Bulgarian Literature as World Literature Mihaela P. Harper,Dimitar Kambourov,2020-11-12 Bulgarian Literature as World Literature examines key aspects and manifestations of 20th and 21st century Bulgarian literature by way of the global literary landscape The first volume to bring together in English the perspectives of prominent writers translators and scholars of Bulgarian literature and culture this long overdue collection identifies correlations between national and world aesthetic ideologies and literary traditions It situates Bulgarian literature within an array of contexts and foregrounds a complex interplay of changing internal and external forces These forces shaped not only the first collaborative efforts at the turn of the 20th century to insert Bulgarian literature into the world s literary repository but also the work of contemporary Bulgarian diaspora authors Mapping histories geographies economies and genetics the contributors assess the magnitudes and directions of such forces in order to articulate how a distinctly national minor literature produced for internal use and nearly invisible globally until the last decade transforms into world literature today

Stefan Zweig and World Literature Birger Vanwesenbeeck,Mark H. Gelber,2014 A new critical assessment of the works of the Austrian Jewish author in whom there has been a recent resurgence of interest from the perspective of world literature

Dutch Interbellum Canons and World Literature A. Roland Holst, M. Nijhoff, J. Slauerhoff Theo D'haen,2023-09-15 This text takes a wholly new look at a major early twentieth century Dutch poet and novelist from the perspective of world literature situating his work in both a national and a world literary context as measured against contemporaries and near contemporaries such as Conrad Pound Brecht Segalen and Malraux Exemplifying how an author from a minor literature may be a major world author this book considers the debates within World Literature regarding the classification of literatures as major and minor canon formation within Dutch literature Slauerhoff's position in the Dutch tradition as well as his contribution to world literature particularly focusing on his East Asian poems his East Asian novels and stories and his poetry and prose set in Latin America This book is a key read for scholars and students of comparative literature world literature European literature and Dutch literature Lucid in style innovative in approach surprisingly fresh qua topic this book opens new horizons for literary studies Polish Literature as World Literature Piotr Florczyk, K. A. Wisniewski, 2022-12-15 This carefully curated collection consists of 16 chapters by leading Polish and world literature scholars from the United States Canada Italy and of course Poland An historical approach gives readers a panoramic view of Polish authors and their explicit or implicit contributions to world literature Indeed the volume shows how Polish authors from Jan Kochanowski in the 16th century to the 2018 Nobel laureate Olga Tokarczuk have engaged with their foreign counterparts and other traditions active participants in the global literary network and the conversations of their day The volume features views of Polish literature and culture within theories of world literature and literary systems with a particular attention paid to the resurgence of the idea of the physical book as a cultural artifact This perspective is especially important since so much of today's global literary output stems from Anglophone perceptions of what constitutes literary quality and tastes The collection also sheds light on specific issues pertaining to Poland such as the idea of Polishness and global phenomena including social and economic advancement as well as ecological degradation Some of the authors discussed like the Romantic poet Adam Mickiewicz or the 1980 Nobel laureate Czesław Miłosz were renowned far beyond the borders of their country while others like the contemporary travel writer and novelist Andrzej Stasiuk embrace regionalism seeing as they do in their immediate surroundings a synecdoche of the world at large Nevertheless the picture of Polish literature and Polish authors that emerges from these articles is that of a diverse cosmopolitan cohort engaged in a mutually rewarding relationship with what the late French critic Pascale Casanova has called the world republic of letters What is World Literature? David Damrosch, 2003-03-30

INTRODUCTION Goethe coins a phrase PART ONE CIRCULATION Gilgamesh's quest The pope's blowgun From the old world to the whole world PART TWO TRANSLATION Love in the necropolis The afterlife of Mechthild von Magdeburg Kafka comes home PART THREE PRODUCTION English in the world Rigoberta Menchú in print The poisoned book CONCLUSION World enough and time German Literature as World Literature Thomas Oliver Beebe, 2014-07-31 This new collection investigates German literature in its international dimensions While no single volume can deal comprehensively with such a vast topic the nine contributors cover a wide historical range with a variety of approaches and authors represented Together the essays begin to adumbrate the systematic nature of the relations between German national literature and world literature as these have developed through institutions cultural networks and individual authors In the last two decades discussions of world literature literature that resonates beyond its original linguistic and cultural contexts have come increasingly to the forefront of theoretical investigations of literature One reason for the explosion of world literature theory pedagogy and methodology is the difficulty of accomplishing either world literature criticism or world literary history The capaciousness as well as the polylingual and multicultural features of world literature present formidable obstacles to its study and call for a collaborative approach that conjoins a variety of expertise To that end this collection contributes to the critical study of world literature in its textual institutional and translatorial reality while at the same time highlighting a question that has hitherto received insufficient scholarly attention what is the relation between national and world literatures or more specifically in what senses do national literatures systematically participate in or resist world literature

Comparing the Literatures

David Damrosch, 2022-02-08 Paperback reprint Originally published 2020 African Literatures as World Literature

Alexander Fyfe, Madhu Krishnan, 2022-11-03 The enormous success of writers such as Teju Cole and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie demonstrates that African literatures are now an international phenomenon But the apparent global legibility of a small number of mostly Anglophone writers in the diaspora raises the question of how literary producers from the continent both past and present have situated their work in relation to the world and the kinds of material networks to which this corresponds This collection shows how literatures from across the African continent engage with conceptualizations of the world in relation to local social and political issues Focusing on a wide variety of geographic historical and linguistic contexts the essays in this volume seek answers to the following questions What are the topographies of the world in different literary texts and traditions What are that world's limits boundaries and possibilities How do literary modes and forms such as realism narrative poetry or the political essay affect the presentation of worldliness What are the material networks of circulation that allow African literatures to become world literature African literatures it emerges do important theoretical work that speaks to the very core of world literary studies today
