African American Adolescent Female Heroes Melanie A. Marotta,2023-03-24 In the wake of the second wave of the Black Lives Matter movement inequalities and disparities were brought to light across the publishing industry The need for more diverse representative young adult literature gained new traction resulting in an influx of young adult speculative fiction featuring African American young women While the BlackGirlMagic movement inspired a wave of positive African American female heroes in young adult fiction it is still important to acknowledge the history and legacy of enslavement in America and their impact on literature Many of the depictions of young Black women in contemporary speculative fiction still rely on stereotypical representations rooted in American enslavement

African American Adolescent Female Heroes The Twenty First Century Young Adult Neo Slave Narrative investigates the application of the neo slave narrative structure to the twenty first century young adult text Author Melanie A Marotta examines texts featuring a female adolescent protagonist of color including Orleans Tankborn The Book of Phoenix Binti and The Black God's Drums as well as series like the Devil's Wake series Octavia E Butler's Parable series and the Dread Nation series Taken together these chapters seek to analyze whether the roles for adolescent female characters of color are changing or whether they remain re creations of traditional slave narrative roles Further the chapters explore if trauma healing and activism are enacted in this genre

The Highlands of West Papua Marthen Yadlogon Medlama,2022-12-11 West Papua hardly ever makes the news in the country where I live New Zealand When it does it is generally for unhappy reasons As I was putting the finishing touches on my edit of Marthen Medlama's manuscript there was a report on our national radio station of seven young West Papuans being arrested on the very serious charge of treason for waving the Morning Star flag and for shouting in favour of West Papuan independence As I listened thanks to this book I felt I understood We are in a phase of history where much of the world is acknowledging and atoning for the sins of colonialism

Yet parts of the world have not finished with colonising For better or for worse so far for the West Papuans for the worse the Dutch territories on New Guinea Island were handed to Indonesia in a backroom deal brokered by the US in the 1960s It can hardly be a coincidence that even before the ink was dry American interests were joining with the Indonesian government to exploit the vast mineral resources of West Papua So while most former colonial powers are wringing their hands over their self interested exploitation of their sometime colonies and the terrible harm done they are turning a blind eye as the same wrong is perpetrated in the present day It is past time for the world to start paying attention to what is happening in West Papua Christianity, Islam and Nationalism in Indonesia Charles E. Farhadian, 2005-11-17 Although over eighty percent of the country is Muslim Indonesia is marked by an extraordinary diversity in language ancestry culture religion and ways of life This book focuses on the Christian Dani of West Papua providing a social and ethnographic history of the most important indigenous population in the troubled province It presents a fascinating overview of the Dani s conversion to Christianity examining the social religious and political uses to which they have put their new religion Based on independent research carried out over many years among the Dani people the book provides an abundance of new material on religious and political events in West Papua Underlining the heart of Christian Muslim rivalries the book questions the fate of religion in late modern times

Language Endangerment and Language Maintenance David Bradley, Maya Bradley, 2013-12-16 Language endangerment is a fundamental issue for humanity What rights do minority communities have concerning their languages How does each language conceptualize the world differently How much knowledge about the world and a local ecosystem is lost when a language disappears What is the process involved and how can insights about this process contribute to linguistic theory What typological insights will be lost if undescribed languages disappear before their unique structural properties are known How can language shift be stopped or reversed This volume comprises a general overview introduction four theoretical chapters on what happens during language shift ten case studies of autochthonous languages under threat four case studies of migrant languages at risk three concluding chapters discussing strategies and resources for language maintenance

West New Guinea Dylan Gaffney, Marlin Tolla, 2025-02-20 This book explores the human past in West New Guinea otherwise known as Indonesian Papua West Papua or Irian Jaya The western part of New Guinea and its surrounding islands were critical for the early peopling of the Pacific region over 50 000 years ago when Homo sapiens moved out of Africa and into Asia seafaring through the islands of Wallacea as far as New Guinea the Bismarck Archipelago and the Solomon Islands After arriving on the shores of West New Guinea people adapted to diverse environments including coral reefs tropical rainforests swamps montane cloud forests and savannah grasslands Over millennia people transformed these habitats by burning and cutting the forests translocating plants and animals and managing access to resources Food production later emerged in the region as the global climate warmed up around 10 000 years ago Between 4000 3000 years ago the Austronesian languages began to enter West New Guinea with its speakers settling around the coasts and offshore islands New forms of exchange connected people and particularly within the last 2000 years drew West New Guinea into global networks The objects produced and traded at ethnographic contact like pottery stone axes string bags shell ornaments and wooden carvings can be informative about these networks but they are increasingly changing as people navigate and transform their material worlds in the present The examination of these objects in museums not only casts light on their makers traders and collectors but also highlights the ongoing connections that Papuans have with their material culture in the twenty first century The 22 chapters in this book contribute novel perspectives and critical data on each of these themes The authors come from archaeology social anthropology biological anthropology linguistics museology palaeoecology and beyond They write about a wide array of West New Guinea s regions including the highlands north and south coasts Bird s Head Peninsula Cenderawasih Bay and the Raja Ampat Islands
