Visions Anne Anderson, Robert Meyrick, Peter Nahum, 2008 We all have a vision of England the village the pub the thatched cottage with roses round the A Fractured Landscape of Modernity J. Wilkes, 2014-01-21 This book uses the contradictions fractures and coincidences of a twentieth century rural landscape to explore new methods of writing place beyond new nature writing In doing so it opens up new ways of reading modernist artists and writers such as Vanessa Bell Mary Butts and Paul Nash The British Surrealists Desmond Morris, 2022-03-03 F ted for their idiosyncratic and imaginative works the surrealists marked a pivotal moment in the history of modern art in Britain Many banded together to form the British Surrealist Group while others carved their own independent paths Here bestselling author and surrealist artist Desmond Morris one of the last surviving members of this important art movement draws on his personal memories and experiences to present the intriguing life stories and complex love lives of this wild and curious set of artists From the unpredictability of Francis Bacon to the rebelliousness of Leonora Carrington from the beguiling Eileen Agar to the brilliant Ceri Richards Morris brings his subjects foibles and frailties to the fore His vivid account is laced with his inimitable wit and profusely illustrated by images of the artists and their artworks Featuring thirty four surrealists some famous some forgotten Morris's intimate book takes us back in time to a generation that allowed its creative unconscious to drive their passions in both art and life With 105 illustrations British Artists and the Modernist Landscape Ysanne Holt, 2018-01-12 Title first published in 2003 In this detailed study of the landscapes and rural scenes of Britain and France made by artists like George Clausen Philip Wilson Steer Augustus John Laura Knight J D Fergusson and Spencer Gore Ysanne Holt investigates the imaginary geographies behind the pictures and reconsiders the relationship between national identity Englishness and the native landscape Combining close investigation of important works with a broader enquiry into the appeal of the Mediterranean for an age preoccupied with cultural degeneracy and bodily health Ysanne Holt draws fascinating conclusions about the impact of modernism on the British tradition of landscape painting The Modernity of English Art, 1914-30 David Peters Corbett, 1997 The modernity of English art reconceptualises the history of English painting from 1914 to the end of the 1920s Whereas most accounts have tended to see the period as marked by a tension between the native tradition and Modernism this ground breaking book rethinks the 1920s by situating both Modernist and non Modernist painters within a wider cultural history Established figures such as Paul Nash Edward Wadsworth and Wyndham Lewis as well as lesser known artists like Charles Sims John Armstrong and Ethelbert White are discussed and illustrated in a series of innovative readings within this context The modernity of English art offers a new account of painting in England after 1914 and argues for a strongly revisionist view of the significance of the modern during this important but neglected period in English art

Great War Modernism Nanette Norris, 2015-12-16 New Modernist Studies while reviving and revitalizing modernist studies through lively scholarly debate about historicity aesthetics politics and genres is struggling with important questions concerning the delineation that makes discussion fruitful and possible This volume aims to explore and clarify the position of the so called core of literary modernism in its seminal engagement with the Great War In studying the years of the Great War we find ourselves once more studying the giants about whom there is so much more to say as well as adding hitherto marginalized writers and a few visual artists to the canon The contention here is that these war years were seminal to the development of a distinguishable literary practice which is called modernism but perhaps could be further delineated as Great War modernism a practice whose aesthetic merits can be addressed through formal analysis This collection of essays offers new insight into canonical British American European modernism of the Great War period using the critical tools of contemporary expansionist modernist studies By focusing on war and on the experience of the soldier and of those dealing with issues of war and survival these studies link the unique forms of expression found in modernism with the fragmented violent and traumatic experience of the time Image, Text, Architecture Robin Wilson, 2016-03-09 Image Text

Architecture brings a radical and detailed analysis of the modern and contemporary architectural media addressing issues of architectural criticism architectural photography and the role of journal editors It covers examples as diverse as an article by British artist Paul Nash in The Architectural Review 1940 an early project by French architects Lacaton Vassal published in the journal 2G 2001 and recent photography by Hisao Suzuki for the Spanish journal El Croquis At the intersection of image and text the book also reveals the role of the utopian impulse within the architectural media drawing on theories of utopian discourse from the work of the French semiotician and art theorist Louis Marin and the American Marxist critic Fredric Jameson Through this it builds a fresh theoretical approach to journal studies revealing a hitherto unexplored dimension of latent or unconscious discourse within the media portrait of architecture The purpose of this enquiry is to highlight moments where a different type of critical voice emerges on the architectural journal page indicating the possibility of a more progressive engagement with the media as a platform for critical and speculative thinking about architecture and to rethink the journals role within architectural history
