Indian Popular Fiction Gitanjali Chawla, Sangeeta Mittal, 2021-10-14 This anthology explores and validates the nuances of Indian popular fiction which has hitherto been hounded by its ubiquitous commercial success. It uncovers popular in its socio-political and cultural contexts. Furthermore, it investigates the vitality embedded in theory and praxis of popular forms and their insurrections in mutants and new age oeuvres and looks to examine the symbiotic bonds between the reader and the author as the latter articulates and perpetuates the needs of the former whose demands need continual fulfilment. This constant metamorphosis of the popular fueled by neoliberalism and postmodernity along with the shifts in the publishing industry to more democratic reader-driven genres is taken up here along with the millennial's fetish for romance humanized mythical retellings and the evergreen whodunnits. As its natural soulmates, the anthology delves into the interstices of Indian Popular with desi local traditions, folk lore, community consciousness and nation building. Please note: This title is co-published with Aakar Books New Delhi. Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India, Pakistan, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka.

Leitmotifs in Natural Morphology Wolfgang U. Dressler, Willi Mayerthaler, Oswald Panagl, Wolfgang Ullrich Wurzel, 1987-01-01 Natural Morphology is the term the four authors of this monograph agreed on to cover the leitmotifs of their common and individual approaches in questions of theoretical morphology. The introduction summarizes the basic concepts and strategies of Natural Morphology to be followed by Mayerthaler who deals with universal properties of inflectional morphology and Wurzel with typological ones which depend on language-specific properties of inflectional systems and Dressler with universal and typological properties of word formation. The final chapter by Panagl is an in-depth study of diachronic evidence for productivity in word formation and for the overlap of word formation with inflectional morphology.

Ecology and Chinese-Language Cinema Sheldon H. Lu, Haomin Gong, 2019-10-10

This edited collection explores new developments in the burgeoning field of Chinese ecocinema examining a variety of works from local productions to global market films spanning the Maoist era to the present. The ten chapters examine films with ecological significance in mainland China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan, including documentaries, feature films, blockbusters, and independent productions. Covering not only well-known works such as Under the Dome, Wolf Totem, Tie Xi Qu, West of the Tracts, and Mermaid, this book also provides analysis of less well-known but critically important works such as Anchorage, Prohibited Luzon, and Three Flower Tri Color. The unique perspectives this book provides, along with the comprehensive engagement with existing Chinese and English scholarship, not only extend the scope of the growing field of ecocinematic studies but also seeks to reform the means through which Chinese language eco films are understood in the years to come. Ecology and Chinese Language Ecocinema will be of huge interest to students and scholars in the fields of Chinese cinema, environmental studies, media, and communication studies.

Metafilm Music in Jean-Luc Godard's Cinema Michael Baumgartner, 2022. Hailed as a leading innovator of visual montage, unique storytelling style, and ground-breaking cinematography, Jean-Luc Godard is a prominent pioneer in sculpting complex soundtracks, altering the familiar relationship between sound and image, but his achievements in sound have been largely overlooked. Such a lacuna in the extensive research on Godard's work is unfortunate, as Godard's lifelong preoccupation of exploring self-reflexively all aspects of filmmaking particularly affects film music. With the novel approach of metafilm music extrapolated from Jean-Luc Godard's oeuvre, this book not only closes up a crucial gap in Godard research but also offers detailed analyses of the music as metafilm music in Contempt, Alphaville, Band of Outsiders, Pierrot le fou, First Name Carmen, Histoire(s) du cinéma, among other films and video productions. The innovative scholarly concept of metafilm music, enriching the burgeoning field of music in audio-visual media, describes how Godard thinks about film music with film music. This book thus provides a thorough examination of Godard's self-reflexive approach to film music, which has resulted in a lifelong creation of multi-layered soundtracks pushing the envelope of film music and sound to the limit.

Cinema and Language Loss Tijana Mamula, 2013-03-05. Cinema and Language Loss provides the first sustained exploration of the relationship between linguistic displacement and visuality in the filmic realm, examining in depth both its formal expressions and theoretical implications. Combining insights from psychoanalysis, philosophy, and film theory, the author argues that the move from one linguistic environment to another profoundly destabilizes the subject's relation to both language and reality, resulting in the search for a substitute for language in vision itself, a reversal as it were of speaking into seeing. The dynamics of this shift are particularly evident in the works of many displaced filmmakers, which often manifest a conflicted interaction between language and vision, and through this question, the signifying potential and the perceptual ambiguities of cinema itself. In tracing the encounter between cinema and language loss across a wide range of films from Billy Wilder's Sunset Boulevard to Chantal Akerman's News from Home to Michael Haneke's Caché, Mamula reevaluates the role of displacement in postwar

Western film and makes an original contribution to film theory and philosophy based on a reconsideration of the place of language in our experience and understanding of cinema      The Silents of Jesus in the Cinema (1897-1927) David Shepherd, 2016-03-31 While Jesus has attracted the sporadic interest of film makers since the epics of the Sixties it is often forgotten that between the advent of motion pictures in the 1890s and the close of the silent era at the end of the 1920s some of the longest most expensive and most watched films on both sides of the Atlantic were focused on the Life and Passion of the Christ Drawing upon rarely seen archival footage and the work of both the era s most important directors e g Alice Guy Ferdinand Zecca Sidney Olcott D W Griffith Carl Dreyer and C B DeMille and others who have been all but forgotten this collection of essays offers a representative survey of the Silents of Jesus illustrating the ways in which the earliest films and those which followed were influenced by a multiplicity of factors Written by leading scholars in biblical and early film studies this collection explores the ways in which the Silents of Jesus were shaped not only by the performing and visual arts of the nineteenth century and the technological challenges and opportunities of a new medium and industry but also by the artistic theological and ideological predilections of studios and directors and the expectations of audiences as the genre evolved Taken together the essays collected here offer a seminal treatment of the genesis and early evolution of the cinematic Jesus

The Discourse of Italian Cinema and Beyond Roberta Piazza, 2010-12-16 Roberta Piazza s book is a linguistic investigation of the dialogue of Italian cinema covering a selection of films from the 1950s to the present day It looks at how speech is dealt with in studies of the cinema and tackles the lack of engagement with dialogue in film studies It explores the representation of discourse in cinema the way particular manifestations of verbal interaction are reproduced in film Whereas representation generally refers to the language used in texts to assign meaning to a group and its social practices here discourse representation more directly refers to the relationship between real life and cinematic discourse Piazza analyses how fictional dialogue reinterprets authentic interaction in order to construe particular meanings Beginning by exploring the relationship between discourse and genre the second half of the book takes a topic based approach and reflects on the themes of narrative and identity The analysis carried out takes on board the multi semiotic and multimodal components of film discourse The book uses also uses concepts and methodologies from pragmatics conversation analysis and discourse analysis      A Dictionary of Modern English Usage Henry Watson Fowler, 1926      Cinema and Intermediality (Second, Enlarged Edition) Ágnes Pethő, 2020-08-24
