s placement and suggests that the garden can itself be read as a sculptural landscape

Grave Landscapes James R. Cothran, Erica Danylchak,2018-01-31 Growing urban populations prompted major changes in graveyard location design and use During the Industrial Revolution people flocked to American cities Overcrowding in these areas led to packed urban graveyards that were not only unsightly but were also a source of public health fears The solution was a revolutionary new type of American burial ground located in the countryside just beyond the city This rural cemetery movement which featured beautifully landscaped grounds and sculptural monuments is documented by James R Cothran and

Erica Danylchak in Grave Landscapes The Nineteenth Century Rural Cemetery Movement The movement began in Boston where a group of reformers that included members of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society were grappling with the city's mounting burial crisis Inspired by the naturalistic garden style and melancholy infused commemorative landscapes that had emerged in Europe the group established a burial ground outside of Boston on an expansive tract of undulating wooded land and added meandering roadways picturesque ponds ornamental trees and shrubs and consoling memorials They named it Mount Auburn and officially dedicated it as a rural cemetery This groundbreaking endeavor set a powerful precedent that prompted the creation of similarly landscaped rural cemeteries outside of growing cities first in the Northeast then in the Midwest and South and later in the West These burial landscapes became a cultural phenomenon attracting not only mourners seeking solace but also urbanites seeking relief from the frenetic confines of the city Rural cemeteries predated America's public parks and their popularity as picturesque retreats helped propel America's public parks movement This beautifully illustrated volume features more than 150 historic photographs stereographs postcards engravings maps and contemporary images that illuminate the inspiration for rural cemeteries their physical evolution and the nature of the landscapes they inspired Extended profiles of twenty-four rural cemeteries reveal the curvilinear design features of this distinctive landscape type prior to the American Civil War and its evolution afterward Grave Landscapes details rural cemetery design characteristics to facilitate their identification and preservation and places rural cemeteries into the broader context of American landscape design to encourage appreciation of their broader influence on the design of public spaces

Country houses and the British Empire, 1700-1930 Stephanie Barczewski, 2017-02-01 Country houses and the British empire 1700-1930 assesses the economic and cultural links between country houses and the Empire between the eighteenth and twentieth centuries Using sources from over fifty British and Irish archives it enables readers to better understand the impact of the empire upon the British metropolis by showing both the geographical variations and its different cultural manifestations Barczewski offers a rare scholarly analysis of the history of country houses that goes beyond an architectural or biographical study and recognises their importance as the physical embodiments of imperial wealth and reflectors of imperial cultural influences In so doing she restores them to their true place of centrality in British culture over the last three centuries and provides fresh insights into the role of the Empire in the British metropolis The Huntington Library Quarterly Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, 1994 Richard Woods (1715-1793) Fiona Cowell, 2009 A contemporary of the famous landscape designer Capability Brown Richard Woods has never received the recognition he deserves in contrast to Brown he emphasised the pleasure ground and kitchen garden with a more pronounced use of flowers than was general among the landscape improvers of his time He liked variety and incident in his plans and where he was employed on a larger scale the encroachment of the pleasure ground into the park created the Woodsian pleasure park In this important work of detection and biography Fiona Cowell analyses his designs and explores his activities as a plantsman a determined amateur architect and a farmer In particular she shows the difficulties he found as a Catholic living in penal times examining the difficulties encountered by both Woods and his Catholic patrons and placing the man and his work in their wider social and economic context Unjustly neglected in the past he is here given his rightful place among the creators of the English landscape style     History Today ,1993     Monuments and Memory, Made and Unmade Robert S. Nelson,Margaret Olin,2003 Examining how monuments preserve memory these essays demonstrate how phenomena as diverse as ancient drum towers in China and ritual whale killings in the Pacific Northwest serve to represent and negotiate time     Rediscovering ,     Visions of Arcadia ,1996 A comparative study of garden building and concepts which traces the exchange of ideas across frontiers and shows parallel developments and which gives information on many unusual and little known gardens
